Interest in the Helmsman & Co. Piano Exhibit.

With the growing crowds at Canada's National Exhibition, interest grows apace in the beautiful and unique exhibit of piano made by the Helmsman & Co. It may fairly be called a colonial exhibit, as this style prevails in the leading pianos of the marquee design of pianos—baby grand and uprights, in mahogany cases and beautifully inlaid with satinwood.

Have you any heirlooms?

"Have you any heirlooms?" she asked, "anything that has been handed down in your family from generation to generation?" "Yes," he proudly replied, "I have this first pair of shoes my grandfather wore."

THE SUN TYPEWRITERS

Visible—Polychrome—Ribbonless

What Do Your Ribbons Cost You?

Many stenographers who called upon us at the Fair claimed they averaged over one ribbon a week. That is over $50.00 a year. Very few used less than two a month or $24.00 a year.

Are you a business man and pay this huge running expense for the privilege of sticking to the old order of things and inviting the stigma of inferior results? Those machines are dear if you bought them for $1.00 apiece.

The Sun Typewriter will not cost you 50 cents a year to run. It has neither ribbon nor ribbon mechanism. Every letter is printed with uniform and unapproachable distinctness, month in and month out. It is the swiftest, simplest, strongest and most visible of writing machines.

We will ship the SUN to any responsible man in Canada on a five days' trial if he will pay the express charges both ways.

WEASEL WINS BY STRATEGY. Shows Good Generalship in Desperate Fight With a Hush Rat.

"A weasel is a wizard as well as a fighter, and often wins his battles by strategy," said Emmet Wolfe of Mississippi, who was at the Galt House yesterday. "It was so with the fishing camp that was near a large stack of lumber. It seemed that a large number of rats inhabited the cool crates under the lumber pile, and one day a weasel put in its appearance."

"We had the pleasure of seeing a battle royal every day for several days, and by and by the weasel had killed every rat in the colony except one, which was nearly as large as a cat. They fought several times a day, and the weasel always got the worst of it. One day we noticed it industriously digging a hole under the woodpile, but though it tried to dig a hole, it was as if it were digging a hole in a wall, and as soon as the rat began to warm up the weasel suddenly turned tail and sneaked to the hole-like all possessed. The rat followed in hot pursuit, and both disappeared in the mouth of the weasel's hole. It was only a twinkling when the weasel reappeared and dashed into the hole again."

"We watched a long time and neither animal appeared. Finally we moved the wood and dug up the weasel's hole. We found the rat—dead—and the weasel had dug itself out another way. The weasel had trapped the rat and killed it at leisure, the hole being too small at one end for the rat to escape, which the weasel knew all the while."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Furriers. To H.M. H.H.H. QUEEN ALEXANDRA. PRINCE OF WALES. Isn't it almost time to see about furs. Buying them now before cold weather sets in gives you the advantage of selecting from a larger and more complete stock than we could possibly show later when the winter rush is on. Besides, it gives you more time to attend to your orders than we would have if you wished to wear your furs immediately.
