

- ping, 363; power of the, 371, 375, 378.
 King's oath, the Korean, 249.
 Kings, palace of the, 295.
 Kit-ze introduces the elements of Chinese civilization in the 12th century, 12, 355; his tomb and temple, 318, 319.
 Kobe, 175.
 Kol-lip demon, 421.
 Ko-mop-so river, the 323.
 Ko-moun Tari, 310.
 Komura, Mr., 278, 281.
 Kong-wün Do, 74, 155.
 Kong-wün, 107.
 Korea, its geographical position, 11, 14; the church of, 11; opened first by the treaties, 11; population, 13; rivers, lakes, and harbors, 14; volcanoes, 14; geology, 15; mountains, 15; climate, 16; fauna, 16; forest wealth, 17; flora, 17; minerals, 17; rulers of, 18; cabinet ministers, 18; army, 19; provinces of, 19; the revenue and its sources, 19; treaties with, 19; the coinage, 19, 20; treaty ports, 20; language, 20, 21; religion, 21, 64, 399; society, 22; neighbors of, 23; foreign women in, 28; rebellion in Southern, 179; Japanese proposals for its administration, 206; the King's oath, 249; dynasty of, worn out, 255; a dark chapter in its history, 271; last words on, 445; her resources, 445; class privileges in, 281, 446, 450; dissatisfaction in, 281; farmers in, 447, 450; Japanese influence in, 25, 31, 359, 431, 449, 452; law, administration of in, 441; markets in, 28; missionary methods in, 28-30, 60; money of, 66, 67, 78; provincial government of, 372, 378; roads in, 20, 128; security in, 295; trade in, 24, 32, 304, 307, 391; winter in, 36.
 Korean animals, 73; bulls, 36, 110, 162; customs, 59; 65, 78, 101, 114, 120, 127, 283, 355, 359; dogs, 47, 73; dwellings, 77; education, 142, 387; finance, 396; graves, 36, 61; inns, 124-128; nobles and officials, 46; pigs, 73, 162, 322; ponies, 36, 54, 121, 162; roads, 20, 128; sheep, 72, 163; soldiers, 56, 209; streets, 27; travellers, 127; villages, 77, 162, 225, 234.
Korean Christian Advocate, and Christian News, the, 440.
Korean Repository, the, 11, 168, 346, 352, 440.
 Koreans, the, traces of Manchurian conquest on, 12; uniformity of their costume, 12; physiognomy of, 12; a handsome race, 12; height of, 13; mental calibre of, 13; possess Oriental vices, 13; seclusion and inferior position of women, 13, 45, 339-343; their corruption and brutal methods of punishment, 33; squalid character of ordinary Korean life, 52, 330; encumbered with debt, 78; a drunken people, 92; voracity and omnivorous character, 154; their music, 164; settlers in Siberia, 223; attach themselves to the Greek Church, 229; under Muscovite government, 233; race improved by settlement in Siberia, 236, 336; independence of secured by Japanese, 247.
Kowshing, the transport, 207.
 Ko-yang, 285, 286.
 Krasnoye Celo, 230, 233, 234.
 Ku-mu-nio, 110.
 Kun-ren-tai, the palace guard, 270, 271, 272, 275, 278, 280, 281, 282, 362; abolition of the, 362.
 Kuntz and Albers, Messrs., 216, 220, 224, 239.
 Kur-dong, the, a unique but