

HE FEELS LIKE A NEW MAN

He Tells How Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets Brought Him Up, Cured His Indigestion and Made a New Man of Him.

"If I could only live without eating I should be perfectly happy," says the poor dyspeptic, "but the moment I put a morsel of food in my stomach the 'trois bagues' That's just it. So long as the stomach is empty there is no pain, but the moment it is filled with food, then all the trouble begins. Now this is just where Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets score. They assist in digesting the food, thereby giving the tired, worn out stomach a rest. "I was bothered with indigestion for years," writes Mr. Charles W. McBeth, of Ripples, Sheffield, Sanbury Co., N. B., "and could find nothing to cure it. Everything I ate seemed to lie like a weight on my chest and made me feel real bad. But I was advised to try Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and I found them a wonderful medicine for they cured me completely."

One Boar Power.

A French tradesman living in Montebello boasts probably the most singular equipment that was ever designed, particularly for purposes of pleasure. This gentleman, whose name is M. Tronget, takes his daily drives abroad in a little gig drawn by a domesticated wild boar. The animal is a true wild boar and was captured by his owner and trainer in the Troncal forest. The beast is two years old, and taming him to harness was a trying process, but by dint of much patience and some whiplash M. Tronget has at last brought his strange "geogee" to be as docile to voice and rein as a lady's pony. The boar draws a specially constructed gig and trots as fast as some horses.—London Globe.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and bringing the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Whistling Soldiers.

An incident occurred in London recently which would have shocked the military officer of a century ago. A battalion of the Irish Guards, led by two mounted officers, was marching along Oxford street to the military accompaniment of a band and drum band. Suddenly, with a flourish of drumsticks, the music ceased, and for a little time the soldiers tramped along with a solemn and steady tread. A boy came up a side street whistling the song of the moment, "My Irish Molly, O." A soldier in a fit of abstraction joined in. The refrain was immediately taken up by the others, and it flew to the front and rear ranks, until presently the whole battalion marched to its own whistling accompaniment.—London Mail.

Humor and Philosophy

By DUNCAN M. SMITH

JUST HUMAN NATURE.

There's a heap of human nature in the best of us, I guess. Though its cropping out occasions "Very often much distress. For the brilliant and the foolish labor underneath its spell. Which explains the genial grafter And some other things as well.

When a gentleman who wouldn't for the world his honor sell, And a bunch of easy money Comes around to wish him well, He is something of a wonder. If he doesn't compromise, Pocketing the roll and saying That it's just about his size.

Yes, the dollar's invitation, Soon as it is understood, Is accepted for the money. Unto most of us looks good, And we never stop to wonder If it may be tainted stuff. But we shove it in our pocket And look innocent enough.

It is not that we are wicked, That we reach out for the graft As a drowning sailor reaches For a life board or a raft. It is just the human nature That is getting in its work On the drummer and the statesman, On the grocer and his clerk.

Testimonial.

"Jack the Clipper cut off her beautiful hair."

"I suppose she never saw it again."

"Yes, a policeman recovered it."

"First time I ever heard of a policeman as a hair restorer."

Recipe For Long Life.

Every once in awhile some cheerful person comes to the front and says there is no use dying, that it is a bad habit and that if men would sign the pledge against it they could cut out this distressing function.

However, they are hardly to be taken seriously, but we do have an earnest proposition the man who tells us that we can live 100 years if we adopt his special brand of breakfast food or busy ourselves with his personal and patented kind of exercise.

One of the ways to attain this latter end which hasn't been touted much, but which seems to be all right, is the simple one of getting convicted of murder in New York and having a good bank account in reserve for the lawyers.

It is a cinch they will not hang you while there is a cent of the money left, and as the prison rules enforce the simple life the chances to live indefinitely are the brightest.

Modest.
"I am the most modest man you ever saw, Miss Mabel."

"Indeed, I hadn't observed it."

"Why, I have been quoting Browning and Tennyson at you here by the hour when I might but for my modesty have been reciting my own verses."

Dogs Eat a Church.
From the loneliest mission station in the world, on an island 700 yards broad, in the remote Arctic regions north of Labrador, the Rev. Mr. J. Peck had reached England after a perilous voyage in a 50-ton schooner. The missionary's first church at Blackwell's Island, Baffin Land, was made of seal skins, but met with an untimely fate, being completely devoured by Eskimo dogs. In spite of privations Mr. Peck and his colleague, Mr. Bilby, gave regular teaching to the neighboring Eskimos, and translated the New Testament and Genesis into Baffin Land dialect.—Church Echo.

A Siege
The matrons of the Edison Orphanage at Lowell, Mass., U.S.A., wrote they had a siege of whooping-cough in their institution. They said that every case was promptly relieved by Vapo-Cresolene. Its value in coughs and colds was so great they always kept it ready for use. You know how it's used, don't you? 'Tis heated by a vaporizer and you inhale it. Write us for a book that tells all about it.

Oysters As a Nerve Cure.
Over in France, says What to Eat, there has been discovered what is called the oyster cure for nervousness. It consists in eating all the oysters a person can consume to the exclusion of other foods until the cure is effected.

The theory is that in nervous disorders an excessive amount of phosphorus is eliminated from the system. This loss can be compensated by taking food containing a large amount of phosphorus. It is said a patient taking this cure can eat oysters fresh from the sea at the rate of about six dozen a day.

In the interests of the Church.
A Scottish parish minister met the laird's gamekeeper one day and said to him: "I say, Davidson, why is it I never see you in church?" "Well, sir," replied the gamekeeper, "I don't want to hurt the attendance." "Hurt the attendance? What do you mean?" asked the minister in surprise. "Well, sir, you see," replied the gamekeeper, "there are about a dozen men in the parish that go to church when I'm not there, and would go poaching if I went to church."

THE BANK OF ENGLAND.

Hidden Guards Always Watch. Those Who Enter Or Leave—Reasons For Their Presence There.

Thousands swarm past its portals every week day hour, never suspecting the presence of two men who are invisible, yet who are so close to the traffic of the street that they might almost arrest the passing pedestrians with outstretched hand.

These two men are detective officers of the city police, and from 9 o'clock in the morning till the bank closes they never leave their posts, at least not together. If one has occasion to be absent for a moment the other always remains; but, generally speaking, they face each other the whole day long.

Why are they there? The explanation is that there is never any knowing when they may be wanted. There is a species of gentry to whom the bank stands in always prime game. Bank notes, again, for various good reasons, are always being stopped, and there is never a moment when a stopped note may not be presented by a shifty character. What this means one of the alert watchers appears in the note room as if by magic.

As has been already said, they are rarely seen until they are wanted. In that case which divides the main entrance into two portals is constructed a sitting box of joinery and glass, and here, facing each other, in constant readiness, the two officers sit throughout the day. The one with his back toward the street can observe every person who leaves the bank, whether on his right hand or on his left. The other, with his face toward the street, can similarly see every person who enters through the gates. But neither insider nor outsider can see the two watchers until he comes almost abreast of the box.

It is when the clock of the Royal Exchange strikes 3 p. m., heralding the last hour of business, that the officers are most alert, for it is in the bustle of the last hour, especially of the last half hour, that anything may happen. One might hope to pass a stopped note, a second may attempt to pass a forgery, a third may be looking for an opportunity to whip off with some body's cash bag, and a fourth may try to loaf unobserved until the doors are closed, the hope of a chance to make a haul.

Father of Gillies' Limit.
Some men are born great, others achieve greatness, and some have greatness thrust upon them. Mr. James Gillies of Carleton Place was not handicapped by his ancestors, and has achieved a great deal, but it was the action of the Provincial Government with respect to the Gillies' timber limit that brought him to the notice of national appreciation and the limelight of publicity. The great and only Gillies' limit at Cobalt, which will be worked by the Government, was named after James Gillies, a gentleman who was for some time the business associate of Senator Peter McLean.

Mr. Gillies was born in Lanark county and is sixty-six years of age. He has for years been well known in the lumber industry. In politics he is a Liberal, and in religion a Presbyterian. Mr. Gillies is a gentleman of prepossessing appearance, with kindly features and keen business judgment.

A Hazardous Calling.
Perhaps no band of men in the world suffered such constant injuries, if not death, as the corps of building wreckers to be found in every large city where vast buildings have been gutted by fire, the tottering walls of which are still standing, and which accordingly are a menace to pedestrians. It is the business of these wreckers to pull the walls down, and a half hour spent watching them at this work brings the quick thrill as nothing else in our humdrum urban civilization can. They swarm over the swaying walls with reckless agility, watching ropes heave and there, preparing for the long and strong pull. Frequently the walls go in simply because of the weight of the men at work upon them. The bodies are dug out of the wreckage and the work goes on as if nothing had happened.—The Technical World.

MRS. HUNTER'S STORY
Says She and Her Husband Agree Perfectly. Both Quite Well Again

Mrs. I. Hunter, of 111 Raglan Road, Kingston, Ont., has written for publication a statement of her case as follows:

"I have suffered with kidney and liver trouble and chronic constipation for some time. I was subjected to dizziness, bilious headache, nervousness, drowsiness, pains in the back and side, and a tired, weary feeling nearly all the time."

"I tried almost every remedy, was treated by doctors and druggists with little or no benefit. "Finally a friend advised me to try Dr. Leonard's Anti-Pill, and the results have been truly wonderful."

"My husband has used Anti-Pill for rheumatism and was benefited greatly. We agree that Anti-Pill is most wonderful medicine and heartily recommended it."

This is a very strong recommendation. Anti-Pill is undoubtedly the greatest of family remedies. All druggists, or the Wilson-Fyfe Co., Limited, Niagara Falls, Ont.

CATARRH

The true Cause and the true Cure.

How and why "Fruit-a-lives" completely eradicate this disease from the system.

Catarrh means inflammation. Ordinary catarrh is inflammation of the nose cavity opening into the throat. This cavity receives all the air going to and from the lungs. Food and drink passes through it to the stomach. And the prime cause of catarrh is indigestion.

Because indigestion means an irritated stomach. This irritation spreads to the throat and nose. Belching gas keeps up the inflammation. The blood is impure and badly nourished. And nine times in ten, there is Constipation and poor skin action.

The only way to cure Catarrh is to cure the cause of catarrh. Digestion must be improved—inflammation in stomach soothed—blood purified—and the liver strengthened so it will give up enough bile to make the bowels move regularly every day.

Fruit-a-lives
or Fruit Liver Tablets

will always cure Catarrh of the throat and nose because these marvellous fruit tablets cure indigestion—sweeten the stomach—and eradicate all impurities from the blood by its stimulating and invigorating action on liver, bowels, kidneys and skin.

Leave sprays, atomisers, powders and snuffs alone. Take "Fruit-a-lives" regularly—be careful of your diet—and catarrh will soon be a thing of the past.

One 50c. box of "Fruit-a-lives" will prove how effectively these tablets relieve catarrh—and will do you so much good that you will gladly continue the treatment until cured.

50c. a box or 6 boxes for $2.50. Sent prepaid on receipt of price. If your druggist does not have them, write to:

White Mice on Submarines.
Every submarine vessel in the British navy is provided with a cage of white mice. These tiny rodents are rated on the ship's books like ordinary seamen, and the Government allows them a shilling a week for food. Their office on board a submarine is to give warning of the escape of gas. The very slightest leakage of gasoline fumes will make them uncomfortable, and they will begin to squeak. As it is absolutely necessary that there should be no escape of the deadly gas, the most delicate test of its presence has been employed. Numberless experiments have proved that these mice furnish the most reliable indication of impending danger.—Tit-Bits.
