

Just Folks.

By EDGAR GUEST.

DISCOURAGED.

was discouraged, and I bowed my head and sought to shun the crowd and find my ease away. I thought: "They laughing drink their wine and have no heavy grief like mine, no sorrows, night or day."

I stood upon the curb of life and watched them pass, the smiling wife.

Her husband at her side; others and children trooping by, seemed in all the world that I alone was heavy-eyed.

They know not what it means to weep, and I: "They walk with faith and hope."

Where I can only creep and grope. They laugh at toil and care; one of them has ever felt the cruel storms of trouble pelt.

None has a scar to wear."

Look closer," said a voice within, "too, have seen pale death come in."

They, too, have loved and lost! They, too, have seen their hopes go down;

As passes now, too great to frown, "whose soul is tempest tossed."

Looked, and near a cripple came, eyes with joy of life aflame.

To him of pain he gave, the one who suffers all the while in courage in his heart to smile (can you not be as brave?"

One passes by your door to-day who has not trod a rugged way or felt the lash of fate; the one who seems so free from woe whose cruel scars they do not show, (can you not be as great?"

Obituary

MARTIN ALYWARD.

At Cape Broyle on the 16th inst., passed to his eternal reward a respected and widely known citizen the person of Mr. Martin Alyward. The deceased had attained 77th year, and his life was a truly Christian one. Mr. Alyward was a man of high principle whose word was his bond. He held the highest esteem of his neighbours and friends and admired him for his many qualifications. During his illness he was constantly attended by Rev. Fr. O'Connell who with others did everything possible for him. Mr. Alyward's death removes another of the old landmarks few of whom are now left with us. Left to mourn are a son and two daughters, Mrs. J. Grant of Cape Broyle and Mrs. William Grant of St. John's. Mr. Alyward was surrounded by his family at death, released him from those whom he had been a kind father and wise councillor. May he rest in peace.—COR.

And Now We

Announce "Little Old New York"

OTHER GREAT FILM SENSATION COMING TO THE NICKEL.

The Newfoundland's pioneer house of entertainment, the Nickel Theatre, alert to the needs of the amusement public. You all liked the wonderful production of "The White Sister"—well it is still running and to those who have not seen it, we advise you to do so—and to all in general we now announce "Little Old New York" featuring Marion Davies.

It will reach St. John's in the afternoon on Monday next. This is the film that is the big sensation now through Canada and the United States.

The following press tributes clearly show the true greatness of the production:

"One of the finest things the cinema has yet given to the world. It will shine vividly in the memory of every picture devotee. It is a picture the industry may be proud of; it will not have to boast of; this picture will take care of its own reputation."—MARTIN J. QUIGLEY, in "Herald."

"There is one of the loveliest and sweetest love stories ever presented, filmed almost perfectly from start to finish. Miss Davies is irresistible."—QUINN MARTIN in "New York Herald."

"Miss Davies proves herself one of the greatest artists on the screen today."—LOUELLA O. PARSONS in "Morning Telegraph."

"One of the most exquisite productions ever thrown on the screen."—FRED HALL in "New York Times."

"It will reach the heart of every man and woman in the U.S.A., whether they live in a hamlet or in a metropolis. It will interest those who have seen London, Paris, or any European city, for its appeal is universal. The film has everything. It's a pleasure."—GEORGE T. PARDY in "Exchange Trade Review."
