THEIR LIBERAL.*THE MANITOULIN ISLAND.

FROM a return recently issued by the Indian Department at Ottawa, we learn what progress has been made in selling the lands on the Manitoulin Island. Sales have been effected to seventy-eight different persons, principally in the townships of Bidwell, Howland and Shaftesbury. The number of acres disposed of sums up to over 8,000 and upon the lots which have been sold, sums varying from $10 to $400 have been paid. By an Order-in-Council, the price of the lands was changed in May, 1897, from 50c. to 25c. per acre to actual settlers. The purchaser must occupy and improve the land within six months of his purchase, and can receive his patent at the end of three years. The greater part of the Island is unfit for agricultural pursuits, but there are other sections which are quite fertile, and in which farmers can do well. Six companies, most of them composed of well-known public men, have obtained licences from the Department to explore and bore for oil on unceded portions of the Island. All but one of these were obtained in 1893. So far as we are aware, none of these companies succeeded in finding oil in paying quantities. Timber licences have been granted over 85 square miles—upon all of which only $400 have yet been paid. As our route to the North-West lies along the shores of the Manitoulin, we doubt not it will soon increase in population more rapidly than many have heretofore deemed possible.

MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE.

WE have seen the draft of an Act proposed to be brought before the Local Legislature of Ontario at its approaching session, to consolidate all the laws relating to Mutual Fire Insurance Companies. We consider this a subject upon which legislation is required. There are now quite a number of different Acts relating to this subject on the statute books of that Province, and there are scarcely any two charters of such companies containing the same provisions. If the whole could be consolidated into one general law, it would, undoubtedly, be of great advantage. To effect this end, we learn that several meetings of the officers of the principal Mutual Fire Insured Companies of the Province of Ontario have recently taken place, and that all the principal features of the proposed Act have been agreed upon. This is a very important question not only to Insurance Companies but to the public at large, and we should think that a subject of so much importance ought to be taken up by the Local Ministry. It is just possible that the gentlemen who drew up the measure may have regarded the subject more from the side of the Companies than to represent that of the great body of insurers, but whether this is so or not, we think a consolidation of the laws relating to Fire Insurance too important to be entrusted to any private member, and that it is a subject which the Government only ought to assume the responsibility of legislating upon. It is to be hoped, therefore, that this proposed measure will be laid before the Attorney-General of Ontario, and then, if the Ministry takes it up, the public will know where to place the blame if anything goes wrong.
