

A FAMOUS REFORMER.

Rev. C. J. Freeman Speaks of His Life and Work.

He Has Written and Preached on Both Sides of the Atlantic—Recently the Victim of a Peculiar Affliction from which He Was Released in a Marvelous Manner.

From the Boston Herald.

No. 157 Emerson St., South Boston, is the present home of Rev. C. J. Freeman, B. A., Ph. D., the recent rector of St. Mark's Episcopal Church at Anacosta, Mont. During the reform movement which has swept over Boston, Dr. Freeman has been frequently heard from through the various newspapers, and although a resident of a comparatively recent date, he has exerted much public influence, which has been increased by the fact that he was ten years ago on a commission appointed in England to investigate the troublesome question of the vice of great cities.

He has preached before cultured audiences in the old world, as well as to the rough pioneers in the mining towns of the Rocky mountains, and his utterances as well as his writings have been in the line of progress and liberality, well-seasoned with practical common sense. Dr. Freeman has written, this paper a letter which will be read with interest. He says:—

"Some five years since I found that deep study and excessive literary work, in addition to my ordinary ministerial duties, were undermining my health. I detected that I was unable to understand things as clearly as I usually did; that after but little thought and study I suffered from a dull pain in the head and great weariness, and all thought and study became a trouble to me. I lost appetite, did not relish ordinary food, after eating, suffering acute pains in the chest and back. There was soreness of the stomach and the most of my food seemed to turn sour water, with most sickly and nauseating feeling in vomiting up such water.

Very faithfully yours,
C. J. FREEMAN, B. A., Ph. D.
Late rector of St. Mark's Montana.

Convention Echoes.

The following extract was among the good things that were said at the recent Convention of the National W. C. T. U. in Baltimore.

Do you know that we have to-day 2,000 members of the W. C. T. U. in South Africa? Do you know that we have twenty branches of the Young Woman's Christian Temperance Union in South Africa? Do you know that we have 12,000 pledged children in South Africa? With one million and a quarter of white inhabitants in South Africa out of that number the women of the Dutch Reformed church have sent out twenty young women to work among the natives of that country, and every one of those twenty is a member of the W. C. T. U. or the Y. We have from 1,400 to 1,000 active women, some of whom have just been converted to Christianity as auxiliary members to the W. C. T. U.

Every missionary and every Christian worker that I have met upon that great continent has said to me, "We can never evangelize the world as long as Christian countries legalize the rum trade." How do you think we can reach three-fifths of the population of the world and support the rum traffic as it is being supported to-day in the United States of America? Do you know that Maryland ranks seven in the production of whiskey in the United States, that there is to-day thirty-six million dollars worth of whiskey in the bonded warehouses of the state of Indiana—the product of one year? The great Methodist denomination sent out $1,250,000 last year to carry on the work of the gospel, less than one-thirtieth as much. Now I have one proposition which I wish to make to this great audience. There are to-day three thousand young people that propose, through the students' volunteer movement of the United States, to fit themselves and go out into the different countries to take the gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ. Do not let them go with any mistaken impressions about the power of the legalized liquor traffic. Let them go understanding that alcohol is a dangerous and seductive poison that has no place on the face of the earth under the sanction of God. Let those young women and those young men go out from you with this white ribbon on their breasts. (Applause.) It is for the local unions and the local members to send them out thoroughly prepared to do this great work for the Woman's Christian Temperance Union. It is not worth while to send them with the Ribbon on their hands if they do not take the Union Signal in the other—After Future.

No sublime conquest was ever won without daring. The price of progress is to boldly dare.

There are men who are so ultra that they advocate a thing to the extent of proving its enemy.

Doing without the things you want may be a very painful experience, but it is not half as painful as buying them on credit, and then being dunned for payment.

No, sobbed the pretty girl, Harold and I never speak now. And it is all through the machinations of that deceitful Sallie. What did she do? Perjured us to join the same choir.

An American contemporary mentions that a near sighted man, which mistook sawdust for Indian meal, ate heartily thereof, then laid a nest full of wooden knobs, and in three weeks hatched out a set of parlor furniture.

It is a bad plan to gleefully tell of your boghead's rasqually, while your children are sitting around. They will never be able to understand why you want to wale them for doing the same things that now seem so funny to you.

It will probably surprise a good many people to learn that the Canadian Department of Marine has a fleet of no less than sixteen steamers under its control, which are used in the lighthouse and fisheries protection services. Of these sixteen vessels, four are of steel, four iron, three composite and five wood.

Francis Murphy, the great temperance lecturer, told me two years ago that after 22 years of abstinence sobriety is still required all his will power to enable him to refrain from the use of liquor which he came in contact with it. The great John B. Gough to his dying day would never allow himself to be alone in a room with a bottle of whiskey.

Endorsing other people's notes is a risk that no man should take who has a family to support or his own credit to maintain. No father of a family has the moral right, says the American Grocer, to risk the welfare of his children in going security for his friend or neighbor. No merchant is at liberty, so long as he has outstanding obligations, to lend his name to assist another financially. His creditors should be his first concern and to see that they are paid his first duty.

Keep Enemies Out.

All diseases that linger and finally kill are the effects of bad blood.

The blood must be kept perfectly pure.

That is what the kidneys are for. They have everything to do in filtering out the poisons.

This process of filtration may be interfered with by a cold.

Usually if there is any lack of good kidney work, it is a cold, or perhaps over-eating and over-drinking.

Nearly every acute ailment starts with a cold. So do the diseases that finally kill.

The thing is to arrest the cold. This brings us to the question—What is the best treatment for a cold. Experience teaches us, from the universal success of Dodd's Kidney Pills in all the forms in which derangements of the kidneys show themselves that there is no treatment known to man any more equal to Dodd's Kidney Pills.
