LONDON. Nov. 8, 8.35 p.m.-The debate on the conduct of the war and emigration of Britishers to the United the censorship was revived in the house of lords this afternoon. Earl Loreburn, former high chancellor, brought up the subject declaring that he took this action owing to his belief that the Marquis of Lansdowne, the minister without portfolio, has not made adequate reply to the arguments of Viscount Morley. Earl Loreburn spoke of what he termed "the misadventures" of the Antwerp expedition, the loss Admiral Sir Christopher Craddock's squadron, the Dardanelles operations id the Balkan expedition. The speaker said he had been told two months ago that 15,000,000 men had been killed or disabled for life and that multitudes had been added to this number since and that if the conflict continued indefinitely, "revolution or anarchy" might follow in Europe. Old Rivals in Accord.
