an interest credit is found in the revenue of $45,408. The department thus Deficit in Car Lines.

The estimated expenditure for civic car lines is $738,768, while the revenue is not expected to exceed $445,000, making the year's operations result in a deficit of $146,200.

The total charge for the water works system for 1920 is estimated at $2,760,5123 (maintenance, revenue, collection, debt charges, allowance for increase in wages), while the estimated revenue is $2,840,066, and the surplus for the year will therefore be $134,933. The report adds: "From these figures it will be noted that the increase of 25 per cent, made in the water rates in 1918 is practically absorbed in the increased cost of operation, and, as a consequence, it will be necessary, before another year passes, to consider most carefully whether another advance in water rates should not be put into effect."

Toronto Third Lowest.

In a table containing the names of thirteen Ontario cities the report shows that Toronto has the third lowest rate of taxation. Altho the basis of assessment is not the same for all the cities, yet only two cities show a smaller in crease since the war began.

Commenting on the tax rates in the last twenty-five years the report concides: "In spite of the fact that the population has increased by only 250 per cent, in a quarter of a century, the revenue to be raised by taxation, has increased in the assessment and revenue required from taxation, it is not the session of the great disparity in the increases in the assessment and revenue required from taxation, it is not the session of the great disparity in the increases in the assessment and revenue required from taxation, it is not the session of the great of the fact that the population has increased over 300 per cent.
