A Credit Union Primer

By A. H. Ham and G. L. Robinson

This book is the result of an investigation made by the Russell-Sage Foundation and gives definite information in regard to the establishment of credit unions for the supplying of loans to shareholders. The first part of the book is written in question and answer form, and practically any question anyone could ask regarding credit unions is answered in detail. The various books and forms required for the organization and conduct of a credit union are also described fully, as well as a complete set of by-laws and regulations and for the guidance of those who may wish to form a credit union. The New York Credit Union Law is given in full as an example. Post- 35c paid
