Mr. Speaker: I declare the motion lost.

Mr. McCleave: Mr. Speaker, I rise on a point of order. I wonder whether it would be possible, for the convenience of all members of the house, that when there are deferred motions to be voted upon they be printed in the one place where hon. members naturally look to find the order of business, namely, Routine Proceedings and Orders of the Day. We have had to hunt for these amendments. It is true that we can find them in Votes and Proceedings of a day or so ago or in the Special Notice Paper that was printed a few days ago, or a few weeks ago, because it seems that long. I think some hon. members have had difficulty in finding precisely what they are voting on. I may say, without mentioning names, that one hon. member thought he was voting on something else. I think my suggestion would clear up a lot of confusion.

• (3:30 p.m.)

An hon. Member: That was the Prime Minister.

Mr. Speaker: I must say that we attempted to produce a paper which would help hon. members. However, we will look at the situation again and consider the very valuable suggestion of the hon. member for Halifax-East Hants.

Mr. MacInnis: Mr. Speaker, I rise on a point of order which has been initiated by what the Prime Minister indicated. I rise now to draw Your Honour's attention to the fact that the votes of the Secretary of State for External Affairs and one other member should be set aside because they obviously broke the rules and procedures of the house in taking their places when they did.

Mr. Speaker: Order, please. I have to rule on the point of order raised by the hon. member. I cannot agree with his suggestion. The Standing Order which the hon. member should consult says that an hon. member cannot take his seat once the question has been put. Of course hon. members will recognize that the hon. member sitting to my left came in before the question had been put. Both hon. members voted according to the rules.

Mr. MacInnis: Mr. Speaker, in all fairness I think that the member whom Your Honour identified as a member to your left should not be identified as a Conservative but as a member of the N.D.P.

Mr. Speaker: Order, please. I do not think the matter should be discussed further. I appreciate the fact that the hon. member thought he had a legitimate point of order but the fact of the matter is that the Standing Order permits members to come in and take their seats as long as the question has not been put. Of course the moment the Speaker starts to put the question it is a well known rule that members cannot take their seats.

Mr. MacInnis: Mr. Speaker, I rise on exactly that point of order. Your Honour was on your feet and had started to speak before the minister took his seat.

Mr. Speaker: Order, please.

Mr. Pierre De Bané (Matane): Mr. Speaker, in the same vein as my hon. colleague, I think that all those votes are not important any more because this institution has become the laughing-stock of the population and a minority is destroying it—
