

POOR PRINT
Epreuve illisible

A poet's diary

C274562

2651 Prolegomenae Pacis LXXXV: Moscow and the Bomb II

2.4.46

Practically speaking, at present, it means:
The right to send the Bomb "against the Capital Of the aggressive State". Known in advance the scenes Of horror which would follow that International Punishment for the crime, the fear of it would be sufficient,
To prevent any aggressive attempt. Not less than that!
It is a kind of black-mail disgusting - but such are the morals!
That's, more than ever, the price for Peace to pay!

No battle-boggle with the Wyshinsky's and such
In O.N.U. or elsewhere are tolerable - too dangerous
Is the loss of time with fanatics who wish too much,
Playing the game with faulse cards, unscrupulous
And daring to the utmost! Therefore - not civilized
In the Christian sense! Unworthy to be "compromised"
In any way, time being their ally in anarchy progressive,
Who desn't practice Liberty at home - out shall he be thrown!

From World-Peace , with the bomb around!
But, as democracies true are slow and can't be others
And Neo- Nazism of Moscow, Blitz "quick and Itself not a bit on legal way, jumping passionately on the object aimed,
My proposal: cede and win! Seems to be the only practical
In the Near and Far East struggle! cede- win in spirit critical
World-consciousness arming against a Moscow - hell, menacing!
And don't lose the initiative, duplicity and calummy disarming!

B de S.L.

Lourdes 13.3.46.