TWENTIETH YEAR

VERY LITTLE FROM SOUTH AFRICA

Belief is That Gen. Buller is Now Withholding All Information AS TO HIS MOVEMENTS.

It is Said that the Forces for the Relief of Ladysmith Will Leave Durban Nov. 15.

LEYDS CAN'T STAY IN HOLLAND.

The Dargai Heroes Sail From Liverpool—Are the Boers Still at Colenso?

The news from the seat of war this morning is scanty and conflicting. There is no report from General Buller about the alleged fighting around Ladysmith, but it is thought that General Buller is withholding all news. It is said that General Buller's forces will leave Durban for the relief of Ladysmith about the 15th. The Boer idea of invading Cape Colony is thought to be abandoned.

THE DARGAI HEROES SAIL FROM LIVERPOOL—ARE THE BOERS STILL AT COLENZO?

The first battalion of the Gordon Highlanders, the Dargai heroes, left Liverpool yesterday for South Africa. Lady White and her daughter were present, and there was great enthusiasm.

THE DUTCH GOVERNMENT HAS INTIMATED TO DR. LEYDS, THE TRANSVAAL AGENT, THAT HIS VISITS TO HOLLAND DURING THE WAR MUST CEASE.

The British have reoccupied Stormberg, Cape Colony, which was evacuated by order of General Buller when the situation looked more threatening last week.

There is a general belief now that the Free State Boers intend to act on the defensive unless the Cape Dutch show some active sympathy. They have already wrecked their railway, which will take six months to repair.

IT IS NOW REPORTED THAT THE BOERS ARE STILL IN POSSESSION OF COLENZO, BUT A MOVEMENT OF BRITISH TROOPS FROM ESTCOURT IS SAID TO BE ON FOOT.

London, Nov. 10.—(4.30 a.m.)—The scanty and conflicting news from the seat of war and the fact that Gen. Buller has not yet said a word about the alleged fighting around Ladysmith are again producing a feeling of uneasiness. It may be that Gen. Buller has thought best to keep it to himself. Indeed this is the version that it beginning to be believed, as it is held impossible that the news of heavy fighting brought by Kaffirs in such circumstantial detail can be wholly groundless.

It cannot be long, however, before a change occurs. Gen. Buller's forces will soon arrive at Durban, and will probably begin the advance to the relief of Ladysmith about Nov. 15.

What Are the Boers Doing? The Boers, if they ever entered the idea of a real invasion of Cape Colony, have probably now abandoned it, and will devote their whole energies to reducing Ladysmith. They have only about a week in which to do this. The fact that they are rather inactive indicates that they are waiting for something which they feel sure will justify their delay. The latest Estcourt despatches seem to hint that the garrison is about to retire further southward.

A Siege Train for Pretoria. Orders have been received at Woolwich and Devonport for the mobilization of a siege train, which, it is supposed, is intended for the purpose of shelling Pretoria. The force comprising it will approximate to the strength of eight batteries, and will consist of 32 officers and 1104 non-commissioned officers and men. Its armament will be thirty Howitzer, fourteen six-inch guns, eight five-inch guns and eight four-inch guns. This will be the first employment of a modernized train by any European army, and the progress of the reduction of Pretoria by Lydtie shell fire, a preliminary to storming by infantry, will be watched with interest and curiosity by all professional soldiers.

More Transports Chartered. Three large steamers have just been chartered at Liverpool to convey the 10,000 troops of the division which are expected to be mobilized. The transport Arwa has been delayed by a disarrangement of her electrical plant. The disabled Persian will transfer her troops to the Goh, which will leave Southampton about Tuesday.

A despatch from Durban announces that Prince Victor of Schleswig-Holstein arrived there on Monday, and immediately proceeded up country.

MORE NEWS FROM GEN. BULLER. Pigeon Post From General White at Ladysmith Giving the Situation There. London, Nov. 9.—The War Office received the following despatch from General Buller this morning, dated Cape Town, Wednesday, Nov. 3, 11.30 p.m.: "Col. Keiser telegraphs from Kimberley, Nov. 3, that all is well there and that a slight bombardment did no harm. Information from Mafeking shows that place was safe Oct. 27. Col. Pinner had a

BRITAIN'S FIELD MARSHAL SAYS THEY ARE QUITE PREPARED TO MOBILISE ANOTHER ARMY IF NEEDED.

Replying to the toast to "The Army," proposed in warm terms by Ald. Trehear, Lord Wolsley said: "Every day applications are received from volunteers in all parts of the Empire, who wish to be sent to the front. I am proud of the sailors, soldiers and volunteers who are all on guard. We have hard work before us, for our foe is brave and it is no mimic warfare in which we are engaged. When one reads of the work which our local forces have done in the past few weeks, one must not think them worthy of standing side by side with the best regulars. We at present have only mobilized one army corps, consisting of 53,000 men, of whom 44,000 are already on the way to the Cape. No occasion has been seen to mobilize another division, and it called upon by the Ministers to mobilize another army corps, we are quite prepared to do so."

The great subject that interests all of us is undoubtedly the war with the Boers. I have great difficulty in dealing with it, for I speak at all, it may rather be to depreciate criticisms and statements which I think unadvised than to attempt to pass judgment on what still depends upon a future for its full determination.

R. D. GAMBLE IS DEAD.

In Vaile He Sought Health in Europe—Passed Away on His Way Home.

New York, Nov. 9.—There was a death abroad the White Star liner Oceanic during her voyage from England, that of R. D. Gamble, 46 years old, a prominent banker of Toronto, Ont. He died last Sunday and his body was brought to this port today. Mr. Gamble was suffering from cancer.

This was the despatch that reached Toronto yesterday morning, and was received with sorrow by a wide circle of friends of the deceased.

In the hope that European and British specialists might prolong, if not save, his life, Mr. R. D. Gamble, a member of the Dominion Bank had crossed the ocean in July to consult with them. However, he returned to his home in New York on May 12, 1898. He was a well-known capitalist of Montreal, his brother, Mr. Gamble, was a member of the Dominion Bank, and he had been a partner in the business.

Mr. Gamble was highly esteemed in financial and business circles, and was considered one of the brainiest bankers in Canada.

MEAN MAN AND WEAK WOMAN

Is About the Correct Expression if This Story From Calgary is to Be Relied Upon.

HUSBAND WENT TO PIGEON SHOOT. On Returning Found His Young Wife in the Apartment of His Business Partner.

Calgary, N.W.T., Nov. 9.—(Special.)—The Herald says: During the summer there came to Calgary a happy young couple, who put up at the Alberta Hotel, and afterwards took rooms in the Thomson Block, still having their meals at the Alberta. The young people were Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Harris, from Moncton, N.B. They had been married less than two years. Mrs. Harris, who is pretty, small and not much over 19, is a daughter of John Archibald, a prominent citizen of Moncton, who, under the Conservative Government, held the office of chief engineer of the Intercolonial Railway. Mr. Harris is a son of G. P. Harris, a well-known and extensive business being practising law in that town.

Found a Business Partner. Making the acquaintance of George Gould, auctioneer and commission agent, Harris soon formed a partnership with that gentleman, and an extensive business was being worked up in purchasing hay, oats and other produce in wholesale quantities for the Kootenays.

When the Trouble Began. Last Saturday Mr. Harris drove out about 3 o'clock to a pigeon shoot at the Calgary Gun Club's grounds. Remaining about 4 o'clock, he drove to Mr. Johnson's and Mrs. Marshall's and enquired if Mrs. Harris was there. Not finding her at either place, he drove to the Thomson Block.

It is said that from the rear of the block he could see the blinds, or curtains, drawn on Gould's windows. Leaving his horse, he went to the back of the block, and from his own room and from the front window called to somebody across the street to hold his horse, which was waiting off. He believed his suspicions were too well grounded. He remained in his room for a considerable time, and from what he heard through the open door, he was convinced that his wife was in Gould's apartments across the hall.

Secured a Revolver. Securing a self-cocking French 32-calibre revolver, which was in the room, he rushed at the door and burst it in. ## DR. PARKIN SPEAKS ABOUT THE BOER WAR

Massey Hall Jammed to the Doors to Hear That Very Eloquent Advocate

OF IMPERIAL FEDERATION.

The Chief Stake at Issue in This War of Welding the Empire is Britain's Commerce.

DESCRIBES SIR ALFRED MILNER.

Loyal Speech by Solicitor-General Fitzpatrick—A Memorable Scene.

"We are living in a world that is throbbing with national forces. Old nations are dying, new are being born. The death throes of the dying and the birth throes of others are throbbing in electric waves all over the world."

These were the opening clauses of a speech, in which, with an eloquence worthy of Demosthenes, Dr. George R. Parkin, under the auspices of the Canadian Club, appealed to the immense throng at Massey Hall last night, on the war of the Empire. As the orator fervently exclaimed that the Empire in which Canada was called to play a part was inoculating the Continent of Africa with her own grand ideas of civilization, and in Europe stood facing one huge camp of bristling bayonets, the whole house from gallery to gallery reverberated with applause like an artillery battle being fought out in a forest.

A Solid Empire. "It is possible to weld together the vast portions of the Empire," went on Dr. Parkin, "so that it will present an unbroken front to the world. (Cries of 'Yes!') I asked this question of an Australian Premier, and he replied: 'If there is a war, and it appeals to the conscience of the Empire, men will be sent, and money will be voted, and we shall be ready to do the credible of a united people.' I recall Lord Rosebery's remarks some months ago to me in England: 'sometimes things going to a great war will ever move us to unity, what this time is the world's unity means.'"

This War of Welding. Amid great applause Dr. Parkin exclaimed that this war of welding was now being waged in South Africa. In order to understand correctly the extent and gravity of the reported destruction of the Empire, he especially pointed out the stake at issue. He spoke of the case of that noble Lord Dufferin, who, as British ambassador to the United States, had endeavored to protect her commerce. He said that if there was any tampering with the commercial interests of India, not a cottage in England, but every acre of the intolerable blow that the Suez Canal would be safe in war they had given up the authority of the Emperor as Sir Evelyn Wood, and the only other link between the Cape and the Nile, was Sir Charles Dilke's statement that there was no spot on earth so important to British commerce or made so fine a naval station as the Cape of Good Hope.

Causes of the War. Dr. Parkin now branched off into the causes of the Transvaal war, but before going into particulars gave some interesting details of his personal friendship with Sir Alfred Milner, a statesman on whose
