

lency's political discernment and discretion, private urbanity, and confidence, have, however, in these Circumstances been such as to produce the most general satisfaction.

That you may ever enjoy the approbation of our Sovereign, who is as capable of discerning true merit, as studious to recompense it, and preserve that public applause, to which your Conduct is so well entitled; are our most earnest prayers.

Montreal, 24th October, 1793. — Signed by the Inhabitants of Montreal.

HIS EXCELLENCY'S ANSWER.

Gentlemen,

Do me the favour to accept my hearty thanks for this unexpected and very flattering Address.

However conscious I am of the rectitude of my intentions, it cannot but be highly gratifying to know my conduct is approved by so respectable a part of the Community as the inhabitants of the opulent City of Montreal; and I hope they will do me the Justice to believe I feel deeply interested in their Welfare, and that I shall always participate in their encreasing happiness.

DIED. At Montreal, the 14th, Mr. John M'Cord, aged 82.

the 29th MARIE ANNE MAGNAN widow of the Honorable PICOTE' DE BELLESTRE, Esq. aged 61 years.
