Scientific and Useful,

Two Leipsic chemists have devised a process for obtaining sugar in a permanently liquid form. This result is said to be effected by adding to a purified sugar solution a small quantity of citric acid, which combines with the sugar and deprives it of its tendency to crystallize.

DELICIOUS BISCUIT.—Half cup butter, half cup lard, two tablespoonfuls white sugar; put into three teacups of new milk and let it scald, and add a cup of yeast or a yeast-cake, sponge over night, and in the morning put in half teaspoonful soda. Mix soft and let them rise.

LEMON BUTTER FOR TARTS.—Lemon butter is excellent for tarts. It is made as follows: One pound of pulverized white sugar, whites of six eggs, and yolks of two, three lemons, including grated rind and juice.
Cook twenty minutes over a slow fire, stirring all the while.

GRIDDLE CAKES.—Griddle cakes can be made by grating three pints of corn and adding a couple spoonfuls of sour cream, a tea-cupful of sweet milk, half a teaspoonful each of soda and salt, and two well-beaten eggs.
If too thin to fry nicely, add a spoonful or two of flour.

HONEY CAKES.—Three and one-half pounds of flour, one and one-half pounds of honey, one-half pound of sugar, half a nutmeg, one tablespoonful of soda; roll thin and cut in small cakes; bake in a quick oven, cover tight and let stand till moist. They will keep a long time. Soft ginger cake can be made with honey instead of molasses, except that you use some more honey and leave out the eggs.

POTATO SOUP.—Put into a saucepan two ounces of bacon chopped, six onions peeled and chopped, one saltspoonful of pepper, one tablespoonful of salt, four quarts of hot water, and boil for fifteen minutes; measure time peel and slice one quart of potatoes, add them to the first mentioned ingredients, and boil for three-quarters of an hour longer, or until the potatoes are boiled to a pulp; season palatably, and serve hot.

CHICKEN PUDDING.—Cut up the chicken and stew until tender. Then take them from the gravy, and spread on a flat dish to cook having first well seasoned them with butter, pepper and salt. Make a batter of one quart of milk, three cups of flour, three tablespoonfuls melted butter, one-half teaspoon of soda, one teaspoonful of cream tartar, a little salt.
Butter a pudding dish and put a layer of the chicken at the bottom and then a cupful of the batter over it. Proceed till the dish is full. The batter must form the crust. Bake an hour, and serve thickened gravy in a gravy boat.

SALT FOR SOME THROAT DISEASES.
In these days, when diseases of the throat are so universally prevalent, and in so many cases fatal, we feel it our duty to say a word in behalf of a most effectual, if not positive cure for sore throat. For years past, indeed we may say during the whole of a life of more than forty years, we have been subjected to sore throat, and more particularly to a dry, hacking cough, which is not only distressing to myself, but to our friends and those with whom we are brought into contact. Last fall we were induced to try what virtue there is in common salt. We commenced by using it three times a day—morning, noon, and night. We dissolved a large tablespoonful of pure salt in about half a small tumbler-ful of water. With this we gargled the throat most thoroughly just before meal-time.
The result has been that during the entire winter we were not only free from cough and colds, but the dry, hacking cough has entirely disappeared. We attribute these satisfactory results solely to the use of the gargle, and most cordially recommend a trial of it to those who are subject to diseases of the throat. Many persons who have never tried the salt gargle have the impression it is unpleasant. Such is not the case. On the contrary, it is pleasant, and after a few days use no person who loves a nice, clean mouth, and a first-rate sharpener of the appetite, will abandon it.

NEW YORK POST OFFICE.

Wm. H. Wareing, Esq., Asst. General Supt. Third Division Mailing and Distribution Dept., New York Post Office, in writing concerning St. Jacobs Oil, says: "The reports from the several superintendents and clerks who have used the Oil agree in principle it highly. It has been found efficacious in cuts, burns, soreness and stiffness of the joints and muscles, and affords a ready relief for rheumatic complaints." Hon. T. J.
James, now Postmaster-General of the U. S., concurred in the foregoing.

The Science of Life, or Self-Preservation, is the most extraordinary work on Physiology ever published. There is nothing whatever that the married or single of either sex either require or wish to know, but what is fully explained. In short, the book is invaluable to all who wish for good health.—Toronto Globe.

The book for young and middle-aged men to read just now is the Science of Life, or Self-Preservation. It is worth many times its weight in gold.—Medical Times.

The author of the Science of Life is a noble benefactor. He reaches the very roots and vitals of disease, and is enabled to apply thorough remedies. The book already is read upon both continents by millions.—London Lancet.

The Gold and Jewelled Medal awarded the author of the Science of Life was fairly won and worthily bestowed.—Massachusetts Ploughman.

Thousands of extracts similar to the above could be taken from the leading journals—literary, political, religious and scientific—throughout the land.

The book is guaranteed to be a better medical work, in every sense, than can be obtained elsewhere for double the price, or the money will be refunded in every instance.
