

“Regular Fellows”

The only men that really count in these days are the “regular fellows”—the men who stay on the job every working day, think first of the country’s good, and, by putting joy into the job, produce more than they did before the war.

Waugh drills are like these “regular fellows”—they stay on the job, put joy into it, and continually increase production.

That’s what we all want, and that’s what you want in your mine—“regular fellows” and Waugh drills.
