

a "jaw smith," a "tooth carpenter" and an educated surgeon-dentist, we must not complain, if its reporting idiots continue to indulge in this cheap and obsolete species of wit.

Important Reductions in Teeth.

It will be learned with pleasure that our dental manufacturers have made important reductions in the price list of teeth. It came into force on the first of last month. The S. S. White Co., H. D. Justi & Son, Johnson & Lund, and, we suppose, other manufacturers (we have not received any other notices) have placed gum sections and gum plate and rubber at 12½ cents each tooth, with reductions in lots of $10 to $300 varying from 12 cents to 9 cents. Plain rubber and plate 12 cents each, running to 8 cents for $300 lots. The various crowns are also reduced in price. We could not get along without our manufacturers and vice versa; and it makes things pleasant, in hard times, when the necessities of professional life, are brought more to the level of the average pocket than has existed for several years.

Not the "Printer's Devil."

One of our friends in Boston kindly writes us, "Did you ever see a 'debenture' that was not artificial?" See July number of DOMINION DENTAL JOURNAL, page 158, also index on cover.

The fiend who haunts the printer's case is not to blame this time. We were unable to see the proofs of the July number because we were unable to see anything. When the flowers that bloom in the spring bring to an editor the very worst affliction in the way of rose fever, mistakes will occur. For "debenture" read "denture."

Annotations.

DR. BEACOCK'S PAPER.—Dr. Beacock's valuable paper, read in Kingston, will appear in the next issue.

In the last list of death claims of the Royal Arcanum there are the names of Drs. E. A. Whitehead, Luther H. Varney and C. P. Southwell, dentists, and three physicians.

DR. MARTIN'S PAPER.—There is a lot of food for thought and discussion in Dr. Martin's paper. It pricks into bubbles of the past, and what many think are bubbles of the present. It is a paper sure to be much approved and much denied.
