AIR TRANSPORTATION TAX

Question No. 1,009—Mr. Howie:

What was the gross revenue from the current $8 air travel tax used to defray the cost of security at airports in each of the fiscal years ending March 31 (a) 1975 (b) 1976 (c) 1977?

Hon. Otto E. Lang (Minister of Transport): The air transportation tax was implemented on December 1, 1974. At that time domestic and transborder (Canada-U.S.) trips were subject to an ad valorem tax of 5 per cent, maximum $5, while a specific tax of $5 applied to other international trips. On August 1, 1975, the ad valorem tax was increased to 8 per cent, maximum $8, and the specific tax raised to $8. The revenue from the tax helps pay for the cost of airport facilities and services in general and is not allocated to specific services such as the provision of airport security. The annual revenue from December 1, 1974 to March 31, 1977 was as follows:

Fiscal Year Ending	Revenue ($000)
March 31, 1975	$ 7,109
March 31, 1977	71,107
