REPARATIONS CONFERENCE AGREE TO DISAGREE.

British and French Policies Incompatible—
French Press Mourn Viscount Northcliffe—German Newspapers Revile His Memory.

REPARATIONS CONFERENCE BREAKS UP.

LONDON, Aug. 14. The thirteenth Allied Conference on German Reparations broke down today, agreeing to disagree as spokesmen for both France and Great Britain put it. From the commencement the Conference seemed predestined to failure, according to the view of close observers of the situation, and these observers are of opinion that the failure indicates utter incompatibility between the policies of Great Britain, and the French towards Germany. The situation appears to be that the Conference has separated without any idea of a new Conference. The British Government insists upon a moratorium as an imperative precedent to any further negotiations. On the other hand, M. Poincaré resolutely refuses a moratorium, unless accompanied by what he calls guarantees. English critics hold that M. Poincaré feared his Parliament, and apprehended a fall like that of former Premier Briand, if he yielded to British persuasion. The situation is considered all the more serious, viewing the continuous fall of the mark and the fact that nothing whatever had been decided upon, beyond the temporary suspension of the reparations payment by Germany tomorrow. The whole question is again thrown into the hands of the Reparations Commission.

FRANCE MOURNS NORTHCLIFFE.

PARIS, Aug. 14. Viscount Northcliffe is mourned today by the French press as one of the country's best and most powerful friends. Comment of the afternoon papers, which received the news late, can be summed up in the words of the Freie Presse.—"France saw in him a singularly ardent friend, true and faithful, who never failed her during twenty years. France cannot forget him."

GERMAN VIEW OF NORTHCLIFFE.

BERLIN, Aug. 14. German newspapers, commenting on the death of Lord Northcliffe are outspoken in their condemnation of the man, as the Allgemeine Zeitung designates him. "Who organized the campaign of German baiting throughout the world." This paper charges that he systematically built up a world coalition against Germany. "The blood of millions cling to his hands," says the Pan German Tages Zeitung, who believes that Lord Northcliffe spent billions on propaganda, which eventually accomplished the entry of the United States into the world war. Viscount Northcliffe's genius as an organizer is amply recognized in German editorial opinion, although some express the belief that his influence in the press of England proved demoralizing. It is recalled that he planned to issue a daily paper in Berlin in English and secured the German government's permission in the spring of 1914.

THE POPE'S MESSAGE OF SYMPATHY.

ROME, Aug. 14. Pope Pius has sent a telegram to Mrs. Arthur Griffith, expressing profound sorrow at the death of her husband.

D'ANNUNZIO INJURED.

GARDONE RIVIERA, Italy, Aug. 14. Gabriele D'Annunzio, Italy's noted soldier poet, was seriously injured in the head by a fall on Sunday in the garden of his villa here.

PRIZE RING.

CHICAGO, Aug. 14. Kearns, manager for Jack Dempsey, and Leo Flynn, manager for Bill Brennan, today posted forfeits of $10,000 each, for the appearance of their men for a boxing contest at Floyd Fitzsimmons' arena in Michigan City, Indiana, on Labor Day. Fitzsimmons posted a $20,000 guarantee.

Feast of the Assumption

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF ITS MEANING AND SIGNIFICANCE.

August 15th is recognized the world over as the feast of the assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary. The word assumption means lifting up to Heaven, carrying away from earth. The assumption of the Blessed Virgin is the mystery of the happy death of the mother of God, of her miraculous resurrection, and her assumption into heaven, where, being invested with the glory of her divine son, she reigns forever, Queen of Heaven. A poor lowly Virgin, Mary was born at Nazareth, four thousand years after the fall of Eve, and about 15 years before the incarnation of the Saviour. She lived in the Temple at Jerusalem with holy women consecrated to God. Espoused to St. Joseph, her relation, and the descendant, like herself, of David, Abraham and Noah, both took the vow of perpetual virginity. She passed thirty years with Jesus and Joseph in prayer and poverty and daily work. She followed Him during his three years of teaching and she was with Him through all the phases of His dolorous passion. Mary was the first, according to the Fathers, to whom the risen Jesus appeared. When the Apostles set out to teach all nations after the descent of the Holy Spirit, Mary followed St. John the Evangelist to Ephesus afterwards returning with him to Jerusalem, and there at the age of sixty-three, or some say seventy-three years, the Virgin Mary, surrounded by Apostles fell asleep in Jesus on August 15th in the forty-eight (or fifty-eight) year of her Christendom. Her sacred body was buried and laid in the Sepulchre by St. Peter and the other Apostles. They kept her raiment, and ascribed other things her veil, of which a portion is said to be at the Church of Chartres in France. There is a tradition that God had permitted the Apostle St. Thomas to be absent at the death of Mary, in order that her glory might be more clearly manifested. St. Thomas arrived in Jerusalem three days after her body had been placed in the grave. Deeply grieved, St. Thomas earnestly requested to be allowed to look once more upon the most loved face of the mother of his Saviour. The Apostles yielded to his prayers and accompanied by a large gathering of Christians of Jerusalem they all went together to the Sepulchre. They opened the tomb, but what were the surprise, admiration, and rejoicing of all present, when, instead of the body of Mary, they saw the linen clothes reverently folded, and the grave filled with flowers.

A Square Deal for Our Soldiers.

Editor Evening Telegram
Dear Sir.—Please allow me space in your widely read paper to voice one more appeal to the business men of this country for the returned soldiers. Business men of this country are asked to understand that those who fought and were maimed cannot and will not look upon themselves as outcasts or lame ducks, but as absolutely normal men. One may have one leg shorter than the other but that does not rob him of his brain or his heart. It is because I have lost a leg or an arm that I have no right to look to you for work that I can do in order to save myself from a rebuff or from pity. We don't want pity, nor do we want you to think that it is charity to give us work. What we want is absolute equality with the rest who have been saved from sharing our fate by their lucky stars or by their own cowardice. We, all of us, whether we have lost an arm or a leg, whether blind in one eye or two, whether crippled or deformed, claim to be just as good physically and morally as anyone else. Shall men who used their legs to rush upon Fritz and the Turk be outdistanced in life by men who from 1914 to 1919, sat by the office fires toasting their toes? No! We want our place in the sun as well as the rest. It is our due and we will try to get it, and when we do, to keep it. There is no happiness to which we are not entitled, and no work for which we are not capable, with a little help, and exercise and training. I am sorry, Sir, to have taken up so much of your valuable space, but I sincerely hope that these words will arouse in the hearts of our merchants a little more patriotism, and they will help the boys who helped them to keep the roofs over their business places from 1914 until the Hun dropped his gun to shout "Kamarad" to his opposers. Yours truly,
PENSIONER.

A Film of Eternal Mother Love.

WILL BE SHOWN AT NICKEL THEATRE.

Eternal mother love, triumphing over the forgetfulness of her children, is the homely theme of "The Old Nest," which is to be screened at the Nickel Theatre. This is a picture that has had a tremendous New York success and marks another milestone in the career of motion pictures. It has often been said that the screen can give to the world as great a lesson as the Pulpit, when it cares to, and in the "Old Nest" there is something that strikes right home and leaves with the patron a wonderful lesson. One of the high lights of the story is a remarkable train wreck in which the coaches are seen toppling off a trestle. Later come scenes of the mother rushing through wind and rain to prevent another wreck—what follows can be better described on the silver sheet. Another very important feature of this great story is its all-star cast. For without a good, well-balanced cast, a story such as this would certainly fall short. Some of the notables in the cast are Cullen Landis, Lovely, Helene Chadwick and Molly Malone.

Keep Away From the Bees.

NEW YORK.—Ever since a bee census was ordered in Goshen, N.Y., a metropolitan of the buzzing honey makers, tender hearted persons have been shuddering at the thought of the danger assessors might undergo in plucking each bee from its workroom or garden and counting it. But they might as well stop worrying, for W. E. Thorndyke, who knows bees from stem to drenched stern, said today that all the census takers have to do is count the hives. "Even if they did have to number each bee, it wouldn't be so bad," he said. "Some men could count them one by one and never have to use a mask. Of course, a lot would depend on whether the bees are aristocratic bluebloods or hybrids. The hybrids are usually the fierce ones. Still, when it comes to getting intimate with bees, discretion is the better part of valor."

Girls with perfume and men who use hair oil, smelly pomades or scented talcum better get out of the way whenever they see a bee coming. Mr. Thorndyke says. He has a theory that the little honey-makers just naturally dislike certain odors. When a bee likes an odor it noses right in to gather raw material for its manufacturing plant, but it turns its back on disagreeable smells. And when a bee turns its back, somebody is liable to experience discomfort. Bees have domestic troubles, too, and these often put them in a bad humor. It is to ascertain how many of the baby bees at Goshen are suffering from "foul brood," and causing worry to their queen and their papa bees that the census was ordered. Foul brood is something like summer complaint among human infants, but more devastating. It comes from impure food given during the period of incubation. The adult bees are not bothered by the disease, as they thrive whether the larva contains good food or bad. But when the queen bees get sick, then the physical strain of weakness ultimately affects the whole hive.

When teeth are dingy

When teeth glisten

Add Pearly Teeth To your attractions—Combat the film

Have you noticed how many smiling women now show pretty teeth? And how much they add to beauty? Millions now combat the film—that dingy film on teeth. And they gain results which, when you know them, you will never get without.

Film is unsightly

You can feel on your teeth a viscous film. It is ever-present, ever-forming. Mere brushing does not end it. So much remains to form the basis of dingy coats.

Film is what discolors, not the teeth. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acids. It holds the acids in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Germ breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Thus most tooth troubles and most dingy teeth are now traced to film.

Now millions do this

To save the teeth it was essential to combat that film. So dental science, after long research, found two ways to do it. Leading dentists the world over now advise their daily use.

A modern tooth paste has been created—made to comply with the new-day requirements. And these film combatants are embodied in it.

This tooth paste is called Pepsodent. Millions of people who have seen its results now apply it twice a day. And they enjoy the teeth you see—whiter, cleaner, safer.

Mouths kept alkaline

Another result is to multiply the alkalinity of the saliva. And that neutralizes acids which cause tooth decay.

Each use also multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That to digest the starch deposits that cling. If left to ferment they form acids.

Thus every application gives manifold power to Nature's tooth-protecting forces in the mouth.

The results will surprise and convince you. You will see that teeth-cleaning can be made vastly more effective.

Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear. Then you will know why this new method is everywhere advised. Cut out the coupon now.

Done Brown!

Brown had had the misfortune to break a vase and so spill a pair to which his wife attached a good deal of value. So there was trouble in the house of Brown. The unhappy man made frantic efforts to find a match for the broken ornament. But, alas! his good intentions were in vain. But he did not despair, and saved up his money in case he should come across what he sought.

One evening he rushed home and, bursting into the room where his wife sat, said in triumph, "There, my dear, look at this," holding up a vase. "I gave five pounds for it!" Mrs. Brown took it and examined it critically.

"Why, this is the fellow to the broken one. Thinking you would never get one to match, I sold this to a man for ten shillings this morning. A nice mess you're made of," he added, with withering contempt.

Many of the frocks being planned for children for school wear are being made of serge, although it has been predicted that wool crepes would be popular. Tweed effects are good, being woven in the jersey mixture. Black Kashmir silk is a material which lends itself easily to drapery. One costume made of the silk includes a dress of flared box jacket, trimmed with jet nailheads and embroidered in floss and collared in black lynx.
