BRITISH OFFICIAL. LONDON, Oct. 5. (Official.) No important infantry fighting occurred on the battle front to-day. Our troops have consolidated their positions. There is nothing to report from the remainder of the front. The number of prisoners taken since yesterday morning amount to 4,446, including 1,140 officers.

WAR SUMMARY. British Front in France and Belgium, Oct. 5. (By Associated Press.) The sun this morning was shining through the crisp October air on an unbroken line of victorious British troops along the new defence, which they reached in yesterday's great drive. The night had brought virtually no change in the situation and the British were rapidly consolidating the positions that were the fruits of one of the most important conquests of the war. The night was comparatively calm so far as the infantry was concerned. The enemy, however, concentrated an intense artillery fire on the entire battlefield and during yesterday afternoon and evening massed their shattered troops at various places for counter attacks. These were attempts born of desperation and in almost every case the on-rushing waves of German infantry were caught in heavy artillery and machine gun fire and crushed before they reached their objectives. The German artillery fire was particularly heavy up to midnight along the sector north of the Menin Road in vicinity of Polderhook. In the afternoon and evening the enemy launched no less than five counter attacks in this sector of the front, but each time was driven back with heavy losses. A little further in the neighborhood of Reulath the Germans met with no more success. Twice they essayed to press back the British troops, twice they were hurled back. With the British secure in all positions they won Thursday along more than an eight mile front of the Ypres section of Flanders, Field Marshal Haig's men were busy at work on Friday, consolidating their newly won positions and preparing their newly won positions and preparing for another hack into the German lines when the time becomes propitious. Nothing but dropping of shells from German guns served to interrupt the breathing spell the British were taking except here and there and small counter attacks which lacked the usual strength, the Germans employ in endeavouring to regain the lost ground. In addition to the enormous casualties inflicted on the Germans, the British captured 4,446 prisoners in Thursday's attack among them 114 officers.

Comparative quiet prevails on all other battle fronts. Artillery duels between the French and Germans on the Verdun sector, and in Champagne continues, and at several points in the latter sector, General Petain's forces again have repulsed surprise attacks delivered by troops of the German Crown Prince.

Apparently the Teutonic Allies in Roumania, after some weeks of virtual inactivity again are preparing to attempt to forge back the Russo-Roumanian line. The Russians have been forced to sustain an offensive near Radautz while near the Buzar River region attacks by Bulgarian troops have been defeated.

The admission is made in the latest Vienna official that the Italians were successful in winning trenches from the Austrians on the western slope of Monte San Gabriele in Gorizia sector, but it is asserted that heavy losses were sustained by them.

In Russia a coalition government has been formed with Kerensky as Premier, notwithstanding the demand of the democrat press that no government should be constituted without the sanction of Congress. Meanwhile further trouble has broken out in Turkestan where a revolutionary movement was started early in the week but later was suppressed. The Russian government has now declared that a state of war exists in this region.

The troops taking part in yesterday's attack included battalions from twenty-eight English counties, two battalions from Scotland, Ireland, Wales, and Australian and New Zealand divisions. The enemy's losses throughout the whole fighting have been exceedingly heavy, being greatly increased by the unusual number of German troops on the battlefield of our attack. Our casualties have been light. In addition to the prisoners taken we captured a few guns and other material. Severe fighting occurred, but the enemy was unable to drive our troops from the positions they had gained. Our new positions east of Ypres were heavily shelled by the enemy during the night, but no further counter attacks were made. A hostile raiding party endeavored to enter our trenches last night north of Couraumont, but was driven off with losses.

THE KING'S CONGRATULATIONS.

LONDON, Oct. 5. The King has telegraphed congratulations to Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig, Commander-in-Chief of the British forces in France and Belgium, upon his efficient leadership and the courage of his troops.

AIR RAIDS ON GERMANY.

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 5. A semi-official issued in Berlin refers to the attacks of the Entente airmen on German towns and says, they prove it is necessary for Germany to press back enemy aerial bases as far as possible. If to-day enemy airmen had bases on the Meuse line or in Belgium we should discover not only that western Germany but the heart of Germany would be exposed to enemy bombs. The statement concludes by saying that Belgium must no longer be dependent in a political or military sense on the Entente Powers.

A despatch from Berlin received here describes the aerial raids on the German towns on Tuesday night. The despatch shows that one airman penetrated as far as Dortmund and dropped six bombs, damaging the tracks between Dortmund south and Dortmund stations. One person was killed. Another airman dropped six bombs near Furtach, near Stuttgart. Small damage was done, but there were no casualties. Airmen coming from a southern and westerly direction attacked Frankfurt-on-the-Main. Most of the bombs fell harmlessly outside, but others fell at thirteen places within the city boundary. The damage done was very small. Five persons were injured, none were killed. In Lorraine, says the despatch, the industrial region was subjected to numerous attacks, but owing to effective measures of defense only slight success was attained. One of the Allied airmen returning from Frankfurt-on-the-Main was forced to descend by German anti-aircraft guns. Other attacks the same night were directed against Bastaph and Baden-Baden, causing material damage.

WAITING ASSURANCES.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5. The final decision of the United States regarding the adoption of a permanent embargo on shipments to Sweden, Norway and Denmark, it was said today, depends entirely upon awaited assurances from the Scandinavian Governments that no leakage of American exports to Germany will be permitted. That the present embargo is not permanent was emphasized in a statement of the Export Administrative Board that the matter was still under consideration. No final policy had yet been decided on, said the statement, because the Board had not been able to get information from the Government of northern neutrals repeatedly requested as to their resources and requirements and other information necessary for intelligent action.

ECONOMIC PRESSURE.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5. The final move to prevent supplies from reaching Germany from the outside world was taken today by the American Government deciding to refuse coal to neutral ships carrying supplies from South America to Northern European neutral countries, unless their cargoes are inspected in American ports. In making known the decision the Export Administrative Board announced it would apply the provisions of the Export Control Act, which gives the Government the same supervision over bunkers that it has over the exportation of goods with the approval of the Allied nations who will co-operate by enforcing similar regulations.

FRENCH OFFICIAL.

PARIS, Oct. 5. French troops last night repulsed a German surprise attack in the Champagne. The war office statement to-day says there was artillery activity along the right bank of the Meuse in the Verdun region.

RUSSIA'S NEW PARLIAMENT.

PETROGRAD, Oct. 5. The evening papers say that the preliminary parliament which the Democratic Congress has decided to set up will be a provisional body of a consultative, not legislative, character. It will be empowered, however, to consider questions of foreign policy. It will consist of 251 members, of which 110 will represent Zetatives and towns. The government is to supply it periodically with all information concerning the situation in the country.

FLOODS IN CHINA.

PEKIN, Oct. 5. The dykes on the Hoang Ho, or Yellow River, have been broken by floods at two places near Puchow, in the eastern part of Shantung province. According to Government reports the water is flowing in a northeasterly direction and will probably enter the Grand Canal. This, it is feared, will aggravate the situation at Tien Tsin, where there has been no abatement in the rise of the floods.

CHANGE OF RESIDENCE.

PETROGRAD, Oct. 5. The Provisional Government has decided that General Soukhomlinoff, convicted of treason, will serve his term in St. Peter and St. Paul prison instead of Siberia.

CLASH PREDICTED.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5. Russian officials here predict a clash between the Government and Democratic Congress now assembled at Petrograd, if the Congress refuses its support to Premier Kerensky. At the Russian Embassy, it was said today, the Government would make no concessions and would proceed with the formation of a Cabinet without considering the acts of the Congress.

REPUDIATED CHARGES.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5. Investigation of the charges by Representative Heflin that certain members of Congress acted suspiciously in connection with the war and an investigation of the interview in which he is alleged to have declared he heard that members got German money by being lucky at cards, was begun to-day by the House Committee. The Committee first heard two newspaper men in executive session about the interview which he fatly repudiated. Both newspaper men swore that Heflin told them in the House lobby that he heard pro-German and peace at any price members of Congress got money easily at a Washington gambling house, conducted by a German by being lucky at cards. When assailed in the House about the interview, Heflin first denied he said it on the floor, but later repudiated it fatly.

MARTIAL LAW IN TURKESTAN.

PETROGRAD, Oct. 5. The Government has declared a state of war in Turkestan, where revolutionary movements broke out early this week. The situation appeared to be dying out, when it suddenly flared up again.

WITHOUT COMMENT.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5. An official despatch declares the Pope has forwarded the German reply to the Allies absolutely without comment or endorsement of any kind.

ALSACE-LORRAINE.

PARIS, Oct. 5. Louis Barthou, member of the Inner War Council of the present War Council of France, at a luncheon at the American Club yesterday, declared that the French Government and the French people were absolutely unshakable in their resolve to re-unite Alsace-Lorraine in France. We wish to regain that which belongs to us, he said. The restitution to its legitimate proprietor of property taken by force and retained by force is what we ask. The protest, which has continued for four years, is more eloquent and more decisive than any pledges; it must be restitution pure and simple. Not a heart in France hesitates upon that, no voice is discordant.

RUSSIAN OFFICIAL.

PETROGRAD, Oct. 5. To-day's official announcement follows: On the northern, western and southwestern fronts there were fusillades and scouting operations. On the Roumanian front in Soletin region, south of Radauts, the enemy attacked in dense waves, but was stopped for four days. In more eloquent and more decisive than any pledges; it must be restitution pure and simple. Not a heart in France hesitates upon that, no voice is discordant.

THE Sunlight enterprise and organization for production, manufacture, and distribution were made complete long before the war. But during the war the difficulties and costs of transport have been multiplied. Therefore, Lever Brothers have purchased a fleet of steamships to convey raw materials direct from their plantations to Port Sunlight.

"When signing a business letter and she wishes to indicate that she is a married woman she should sign (Mrs.) Mary K. Jones. When signing a social letter she should use her full name without the prefix," replied helpful Auntie.
