Ellis, J.P. for York Country, "that Audrew McMillan, Thomas Dudley and John L. McCulloch did on the 20th July, 1897, unlawfully cause damage to a quantity of steel rails," the accused men were given a preliminary trial before Magistrate Carl Zeider, J.P., yesterday.

It was the pleket firing in the now farmous East Toronto Village case. It is claimed by the Crown that the defendants in depositing the Toronto Railway Company's rails in the navine damaged the property so handled. The case had been called for a week ago, but Mr. Grant, for the defendants, had asked and been granted an adjournment to enable him to procure evicuence.

Crown Attorney Dewart called first Andrew Whart, a village teamster.

The Broken Lock.

Port Dalhousie, Aug. 12.—Work has been going on steadily all day, and the level is now being filled and the gates will be ready to confirm the report that it had been decided at a meeting of council to consider new timber regulations. These would provide that timber license-bolders cutting pine timber on the lands of the Crown shall not in future employ non-resident labor. This means that laborers who reside outside of Canada shall not be comployed by American or Canadian lumbermen of timber on the lands of the Crown. This will effect a considerable change.
