GEO. B. JONES, Proprietor.

My head with royal oil
Thou doest anoint and bless,
Thou crownest me, and overflows
My cup of happiness.

Thy goodness and Thy love
Shall bless me all my days,
And then forever in Thy house,
My soul shall speak Thy praise.

CHORAL—Evening Hymn.

Now starlight soft o'er Carmel falls,
Beneath the palms we kneel to pray,
And faintly 'mid the mountain walls,
The murm'rous voices fade away.

Father, where'er our tents may be,
Where'er our daily conflicts cease
Thou art our safety still, and we
Will lay us down and sleep in peace.

Scene Tenth.

The Coronation.

CHORUS—Hail.

Hail, all hail, now let our joys abound,
Hail, all hail, let the silver trumpets sound.
Manassah sends her thousands!
The east an hundred thousand!
They come with flowing banners!
All men of war renowned!
From Zeb'lun fifty thousand!
