GRATEFUL FOR RESPONSE TO RED CROSS APPEAL

Lady Tilley Receives Letter of Appreciation from Joint War Committee.

Lady Tilley, organizing President of the New Brunswick Branch of the Provincial Red Cross Society has received the following letters which are self-explanatory:

Lady Tilley, Organizing President, New Brunswick Provincial Branch, Canadian Red Cross Society, 225 Victoria street, St. John, N. B.

Dear Lady Tilley:

I herewith enclose you a copy of a letter received from Sir Robert Hudson by His Excellency, the Duke of Devonshire.

It is desired that this letter should be published in your district so that the donors to the great campaign should know how successful it was, and how much their gifts were appreciated.

Your very truly,

NOEL MARSHALL,

Chairman, Executive Committee.

Copy of letter from The Joint War Committee, 33 Pall Mall, London, S. W. 1, 4th, March, 1918.

Your Excellency:

At the last meeting of the Joint War Committee of the British Red Cross Society and the Order of St. John, I had the honour, as Chairman of the Joint Finance Committee, to read to the meeting a copy of the joint message of September 15th last to the people of the Dominion of Canada signed by Excellency as Patron and by her Excellency as President of the Canadian Red Cross Society, commending our appeal on "Our Day" 1917 to the sympathetic consideration of all in the Dominion.

At the same time I was able to inform the Committee that, according to the latest estimates made by Lieut. Col. Noel Marshall and Dr. Abbott, the response from the Province of Canada to our appeal amounts to the magnificent sum of over $475,000.

I was desirous by the Committee to convey to your Excellency the Committee's grateful appreciation of your generous tribute to the value of the services the Joint Societies have rendered to the Empire and the Allied Forces, as set forth in your message to the people of Canada. We realize that the terms in which your Excellency refers to our efforts were undoubtedly a potent factor in producing the generous response which the Dominion has made.

I was further desirous by the Committee to say that the British Red Cross Society and the Order of St. John beg to be permitted to tender, through your Excellency, to the people of the Dominion the profound gratitude of the Joint Societies.

MUSIC IN THE HOME

WILL THE WAR GIVE MUSIC NEW STRENGTH?

Experiences of War May Give Modern Composers Inspiration.

An interesting problem to consider these times is the one as to whether the close of the war will have any effect on the subsequent productions of the world. Previous to the war, the criticism against modern compositions was the one of mediocrity, that attention was paid to form rather than to meaning. This was the lament heard everywhere. Modern music lacked strength, lacked vigour, lacked power, was weak and without backbone, and consisted merely of a technically perfect grouping of melodies.

Music an Expression of Life of People.

Many, in finding excuses for this said that the fault lay not in the music, primarily, but in the age in which it was being written. The music was only an expression of the life of the people. The ideals of the world had changed. Industrial success, political prominence, economic enterprise, had taken the place of the spirit of adventure, the love of romance and the desire for emotional expression of former days. Efficiency had become the password of everything and was leaving its mark on the arts.

With the coming of the war, however, the world with a bound, reverted to the life of its earlier years. Civilization was forgotten; human endeavor was forgotten; and the apparently extinct but long dormant instincts of primitive self-preservation and self-defence were awakened in the hearts of millions of men. These things which before had formed a part of the stories of adventure in a boy's life were now given to him in grim, reality. Adventure, romance, conquest, all were given him in a measure never before equalled.

What all this will mean to the world of music, time will prove. But if the fault before lay in the dullness of the life the composer saw about him, now has ample vividness of color and variety to make up for it. There is struggle, there is fear, there is hope and ambition, there are all the innumerable ideals and emotions that have given inspiration to his predecessors, and all in startling magnitude. Our music needs new strength and the war ought to prove the channel from which that strength will come.

and obedience, and illustrating her talk with the Lord's Prayer and the thirty-second Psalm.

Mrs. H. A. Goodwin gave an inspiring talk on prayer, pointing out the different kinds of petitions, why some were not answered, and the power of prayer. She spoke of the fact that we could all be missionaries in our prayers for the work even if we were not able to go to foreign lands. The fact was noted that only one-third of the world is Christianized and so the responsibility of those who have received the message of the Gospel is very great; they should intercede for the world and its needs.

Mrs. Flagg expressed the gratitude of the meeting for the excellent and helpful addresses and asked several members to offer up prayers for victory for the Empire and the safety of the soldiers, as well as the work of missions, were the leading thoughts in the minds of all and very earnest petitions were made for a lasting peace, protection for our men and the advance of Christ's Kingdom on earth.

Songs were delightfully rendered by Mrs. Harrison and Mrs. Blake Ferris. Mrs. Harrison sang "Oh Rest in the Lord," Mrs. Ferris solo was "There Were Ninety and Nine That Safely Lay."

Prayer was the subject taken up at the meeting of the Women's United Missionary Society held at Centenary church schoolroom yesterday afternoon. Mrs. J. S. Flagg presided and there was a good attendance. Mrs. J. R. Vanwart read well written and interesting minutes of the last meeting, and a report of the prayer service held at St. Luke's church last Friday, which was very solemn and inspiring.

Mrs. J. H. Anderson gave a Bible reading on prayer, taking the three subjects of confession, forgiveness and thanksgiving.

SUPPLIED IN EIGHT HOURS BY RED CROSS

Why We at Home Must Keep Up the Red Cross Work—Prompt Response to Call for Help.

Col. Noel Marshall, Toronto, has received the following cable from Col. Hodgson, dated London, March 28th:

On Sunday morning, March 28th, one of our stationary hospitals, situated near the battle area, rang up Boulogne Depot, saying they were doing casualty clearing station work and that they needed immediately 5,000 pairs pyjamas, 1,000 sheets, 500 pillows, 200 hot water bottles, 5,000 utility bags, sterilized surgical dressings, roller, triangular and Mt. bandages, 1,000 flannel nightgowns, 1,000 day shirts, 2,000 pairs bed socks, irrigating time and rubber tubing. Also many miscellaneous articles such as biscuits, soup, lamps, scissors, malted milk, stoves, cigarettes, soap, feeding cups.

Inside of an hour five lorries, loaded with these supplies, had left Boulogne for the front, and everything delivered to the hospital within eight hours of request for help, despite the congested state of the roads.

In addition the society's lorries were delivering supplies to every Canadian hospital in France.

On Tuesday afternoon, March 28th, there was not a single unfilled request on the society.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.
