Park railings can just smear into existence the two ends of a rainbow with his cull and rubber—if very hard put upon making a show—he could no more come than the arch of a rainbow to save his life than he could come the moonlight, fish, volcano, shipwreck, mutton, hermit, or any of my most celebrated effects.

To conclude as I began, if there's a blighted public character going, I am the party.— And often as you have seen, do see, and will see my Works, it's fifty thousand to one if you'll ever see me, unless, when the candles are burned down, and the Commercial character is gone, you should happen to notice a neglected young man perseveringly rubbing out the last traces of the pictures, so that nobody can renew the same. That's me.

SONG

ROCK ME TO SLEEP, MOTHER.

By FLORENCE TERRY.
Backward, turn backward, O time in thy flight, Make me a child again just for to night!
Mother, come back from the echoless shore, Take me again to your heart as of yore—Kiss from my forehead the furrows of care, Smooth the few silver threads out of my hair—Over my slumbers your loving watch keep—Rock me to sleep, mother—rock me to sleep!

Chorus.
Clasped to your heart in a loving embrace,
With your light lashes just sweeping my face, Never hereafter to wake or to weep—
Rock me to sleep, mother, rock me to sleep!

Backward, flow backward, O time of my years!
I am so weary of toils and of tears—
Till without recompense—tossing in vain—Take them and give me my childhood again!
I have grown weary of dust and decay, Weary of flinging my soul-wearied away—Weary of seeking for others to rump—Rock me to sleep, mother—rock me to sleep!

Chorus.
Come, let your brown hair, just lighted with gold, Fall on your shoulders again as of old—Let it fall over my forehead tonight, Shielding my faint eyes away from the light—
For with its silvery edged shadow more, Happily will I shut the sweet visions of yore, Lovingly, softly its bright billows sweep—
Rock me to sleep, mother—rock me to sleep!

A WHITE MAN TURNING BLACK.—An authentic instance of a man turning black is related by Dr. Dickson, of the British Embassy at the Levant. The subject is an Armenian, 38 years of age. He was laid up for two years with a severe sickness, which was followed by intermittent fever of a year's duration, and this in turn by an attack of jaundice. During the last illness the color of the patient's skin changed from yellow to bronze, and as fast as this change progressed his health improved. At present the entire surface of his skin, excepting the pales of his hands and the soles of his feet, is of a very deep bronze, such a mark the color of the dark Abyssinian races.

A married lady, who was in the habit of spending most of her time in the society of her neighbors, happened one day to be suddenly taken ill, and sent her husband in great haste for a physician. The husband ran in a short distance but soon returned anxiously exclaiming:—"My dear, where shall I find you when I return?"

A husband who has been gone nineteen years recently appeared at the residence of his wife, in Rochester, N. Y., and said he had come back to take care of his family.— The stranger-children voted that he should not, but the "old wife" decided that the penitent wanderer, upon whom she had lavished the wealth of her young affections, should in no wise be cast out. And he was!

A gentleman at St. Paul, Minnesota, has produced, after long labor, six automatic figures, three of each sex, life size, and so closely resembling living persons as to deceive all but the closest observers. They play upon musical instruments and mind their own business a great deal better than some live people.

MODERN ECONOMY OF TIME.—The Scientific American says:—
"Cotton.—One man can spin more cotton yarn now than four hundred men could have done in the same time in 1769. When Arkwright, the best cotton-spinner, took out his first patent.

"Flour.—One man can make as much flour in a day now as a hundred and fifty could a century ago.

"Lace.—One woman can make now as much lace in a day as a hundred women could a hundred years ago.

"Sugar.—It now requires only as many days to refine sugar as it did months thirty years ago.

"Looking-glasses.—It once required six months to put quicksilver on a glass; now it needs only four minutes.

"Engines.—The engine of a first-rate iron-clad frigate will perform as much work in a day as forty-two thousand horses."
