

Young women may avoid much sickness and pain, says Miss Alma Pratt, if they will only have faith in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"I feel it my duty to tell all young women how much Lydia E. Pinkham's wonderful Vegetable Compound has done for me. I was completely run down, unable to attend school, and did not care for any kind of society, but now I feel like a new person, and have gained seven pounds of flesh in three months."

"I recommend it to all young women who suffer from female weakness." — Miss ALMA PRATT, Holly, Mich. — $5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

FREE MEDICAL ADVICE TO YOUNG WOMEN.

All young girls at this period of life are earnestly invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham for advice; she has guided in a motherly way hundreds of young women; her advice is freely and cheerfully given; her address is Lynn, Mass. Judging from the letters she is receiving from so many young girls Mrs. Pinkham is inclined to the belief that our girls are pushed altogether too near the limit of their endurance nowadays in our public schools and seminaries; less learning and more health needed.

HIS Young wife was almost distracted for he would not stay night at home so she had his LAUNDRY done by us, and now he ceases any more to roam.

CHILL WINDS

Are the dread of those whose lungs are "weak." Some fortunate people can follow the summer as it goes southward, and escape the cold blasts of winter and the chill dews of spring. But for the majority of people this is impossible.

Family cares and business obligations hold them fast.

"Weak" lungs are made strong by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures the obstinate cough, heals the inflamed tissues, stops the hemorrhage, and restores the lost flesh to the emaciated body.

"I am a railroad agent," writes I. B. Staples, Esq., of Barclay County, Kans., "and four years ago my work kept me in a warm room and stepping out frequently into the cold air gave me bronchitis, which became chronic and deep seated. Doctors failed to reach my case and advised me to try a higher air, but fortunately for me, a friend also advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and by the time I had taken the first bottle I was better, and after taking about four bottles my cough was entirely gone. I have found no necessity for seeking another climate."

Sometimes a dealer, tempted by the little more profit paid on the sale of less meritorious medicine, will offer the customer a substitute as being "just as good" as the "Discovery."

You get the People's Medical Adviser, the best medical work ever published, free by sending stamps, to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Send at once-cent stamps for book in paper covers, or 50 stamps for cloth-bound volume, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

BALDOON.

T. J. Rankin was in the Maple City last week. It was the first time he has been able to go since last fall on account of ill health. He is improving slowly.

The butcher shop of this place is under way of construction. Fred Roe is the architect who got out the plans. It has all the modern improvements necessary for an up-to-date shop.

Some of the farmers here have started seeding.
Miss Alice Leatherdale, of Detroit, has been visiting Mrs. W. Rankin during the past week.

A. George is looking after the parish on the 13th concession.
C. Jackson, our local merchant, was out going hunting last week.

J. Doyle's sale was well attended last week. It was the largest sale which has been held in this place for some time. It brought him in over $3,000.

B. Bishop met with an accident last week, when his driver bolted and threw him out of his rig. He was not injured very badly.

Grace Church, of this place, was re-papered last week. It improves it greatly, and the work is a credit to the contractors, O'Hara and Kelly, of Chatham.

Paine's Celery Compound

CURED MR. KIMPEL.

A Terrible Form of Dyspepsia Conquered by the Medicine That Makes People Well in Springtime.

Dyspepsia, one of humanity's most cruel enemies, is effectually cured by the use of Paine's Celery Compound. The tormenting disease is caused by acute inflammation of the nerves centered about the stomach. In dyspepsia, nervous energy is wasted, and the entire digestive organism is deranged. The needs of dyspeptics may be summed up as follows: the great nervous system requires strengthening; the blood now charged with impurities must be cleansed; so that it will flow healthily and in abundance; the stomach, weak and unreliable, must be toned up. Paine's Celery Compound in the springtime will accomplish all that is needed for the dyspeptic sufferer, and banish troubles that make life unbearable. Mr. S. Kimpel, Listowel, Ont., says:

"Your Paine's Celery Compound is a most wonderful medicine, and I wish all dyspeptic sufferers to know the good it has done for me. I suffered so badly for one year from the worst form of dyspepsia, that I had almost to give up work. I doctored and used many kinds of medicines, but found no relief or cure until I got hold of Paine's Celery Compound. Your medicine possesses such curing powers, that in my case, two bottles set me all right, so that I can work as well as ever, sleep well and enjoy my food. I feel deeply grateful for such a medicine, and at every chance I recommend it to others. No doctor can cure as quickly as your Paine's Celery Compound."

"What's that you say, sir?" demanded Archie. "You'll have to pay my right shoulder a little? Is there anything the matter with it?"

"No, sir; not at all," replied the tailor, "but our best customers are—wearing the right shoulder a little higher this season, sir."—Chicago Tribune.

INTERESTING AND AMUSING.

"Weary Willie Walker," a play that seems to have made a strong bid for popular favor, judging by the encomiums of the press elsewhere, will be presented at the Grand on Monday, April 13.

The play, "Weary Willie Walker," is new, both in style and dramatic construction. It is called a farce-comedy, but might claim the dignity of "high class comedy," as it is free from all objectionable features of the former class of plays.

The dialogue is said to be exceedingly bright, pithy and sparkling, while the scenes are interesting and amusing.

The humor is of a good, wholesome kind and bubbles up spontaneously, keeping the audience in continual laughter. The characters of the play are genuine people, not simply stage creations, while the plot is natural and interesting. Altogether the production appeals to an elite and refined audience rather than to one that is satisfied with horse-play.

"RESURRECTION."

(A Study of Human Emotions.)
Tolstoi believes that every man should do manual labor as well as work with his brain. The great Russian puts his beliefs into practice, and labors in the field like one of the peasants.

Many of the thinkers and men of the world have held the same opinions as Tolstoi on the efficacy of manual labor in the fields and the woods in the development of the brain. Gladstone and Greeley chopped down trees. Horace, the greatest poet of Rome, worked on his little farm.

Tolstoi wrote well because he knew what he was writing about. He could describe the physical tiredness of the peasant accurately because he had been worn out by the same cause as the shoulders of the man who follows a plow.

There is no "literary" style in Tolstoi's works; in spite of the gigantic carelessness with which he elaborates his works, in spite of the numerous alterations with which his proof-sheets are usually covered, it is not what is called "literary style" that makes his writings powerful. From these black printed lines real life is bursting forth like a powerful bird breaking the cage. In "Resurrection" he describes the peasant in the field and in his home. He analyzes his character, his thoughts, his ambitions. Throughout all, Tolstoi, the man, talks with, not about, the man who labors with his hands.

The original American production of "Resurrection," at the Grand Opera House on Tuesday, April 14, will be the one principal event of our dramatic season.

TWO PICTURES.

When Ethel had her picture "took" "Twice just a score of years ago, We vowed by candle, bell and book No baby ever acted so! She screwed her mouth, she twirled her toes."

Our hair turned gray in sheer despair—To get our Ethel sweet to pose Was then a task to make one swear!

When Ethel faces now the lens (Mark well the changes Time can bring), 'Twould take at least a dozen pens To tell of all her pondering.

On how to get the best effects Of pose and rest, of light and shade, For Ethel now no more shudders To having her sweet likeness made.
