Literary and Athletic Association
Mark Anniversary
With Recital.

Members of St. Francis' Literary and Athletic Association last night marked the tenth anniversary of their founding by a very successful social held in their newly renovated club house at No. 3 Bellwoods Park, where the bright appearance of the rooms, together with the evening dress of the boys and pretty costumes of the women made the evening a memorable function. The guests, some five hundred in number, were received by the president, Geo. Swallow, the vice-president, J. D. Kirk, and Past President J. H. Collins, and escorted through the house by the committee in charge of Messrs. Wm. Carroll and Tom Baird.

Overlooking Bellwoods Park ravine, with the new Crawford street bridge as an additional feature, the club house was seen at its best, some thousands having been seen in making the interior comfortable and home-like. The music room and library occupy the main floor, lounge and card rooms were found on the second floor, the spacious upper storey accommodating a large number of the guests. Billiards and other games equipment were in the basement.

A delightful musical program was given, a feature being the singing of Master Raymond Sears, who was chosen by Father Finn to travel with the Paulist chorists. The hospitality of the evening included a buffet supper served in the social hall. Among those present were Rev. F. Clancy, Rev. Wm. Fraser, Brother Rogation, Brother Alfred, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Fullerton, Mr. and Mrs. McLaughlin, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Feeley, Rev. P. Carroll and Rev. V. James of St. Augustine's; Messrs. M. Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. F. White, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Carey, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Cain, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Crawford, Mrs. J. E. Bellisle. The colors of the club—blue, brown and white—were in evidence on the guests, and the trophy cups for literary and athletic achievement.

Beginning with a dance at Columbus Hall on Monday night, in which 102 couples took part, the members are celebrating their tenth anniversary by a series of entertainments, a grand euchre on Friday and a stage euchre on Monday evening being other events scheduled. The membership is now 250, which it is hoped will reach the 300 mark during the present campaign.

"What's in a Name?"

Facts about your name; its history; its meaning; whence it was derived; its significance; your lucky day and lucky jewel.

By MILDRED MARSHALL

AMELIA.

AMELIA is derived from that remarkable word, "amali," which has formed the foot of so many proper names, it appears in practically every language and means "work." As early as the days of the Vikings, it was incorporated into masculine and feminine names. The first Amelias was an armorer in the court of King Niels, appearing another of the early versions, appears in the "Book of Heroes," as naming Amelung the Strong, and was a Duke Amelung recorded in Danish ballad lore.

Amelia was the earliest feminine name formed from Amal. It was a favorite in Lombardy, but soon penetrated Germany, where it found vogue as Amalie. Meantime, France and Italy had adopted the Latin Amalia, and thru the similarity in sound the two names were thought to be identical. France compromised the difference between Amalia and Amalie and produced Amelle, the name which has such vogue there today.

Amelia is the English version. It has replaced all other forms—even in Germany—the French Amelle alone surviving. The amethyst is Amelia's talismanic stone. It will guard its wearer from danger and protect her from contagion. According to ancient belief, the amethyst has a sobering effect upon rash or impetuous natures. To dream of it signifies freedom from harm. Saturday is Amelia's lucky day, and a her lucky number. The primeval, signifying simplicity, is her flower.

BABY ON DOORSTEP

St. Catharines, Ont., April 13.—An infant girl left last night on the doorstep of Arthur Johnson's house, lock four, old Welland canal, was today admitted to the Children's Shelter without any trace of the parentage being discovered. The following note accompanied the child, which was well dressed, "Please be good to my baby and don't put it in the paper. I know you will be good to it. God bless you."

SUFFERS FROM EXPOSURE

Stratford, Ont., April 13.—James Kennedy, aged 67, a former porter at the Commercial Hotel, was found in a serious condition from exposure on the Grand Trunk right of way east of Victoria Park at noon today and brought to the police station where a doctor ordered his removal to the hospital. Kennedy had been living out of doors and the wintry weather proved too much for his constitution. It is reported that his wife resides in St. Mary's. His recovery is expected.

How You Can Quickly Remove Hairy Growths

(Aids to Beauty)
A well known beauty specialist advises this treatment for the removal of hair from the face. Mix into a paste some powdered talc and water, apply to hairy surface and after about 2 minutes rub off, wash the skin and every trace of hair has vanished. This method is quick and entirely safe. To avoid disappointment, however, it is well to make certain you get genuine talc.

Pittsburg, where he spent the week-end with Dr. and Mrs. Litchfield, and played at the Edgeworth Club. Mrs. Litchfield played the piano, Mr. Jan Hambourg the violin, and Mr. Boris Hambourg the cello.

Miss Lily Waidie has returned from Bermuda, and is at the Westminister, Mr. and Mrs. McAllister have returned to town.

The Toronto Travel Club held its regular meeting at the house of Miss Cowan, St. George street, Mrs. S. G. Wood presiding. Two excellent papers were read, one on "French Writers of the Romantic School," by Miss Youill, and the other on "French Sculpture," by Mrs. J. McLeod. The music was given after each number. The event had added interest, it being the occasion of the first appearance of Lisa Elman, the young sister of the violinist, who played with her brother in the Kreutzer Sonata, making a splendid impression.

If genius might be criticized, it could be said that Elman never played with finer nerve than he did last night. It seemed as if sadness were a thing unknown and the real spirit of wizardry and witchery were the impelling forces of his performance. In the opening number, the "Nardine" Concerto, "vital, vibrant" phrases went out to his audience, the singing quality produced being simply ravishing, and the composition without receiving most sympathetic treatment.

Beethoven's Sonata. The "Sonata" Beethoven, seemed to give opportunity for two principals. Elman and his sister claiming equal attention. In the "Adagio Sostenuto" (Presto) there were passages in which the hands on the keyboard and those that held the bow and fingered the strings, worked together in fluid-like union and other moments when dainty passages were echoed in a perfection of time, rhythm and technique. The "Adagio Con Variazioni" was an illustration of fine sympathetic work and the "Finale" (Presto), the brilliant, ending to an outstanding number. Six recalls rewarded the players, hands fairly raining upon them a shower of applause.

The "Concerto in D Major," Paganini-Wilhelm, the allegro maestoso was played with clean incisive bowing, the strong piano prelude giving the key to the spirit of the composition. This number was punctuated at several points by the applause of the audience, who took advantage of Ottawa, April 13.—The private meeting of the special pension committee this morning, which was expected to have terminated within about fifteen minutes, proved to be a long drawn out affair, and it was not until a few minutes after one o'clock that the announcement was made to the officials waiting in the corridor, that the committee had adjourned.

The announcement was to the effect that the committee would resume tomorrow morning at ten o'clock and would then devote half an hour to hearing E. G. Nightingale, a former member of the First Battalion, who is vice-president of the American Volunteers in the C. E. F. and wishes to present the Americans' views to the committee.

In regard to calling further witnesses it was decided that wherever possible, the committee would secure in writing the views, grievances and proposals of every one asking for a hearing; so that there would be no unnecessary duplication of evidence, and as little repetition of last year's evidence as possible.

GENIUS OF VIOLIN CHARMS HEARERS

Mischa Elman Holds Audience Spellbound at Massey Hall.

Tribute to the exceptional popularity of Mischa Elman, the world-famed violinist, was given at Massey Hall last night, when the capacity house, with 800 extra seats on the platform, was accorded him, and throughout the entire recital it seemed as if the audience was simply insatiable, four, five or six recalls being given after each number. The event had added interest, it being the occasion of the first appearance of Lisa Elman, the young sister of the violinist, who played with her brother in the Kreutzer Sonata, making a splendid impression.

rests in the violin part to applaud the inspired interpretation. Mr. Josef Bonime, the accompanist, was also at his best, giving fine support.

Grieg Nocturne. The last group began with the Grieg "Nocturne," arranged for the violin by Elman, the fine silky quality and exquisite tonal pictures being a revelation of the player as a composer. "Kol Nidrei," Bruch, was a rich composition with an oriental atmosphere that seemed to be filled with prayer and petition. "Caprice Basque," Sarasate, produced unexpected delights, some of the passages being suggestive of Celtic dance music, to which the pizzicato work of the player was a charming and fascinating accompaniment. Enthusiastic and insistent applause followed the close of the program, which was easily one of the outstanding events since the close of the war.

The recital was under the management of Norman M. Withrow.
