

The first one here is from a well known school teacher and member of the police commission in Lethbridge, Barbara Nault. She is very concerned about the GST as it applies to printed material and books. Next is Tyler Hahn of Lethbridge. Another petitioner who is concerned about the effect of the GST on his restaurant is Tony Rose, who manages one of the best Italian restaurants, Trevis, that I have been in anywhere in this country.

I now wish to read names of people who come from my particular area of the province of Alberta. These people will be most disappointed at the outcome of the vote in this chamber yesterday since they are very concerned about the tax on books. No doubt they hope, in the final analysis, that the bill, which we have failed to have amended, will be defeated, so that books and printed material in Canada can remain tax free as they have been since Confederation.

I have another petition from the University of Lethbridge area signed by people who are very concerned about the tax on books.

BILL TO AMEND—THIRD READING—MOTION IN AMENDMENT
NEGATIVED

The Hon. the Speaker: Pursuant to provisional order P-3(a), the Senate will now proceed to the vote on the motion in amendment of Senator Hays for Senator MacEachen to Bill C-62.

Honourable senators, it was moved by the Honourable Senator Kelly, seconded by the Honourable Senator Beaudoin, that Bill C-62 be now read the third time.

In amendment, it was moved by the Honourable Senator Hays for Senator MacEachen, P.C., seconded by the Honourable Senator Molgat:

That Bill C-62 be not now read the third time but that the Schedule of the Bill be amended, on page 342, to make provision for electricity and heating fuels by adding to Schedule VI, and numbering accordingly, a new heading and Part as follows:

“ELECTRICITY AND HEATING FUELS

1. A supply of electricity and heating fuels.”

Please call in the senators.

The Hon. the Speaker: Let the doors to the chamber be locked.

Motion in amendment negated on the following division.
