Washington, Dec. 1.—Convinced that Canada has taken serious and justifiable offence at the print paper provision of the new American tariff law, Representative Mann, of Illinois, chairman of the Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce of the House, told a reporter today that only a removal of every bit of duty on this article would prevent Canada prohibiting entirely the export of her woodpulp for American paper mills.

Washington, Dec. 1.—Four new divisions of the navy department are created under the application of Secretary Meyer of the suggestions for reorganization made by three successive boards. The board of construction, made up of chiefs of bureaus and the bureau of equipment, will be abolished. Four expert advisers are created, who will furnish the secretary of the navy with expert information upon material, personnel, operation of the fleet and inspections, which are the designations given to the new divisions. Cost keeping in navy yards will be extended as the result of the trial of this method at the Boston navy yard. The reorganization plan is effective today.

New York, Dec. 1.—A cable to the Times says:—As midnight on Tuesday was being struck by "Big Ben" of Westminster there shot up into the sky at various points in London rockets that were designed to tell the waiting millions of the metropolis that the House of Lords had "rejected" the budget. This, of course, was not the formula adopted by Lord Lansdowne and his followers, but the public generally refuse to make fine distinctions and the word in everybody's mouth is that the Lords have "rejected" Lloyd George's budget. The issue has been joined, and from now till some time in January next Great Britain and Ireland will be filled with the clang and turmoil of a contest which may have the most momentous influence upon the destinies of the nation. Both sides profess to be absolutely confident of victory, but in the opinion of many non-partisan observers the scales will be turned by the masses of silent voters, whose views can with difficulty be ascertained till they are recorded in the ballot box.

Having been chairman of the special committee which investigated the question of the tariff on print paper and woodpulp two years ago, Mr. Mann is in a position to know something about the subject. He has some very recent information from Canada, the position of which regarding the tariff settlement here.

The tactical advantages of the preliminary skirmishes have been in the debate which closed in the Upper House undoubtedly strengthened the position of the Lords as the second chamber, and condonation for its interference with the destiny of the nation. Both sides profess to be absolutely confident of victory, but in the opinion of many non-partisan observers the scales will be turned by the masses of silent voters, whose views can with difficulty be ascertained till they are recorded in the ballot box.

At the time my committee recommended a reduction of the duty on paper from $6 a ton to $2 we were assured that this would be acceptable to Canada, but Congress turned down the proposal, and now the cheapest tariff rate on paper is $3.75 a ton, which Canada regards as too high in view of the fact that our mills make their paper almost entirely from Canadian woodpulp.

A charge of three cents per ton was proposed by the company, but it was decided that this was considered high. It is likely an agreement will be reached at two cents. The C.P.R. will extend a track on the wharf and will install a crane for the quick discharge of coal cargoes. The coal is to be shipped along the line as discharged. It will come from Cape Breton.
