SAYS CONVENTION WELL WORTH WHILE

Commissioner Frink Tells of Municipalities Meeting at Shawinigan Falls.

Commissioner Frink, who returned yesterday from the convention of the Union of Canadian Municipalities at Shawinigan Falls, Que., said the meeting had been very successful and very much worth while. The papers were all of a very high order, and it was a good thing to get the viewpoint of the man from some other part of the country. Representatives were present from all parts of the Dominion, and seemed to be there to learn.

The commissioner said the reception accorded by the people was all that could be desired, and the Mayor, Dr. Dufresne, was a human dynamo for energy. One of the entertainments provided was a banquet at the Cascade Inn, and this was most enjoyable. It started in at nine p. m. and did not break up until two a. m. The view from the Inn was remarkable, one of the special features being a large illuminated sign on the top of a mountain about a mile and a half away, from which the French for welcome was blazoned forth.

Another treat given the visitors was the opening of two of the gates in the big dam and giving them some idea of the falls at they were before being harnessed to supply power for the district. Twenty years ago where the town and numerous industries stand was a forest, and today a development of 247,000 horse power was accomplished, and development under way on the St. Maurice river would give them more than 600,000 horse power.

The opening address at the convention was given by Hon. J. A. Taschereau, Premier of Quebec, who stressed the importance of a thorough yearly audit of municipal accounts, through the lack of which many municipalities had suffered loss. He stressed the need of a universal system of bookkeeping, to be approved by the Provincial Government, and pointed out that the use of many systems by municipalities was bound to lead to confusion and to charges of irregularity, even where no irregularity existed. He also roundly condemned the practice of guaranteeing the securities of corporations, in whole or in part, as a bad one, from which many Quebec municipalities had suffered.

Papers were also read by Gordon Grant, on Canadian Highways; H. Orlin, on City Manager Government; J. H. Valliquette, on Municipal Finance; Andrew F. MacCallum, on Municipal Engineering; Oscar Morin, on Municipal Hygiene; and Prof. Alexander B. I. Moore of McGill, on The Narcotic Menace.

One feature of the convention that struck the commissioner was that while many of the speakers were French they made their addresses in English, and he was particularly impressed by the Premier, who spoke for nearly an hour in English without a note before him.

PART OF BUILDINGS WERE LEFT IN DARK

Some of Hydro Lights Out Saturday Night—Pr. Edward Also.

The failure of a secondary transformer outside the grounds, caused one of the hydro lighting circuits at the Exhibition grounds to go out of commission on Saturday evening, throwing into darkness that portion of the grounds and buildings on the Sydney street side. Repairs were made on Sunday and Monday and last evening the lighting system was again back to normal.

The illumination of the big show is divided into three parts, each served by a separate circuit and separate transformer, so that the failure of the Sydney street section did not affect the other portions of the grounds. The opening ceremony, which took place in the large amusement hall was not affected by the accident.

Barry Wilson, engineer of the Civic Power Commission, today said that the failure of the transformer was due to an overload on the circuit served by it. He said that the load this week was about 400 kilowatts as compared with 225 last year.

Street Lights.

A slight defect in the time switch, which is supposed to throw the lights on automatically, caused the Prince Edward street circuit to fail to function also on Saturday evening. The trouble was located on Sunday and that evening the circuit was burning normally again. Mr. Wilson said that there had been more or less trouble with this time switch ever since it was installed.

As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram," said the Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hornbeam, "did I see you eating a hot dog on the Exhibition grounds last evening?"

"I eat two," said Hiram. "Did you hear that feller's song? I went back every little spell just to listen to him. Say—he could sell toadstools an' make you want another helpin'. I guess he must be from Noo York."

"What were your impressions of the Fair?" queried the reporter.

"Great," said Hiram. "I got a blanket, two dolls, a piece o' silverware an' a box of chocolates."

"Were you impressed by the various exhibits?" asked the reporter.

"Never seen sich a crowd afore," said Hiram. "An' some of 'em wasn't bad exhibits, nuther—but some of 'em hed too much powder on fer my taste."

"Taste?" said the reporter. "Hiram—was Mrs. Hornbeam there?"

"Oh, she was over in the women's place lookin' at the hand-work," said Hiram. "I hed a great time."

"I suppose," said the reporter, "you spent much of your time with the live stock?"

"Yes, sir," said Hiram—"I did. An' three or four of 'em made me promise 'd be there agin this afternoon."

"You are spoofing me," said the reporter.

"Well," said Hiram, "you come along down with me this afternoon an' see for yourself. 'In the most popular man at the Exhibition—By Hiram."
