

EVERY PATIENT SHOWS BENEFIT OF GLOVER SERUM

New Cancer Treatment Has Not Had One Failure To Date.

CONTINENT AROUSED

Time alone can prove if Dr. Thomas J. Glover of Toronto, the discoverer of the new serum for cancer, will go down to posterity as the greatest benefactor of mankind known to history.

The publicity given to Dr. Glover's discovery has been the cause of sufferers flocking to the outdoor department of St. Michael's. Yesterday the waiting-rooms, adjacent rooms, and even the corridors were crowded to capacity.

The United States press have given considerable space to Dr. Glover's discovery and enquiries from medical men and would-be patients are pouring in to Dr. Glover from all points—Vancouver, California, etc.

The cases being treated in St. Michael's are under the immediate attention of Dr. J. A. R. Glancy, who said yesterday that although some of the patients had had only one treatment there was not a single case but that showed improvement.

For instance, in the case of a woman who is suffering from cancer of the brain. Since last fall she had been unable to move, speak or experience sensation.

"I am feeling fine this morning," said an aged woman with cancer of the throat. "I have had no pain since your treatment yesterday."

But one inoculation had been given a woman patient to whom surgical aid was of no use. But a minimum dose of morphia was given her night before last, although two grains and a half was what she had been getting.

A patient with cancer of the face got no morphia night before last, but for weeks it had been necessary. He rested well and was slightly crowded after his first treatment Sunday.

"I had the best night I have had since Christmas," said a man who, after a week ago, was given not a fourth night to live. He was given sterile water Sunday night and thought it was morphia. He was brighter yesterday, his wife stated. He has had but one treatment.

A woman, who has had intense pain for months, told the nurse Sunday morning that she felt "tip top." A little reaction and nervousness was experienced yesterday morning, but she was sure she felt better.

For One Day. A woman from Sudbury, with abdominal cancer, here for one day, insisted she was much better, although Dr. Glover himself looked for no improvement in her case for two days.

One treatment only had been given an elderly woman, whose condition was most critical last week. Yesterday morning she stated she was "better."

An aged woman, whose cancer in the neck had been painful beyond description, told Dr. Glover she felt no pain and had rested well.

Another woman, whose abdominal cancer necessitated the use of morphia in large doses, was given a minimum dose Sunday night. She, too, has had but one treatment, but she rested well.

After one treatment, a woman from Orillia, who for six months was unable to eat solid food, asked for meat yesterday morning. "I am a lot better, and had no morphia last night at all," she said. A marked change was noted in her condition.

"I am a lot easier," said another woman patient. "I can retain fluids now and am feeling stronger."

Having been given morphia since last February, another Sudbury woman took none Sunday night. "I don't feel bad so much," she said in broken English. Her trouble is abdominal.

"I did not touch a morphia tablet last night; I just let them lay on my dresser," said a California woman here for treatment. "I feel much improved."

A stretcher case at the last clinic, a woman with abdominal cancer, was visiting by the bedside of another woman. "I can walk a little now, you see," said she.

VARLEY WITHDRAWS FROM HUSTINGS?

Well Known A.F. of L. Organizer Will Not Run For N. E. Toronto.

It was authoritatively stated last night that Corporal William Varley, who had a short while ago decided to contest the seat of Northeast Toronto, made vacant thru the resignation of Hon. Dr. Cody, former minister of education, has withdrawn his candidature. This is important information in that it relieves a situation which was fraught with dangerous possibilities within the labor movement.

The Labor representation committee is representative of the most important bodies in the labor field, namely, the Independent Labor party, the trades union group and the co-operatives.

In view of this fact it was generally conceded that the candidature of William Varley as an Independent Labor candidate would have the possibilities of success thru the recognized political channels.

NOMINATIONS ANOTHER NIGHT.

Butcher workers who were to have nominated their men for office for the ensuing year postponed nomination night to next Thursday week, July 8. The nomination meeting had been originally called for last night, and a large number of men, but not in large enough numbers to seriously consider nominations, the strike having influenced many members of the union to remain home, despite the fact that it was over on Sunday morning.

M. Kelly, aged 63, was found dead in bed at 145 West Richmond street last night. Kelly was an orderly at the General Hospital. He left the hospital Sunday and was not seen until last night when George Richardson entered his room. Death is believed to have been from alcohol poisoning. The body was removed to the morgue.

NO EASY SAILING FOR DEMOCRATS

Looks Like McAdoo. Hon. William G. McAdoo, in spite of his withdrawal from the race a few weeks ago, continues to be the likely choice of the convention. He is the son-in-law of President Wilson and was for years secretary of the treasury in the Wilson administration.

Another prominent candidate is A. Mitchell Palmer, at present attorney-general in President Wilson's cabinet. Mr. Palmer has attracted widespread attention by his drastic and vigorous campaign against the Reds, and by his wholesale deportation of foreign agitators of the Emma Goldman type.

Governor Edward Edwards of New Jersey, the outspoken opponent of the eighteenth amendment, is expected to throw his strength at the convention to Governor Cox. He is a man of impeccable character, who sincerely believes that the prohibition issue is one for the states to deal with, and has no place in federal politics.

Other Possibilities. The candidacy of Governor Smith of New York will probably result in nothing more serious than his getting second place on the ticket. Other prospective candidates who may develop unexpected strength as the balloting continues, and a deadlock threatens are Vice-President Marshall, Ambassador Davis and Hon. James W. Gerard, who was the American ambassador to Berlin until the United States entered the war.

There is loose talk of a stampede to President Wilson, but there is nothing to indicate that Mr. Wilson wants the nomination. He would seem to be the logical candidate if the peace treaty is to be the issue, but as a matter of fact, his nomination would precipitate a fight over the third-term issue, in which the peace treaty would be lost sight of.

REFUSE TO RESIDE NEAR GASOLINE TANK

Neighbors Are Prepared to Buy Out Cleaning Concern to Insure Their Safety.

CALL APARTMENT PLANS.

A deputation, 20 strong, appeared before the property committee yesterday to protest against permission being granted to one of the large cleaning and pressing concerns to locate a gasoline tank on land recently purchased by them at the rear of 61 Pen-drith avenue. Word pictures of the havoc that would result from an explosion in the plant were drawn by members of the deputation, who told how near their bedrooms were the site of the tank. There simply would be nothing left of them and this was the opinion of the stern members of the committee had no wish to bring about the deputation's suggestion that the deputation get together and buy the site from the cleaner and thus insure their safety, and they readily agreed to it for two weeks to allow the parties to get together.

ASSASSINATION ATTEMPT.

Mr. Fred Meares, who lives on Gothic island, complained that a neighbor had started the construction of a garage that would cut off his light, and this, it was shown, would be in connection with the by-law. The architect was to be instructed to cancel the permit.

The proposal to build an apartment house on the northwest corner of Avenue road and Lynwood avenue was debated by opposing deputations before the committee and finally Mr. J. L. R. Starr, representing the applicant, was told to forward his plans to the board of control and a decision would be given in due time. Residents objected to the erection of such a building there, as the district is restricted to residences.

SAY PULMOTOR IS WORTHLESS

Evidence Is Given at Inquest Into Drowning of Walter Johnston.

CITY IS SCORED

"We find that Walter Johnston, 14 years of age, came to his death on June 19th by accidental drowning. We also find that the city should provide better protection for its bathing beaches, and should take more pains to guard against holes where sewage is dumped into the lake. Also we think that the city should install telephones at all bathing beaches, which we are sure would be a great aid in life-saving. Furthermore, we are of the opinion that the efficiency of the pulmotor should be investigated, as evidence at this inquest has shown that as a means of resuscitation it is of little if no value. This was the verdict returned by the coroner's jury at the morgue last night in the inquest into the death of Walter Johnston who was drowned at Sunny-side bathing beach two weeks ago.

When the inquest was resumed last night an effort was made to ascertain whether the hole in which Johnston had been drowned had been there some time, or had only been washed out recently by wave action. Several witnesses stated that they did not know of any hole there, but Kitchener Jordan, a youth, stated that he had discovered the hole while bathing last year and had warned his comrades of it.

Pulmotor Knocked. During the evidence the question of the pulmotor's efficiency was brought up and several decided expressions of opinion were given. Hilliard Lang, one of the life-saving crew at Ward's Island, stated that it was of no use when the lungs were filled with water. He said that in seven years of his experience as a life-saver, he had never witnessed one case where the pulmotor did any good, and that it might be all right for cases of electric shock, he said, but was worthless in drowning accidents. Coroner Dr. R. R. Hopkins was of the same opinion, stating that he had never held an inquest on a drowning case where the pulmotor had been of any use in resuscitation. He thought it did more harm than good.
