

WOMAN: As She Appears for the Public Eye in the News of the Day

Queen Got $40,000.

LONDON, June 8.—The commission which is investigating the finances of the late King Charles is believed to have received $40,000 from the state. The queen dowager does not deny that she received this money, but says that she was justly entitled to it.

Watch for the Secretary.

The first annual picnic of the Anglican Young Women's Club was held in High Park on Saturday afternoon and was a complete success. About eighty members were present, and an enjoyable afternoon was spent. Races, games and refreshments were plentiful. The picnic was presented in an address and gold watch to Dr. Bertha Dymond, the popular secretary of the club.

Director Gown in Toronto.

A figure in the window of J. W. T. Fairweather & Co., exhibiting one of the much-talked of Director Gowns with the sheath skirt, came in for much attention on Saturday. This is the first garment of this character to be exhibited in Toronto.

Tales of a Store.

NO. 8.
The many fires caused by the ordinary electric lighting systems in department stores were due chiefly to the fact that the wires were exposed. All up-to-date stores employ what is called the conduit system. The new store of the Robert Simpson Company, Limited, will be wired with this system. Iron conduits will be laid and the electric wires run thru the conduits and the whole thoroughly embedded and covered in concrete. And thus the conduits will be absolutely water-tight. This in itself is a distinct protection against fire, for water has caused more damage to electric wires than has any other natural element. Frequently water has caused the wires to "ground," the fuse to "blow," or the lights to go out. In the watertight conduit system defects in the wiring can be remedied in a jiffy without danger of fire.

TRIPLE MENAGERIE.

Cole Brothers' Show Make Fine Exhibit of Wild Animals.
One of the rare and strange curiosities in the triple menageries of Cole Brothers' show, which is being given to give afternoon and evening performances Monday and Tuesday, June 15, in this city, is a black Bactrian camel. Taller than a full-grown elephant and as ferocious as any four-footed man-eating animal, the beast is justly called the "king of the humped marvel" ever exhibited. Agents for Cole Brothers made the capture near the Lake of Lob Nor, a sometimes termed "the wild regions on the roof of the old world." As far back as the subject can be traced, this is the first wild camel ever brought to this country, and the only black one ever seen anywhere in public. Made captive last December it is just as wild to-day as it was when at liberty, and experienced animal tamers unhesitatingly voice the opinion that no amount of kindness or harsh treatment will ever subdue it. It is an exceptionally fine specimen, its huge towering body being covered with a heavy growth of black hair as black as the blackest crow. Its limbs are large and powerful and a mad elephant cannot cause more trouble and damage than this giant when its temper is aroused. It already has a record as a disabled man, having recently sent his keeper to the hospital in Birmingham, Ala. Every precaution, however, is taken to guard visitors against harm in Cole Brothers' menageries, the camel being kept alone in a secure and strongly built enclosure, around which armed guards are ever on duty.

Late Dr. Bain's Successor.

At its recent meeting the council of the Canadian Institute elected W. H. Brouse to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Dr. James Bain, who had held various offices and been for many years one of its most active members. The delicious flavor of "Salada" Tea is largely due to the care used in the cultivation and preparation, and to the fact that it is packed in sealed lead packages, which prevents its coming in contact with articles that would affect its flavor.

KAW RIVER AMUCK.

Many Houses Flooded in State of Kansas.
TOPEKA, Kas., June 8.—Early this afternoon there was a break in the Kaw River bank, 600 yards wide at the Big Bend of the river a mile and a half west of North Topeka. This water appeared to be about four feet in depth and swept down into North Topeka flowing across Gordon-street. Soon many houses had been flooded to the depth of four feet.

According to the weather bureau here there are great probabilities of a repetition of the floods of 1904, when such damage was done in the vicinity. It is positively stated, however, that the great flood of a year previous, that of 1903, when millions of dollars damage was done, will not be approached.

Boats appeared this afternoon on Jackson-street, where the water is three feet deep. The Santa Fe, the last road which had been running in depth and swept down into North Topeka flowing across Gordon-street. Soon many houses had been flooded to the depth of four feet.

CHEMICAL TANK EXPLODED.

Fireman Blown Many Yards and Killed—Peculiar Accident.
HAMIOTA, Man., June 8.—One of the worst accidents in the history of the town occurred here at an early hour this morning, when Lorne Baker lost his life, and Arthur Heisterman with several others narrowly escaped serious injury. An oil building, which had been placed on the commons at the west of the town for the purpose of testing a new chemical engine, was standing on a hill. The fire alarm was given and the fire brigade was soon on route. The team drawing the engine and the firemen were coming up the hill at top speed when one of the gas cylinders exploded. Baker, the engine was standing on the rear step-board operating the cylinder, and was blown many yards away, killing him instantly. Heisterman, who was also standing upon the platform, had two fingers blown off, his arm broken and hands badly cut. Others were uninjured.

HEART EXPOSED WHILE PHYSICIANS WORKED

Stopped Beating and Was Encouraged Into Action by Doctors' Fingers.
NEW YORK, June 8.—That the heart and lungs of a living person can be exposed to view performing their functions and that manipulation of the heart will restore life are facts demonstrated by an operation last Wednesday in the Long Island College Hospital, Brooklyn.

Altho the operation was in all respects successful, the patient living four days after it was performed, death from another cause followed on Saturday. Some of the oldest practitioners in Brooklyn witnessed the operation, which, altho it offered only one chance of a cure, was a triumph. A frail woman of 50 years, would survive, was undertaken as the only means of saving her from the effects of a cancerous growth involving the tissues surrounding the vital organs. The woman, a dressmaker, a private patient at the hospital and whose name Supt. Shaw refused yesterday, was facing certain death from pressure upon the lungs and heart because of the growth. Dr. J. Sherman Wight of 30 Schermerhorn-street, assisted by two of the resident physicians and two nurses, opened the cavity from the right side and lifted the structures from the breast bone so that it could be raised from the collarbone and the ribs. Several of the upper ribs were taken out with the breastbone. The cancerous growth was believed to have been entirely removed. By opening on the right side, instead of on the left, a physician said, probably fatal injury to the heart following collapse of the lung from the inrush of air was avoided. As the case stood the heart hung from the aorta and its sac was left untouched. The patient was breathing but she could not speak. Aside from the opportunity afforded to view the operation of the heart and lungs in a living human organism, which physicians of forty years' experience said they had not before met, the most interesting fact in the operation developed at a thrilling crisis. This came immediately after Dr.

Toronto World's Embroidery Patterns

There is no limit to the vogue for fine needlework. It is being fairly lavished upon every item in the feminine wardrobe, from hats to shoes. Never has there been a season when the little things, that always add so much to the success of the summer toilet, count for more than they do now. All the little accessories show a touch of hand embroidery. But it is in her dainty under muslins that the well-gowned woman takes the greatest pride. Once she has learned the elementary stitches and procured carefully made patterns and designs, the pretty cor-set cover and other garments will be veritable things of beauty. These perforated patterns are used by applying the powder (furnished with the design), over the perforations. The same design may be used many times, being of better quality than the ordinary patterns.

WILKES-BAIRRE, June 8.—Three-year-old Katherine Brown, daughter of Philip Brown, was burned to death at midnight and a large Newfoundland dog, her pet, which tried to save her life, was found dead and lying upon her body as if his last effort had been to protect her from the flames. The child was left alone and asleep in the house by the mother while she went to a relative's to bring home another child. When the fire broke out the whole lower floor of the house was in flames. Neighbors prevented her dashing into the burning house, and the firemen finally quenched the flames and reached the charred bodies.
