DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

OTTAWA, March 29.-In the hous this afternoon, Laurier replying to Borden (Halifax) promised that con-sideration of the Grand Trunk Pacific amended agreement would not in any vay interfere with progress of private bills and general business.
While Col. Tucker has not yet spoken on the militia estimates, the member for St. John Co. has been a studious hearer of the debates and it is thought that after Easter he will make a deliverance on the St. John drill shed question. Emmerson, like Tucker, is also a silent member save tion. If business of the house was time limited by the talk of Emmerson, Tucker and Costigan the session would not last thirty days. F. H. Hale, M. P., for Carleton Co., N. B., has left the house, possibly never to return, except as a British Columbia member, having taken up his residence on the Pacific slope, in connection with extensive lumber operations there. Mr. Hale was a good member and paid close attention to all business affecting his constituents. H. A. McKeown arrived this after-noon and was closeted with Hon. HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

The New Brunswick Historical Society held its regular monthly meeting last night, Col. J. R. Armstrong presiding. The papers communicated included Rev. Dr. Raymond's introducof freemen—practically a republic; the other is the home of the cruelest despotic that ever cursed a civilized land —a country where no man's life nor property is for a minute secure. In all their national aspirations these two countries are as far apart as are their systems of government.

Even were there some common ground upon which they might meet for alliance, the record of Russia constant of the St. John in 1758, and to John Mitchell's diary and field book of the survey of Passamaquoddy in 1764. Also Loyalists in Arms, a short account of Provincial Troops, otherwise known as the British American Regiment or Loyalist Corps, that served on the side of the king during the American revolution, 1775-1783.

that's spent in this city. We wouldn't have our taxes raised every year if the St. John Common Council and Board have our taxes raised every year if the women were in charge. Look at Queen Victoria. Was there ever a man in the world that had the wisdom and the goodness of that woman? The average woman is worth two of the average man."

St. John Common Council and Board of Trade arrived home Tuesday night from Fredericton, where they waited upon the local government with respect to the proposed Franchise Act. Ald. McGoldrick said to the Sun that Ald. Maxwell, Ald. Robinson, W. M. Jarvis and D. J. McLaughlin argued against and D. J. McLaughlin argued against and D. J. McLaughin argued against the bill on the general ground that nobody should be allowed to vote in a civic election until he had paid his taxes. Ald. McGoldrick argued in favor of the bill to the extent that all those who were no more than one year in arrears in taxes should be allowed round the council table more eagerly to vote. Argument will probably be
