THOSE CHARGES

The Proudfoot charges against James Whitney and Hon. M. Cartwright, Deputy Minister, were again ventilated in the House yesterday.

A majority report of the committee of enquiry declared that no unworthy nature had been against them. A minority report, however, asserted that the other hand, asserted that the Proudfoot charges had been caught red-handed in a transaction, and included a description of a most incriminating letter.

Courier readers are familiar with the circumstances. The charge, a firm having unsettled claims, the Government contributed the Conservative campaign that settlement was then ordered. As to the latter, Cartwright, Deputy Minister, swore that he made settlement own initiative, and that no was placed upon him by either M. or Hanna.

As to the ethics of party tribulations, that is a somewhat subject. Both the Conservative Liberal sides have such fun can be no doubt at all about keeping up of organizations, local and local, is expensive cash from party adherents obtained, and is obtained. It may be remarked that it been alleged that the $500 was used for improper purposes. One amusing feature is the horror of the Toronto Globe. That paper swallowed the M. trip, with its gang of who voted for dead men's tees, and were told that the fear to kiss the Bible, as he handed them had only the and the inside was secular also swallowed the attempt of Gamey, ballot-burner, a rest of it, of the Ross register have one virtuous spasm willed that the barnacles removed with an iron had a barnacle was budged, and still continued to fight for a Government responsible much rascality that the people their might and almost wiperal following out of existence. Now, for this, in this $5 the organ sees nothing but est and most criminal rascals. What do you think of this?

SOME SAMPLE GRIT

The Peterboro Examiner Hon. Mr. Stratton, in it Monday had the following information has come to the mind that there will be a great Laurier meeting in Toronto, Ontario, which at once improbable and One cannot think that centre of intellect and culture of the Good, can be so much forgottenness of hospitality as to offend indignity to the most dignified Canadian, who forgotten either in the play in his attitude to cents. It is probable, too Conservative majority, ment at Ottawa have a part on British feet use the accidental major their opponents, represent the people of Canada; if an majority of the British which Toronto sends its ally representative, they expect but that their speech in Parliament were elected in their constituents Toronto the Good.

The above is the kind of bosh with which some of feed their readers, whom dently do not regard as pe even ordinary intelligence. As a matter of fact, "Tor has always shown the grissible courtesy to Sir Wilfrid very properly slamming dates whenever they have tunity.

BETTER HIGHWAYS

One of the most pressing Ontario is improved roads. Why in the name of common sense, the residents of towns and country districts have tent to passively put up roads is something which mortal is quite unable to do. In this connection it is that the appointment of a Commission for the Province to take place shortly.

The difference between and bad roads is the difference between progress and stagnation; tax for good roads is frayed with that levied by Resolutions of this session of Ontario Good Road tion, (at which practically e follow:
