SATURDAY EVENING, SEPT. 6 1873

ANNABEL OR THE TEMPTATION.

CHAPTER XXXVII.

BARNARD HAYES AND DICK MATTOCKS IN SE-CRET CONFERENCE, AS THEY SUPPER.

"True enough; and of course he doesn't deserve much mercy from you.
Well, if you only saw him."

"I shall never rest till I see him and glare at his suffering."

"Better get the girl disposed of first, though. Now that he has returned to England our game is no longer safe while she lives. Suppose he took it into his head to wish to see Ellen Mattocks, who nursed Annabel when she was dying, and went insane through grief at her loss.
Ha, Dick, a pretty business that would be—a fine turling of the tables for us all since he has come home with the marriage certificate in his pocket."

"That settles it double," hissed Dick.
"The girl dies, and at once. Only I mean to make myself right. Once she's dead my hold over you is gone and you might turn me adrift. Now I'm not such a fool as to kill the goose that lays the golden eggs, without seeing that the eggs are secure all the same—you understand?"

"Why, Dick, you don't think I would play you false do you?"

"Devil doubt you, if you got the chance," was the can'tid rejoinder. "But that's just what I mean to make sure about, and before the business is done you'd have to sign a paper by which I—"

"Thus far the three in the closet had listened to the conversation, though the feelings they had done so may be easily imagined. But Philip's burning soul could endure it no longer, and he whispered to the others to come away.

"They accomplished their exit from the closet without making the slightest noise Mr Barstead ejaculating, in the intensity of his indignation—

"The d—sounded! they should both be fayed alive!"

"When they came to the light, Philip's face was absolutely blanching with the passion and contending emotions.

"What would you think of doing now, sir?" asked Jim.

"They must be kept secure till Annabel is brought hither. Mr Barstead, can you undertake this?"

"Never doubt it, sir. A score of men will help if it be necessary."

"Very well. First of all, I shall confront them and demand the key from Mattocks. Come—come with me."

"On their way to the door of the room where were seated the two plotters who were about to be so signally confounded the landlord called softly to a passing housemaid, and whispered some words in her ear. Horror and amazement rushed into the girl's face at the communication; then, with a spasmodic start she flew down the stair to execute the order which she had received.

"Philip had by this time reached the closed door, and delivered on it a quiet but distinct knock.

In an instant the low voices within ceased, then a hasty rustling was heard by which they knew that Barnard Hayes was hurriedly resuming his disguise.

At the end of half a minute the bolt was withdrawn on the inside, the door was opened by Dick Mattocks, an I Philip Weston walked slowly into the room.

Economy is a saving bank, into which men drop pennies, and get dollars in return. Avarice is like a grave yard; it takes all that it can get and gives nothing back. Error will slip thru a crack, while truth will get stuck in a door-way.— Don't be afraid, young man, to walk a blunder once in a while; not all the blunders are made by the sincere and honest. I must respect those I suppose, who never make any blunders, but don't lay them. I like them kind of folks who, if they do once in a while weigh out a pound with only 13 ounces in it, are just as apt to make the next pound weigh 19 ounces. I lay my phallix on it. It is those that make me phel that I lay that tuck ov nature in me that makes me brother tew every man living.
—Mr. Billings.

The cost of glory which Sydney Smith said with Englishmen took the shape of taxes, appears to the German empire in the form of emigration. The drain upon the resources of the country produced by this means has become a subject of serious alarm to the Government. It undoubtedly has a good deal to do with the objections raised to the selection of German-born citizens as U.S. Consuls at the ports of the Empire. The inducements held out by the mere presence of men who had attained a prominent position in the land of their adoption, formerly rather thither, would naturally be unwelcome to the German Government, aside from any objection to their former political position. In the rural districts, dread of conscriptio for the army drives away large numbers of the people, while on the seaboard the indisposition of seafaring youth to enter the naval service is causing an extensive exodus of the bone and sinew of the population. Altogether, the outlook is not very encouraging to the great nation which has made its victories abroad the means of creating political discontent at home.

Don't know him.—We have heard of a man who owned a horse which had been for a long time afflicted with a chronic cough, and was otherwise in a poor condition; he at length resolved to sell him, and did so for a trifling sum.
Some five or six weeks afterwards, he met the person to whom he had sold him driving a beautiful horse, full of life, and enquired he had either exchanged him for this or purchased another; but judge of his surprise on learning that the horse was the same that he previously owned and considered of so little value. On enquiry as to what had effected so great a change, he was told "Darley's Condition Powders and Arabian Hove Remedy" had done it. This preparation has effected some remarkable cures. Remember the name, and see that the signature of Hurd & Co. is on each package.
Northrop & Lyman, Newcastle, Ont., proprietors for Canada. Sold by all medicine dealers.

"Time tries all things," and has proved that Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry is the remedy par excellence for the cure of coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, bronchitis, asthma, phthisis, sore throat, and influenza. It cures coughs and colds instantly. It clothes the irritated parts; it heals the inflammation; and even consumption itself yields to its magic influence.

Consumption, so prevalent and so fatal, is dreaded as the great scourge of our race, and yet in the formative stages, all pulmonary complaints may be readily controlled by using "Dr. Wistar's Wafers." They will relieve the worst cough in a few minutes, and have a most beneficial influence on the bronchial and pulmonary organs—but they must be used in time. Public speakers and singers will also derive great benefit by using them. Sold by all druggists and country dealers. Price 25c per box.

Iron in the Blood

MAKES THE WEAK STRONG.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protochloride of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vi- alized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damage, and waste, searching out and driving out disease to feed upon.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures, to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

See that each bottle has PERU-VIAN SYRUP blown in the glass.

THE GREAT REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION

which can be cured by a timely resort to this standard preparation, as has been proved by the hundreds of testimonials received by the proprietors. It is acknowledged by many prominent physicians to be the most reliable preparation ever introduced for the relief and cure of all Lung complaints, and is offered to the public, sanctioned by the experience of over forty years. When resorted to in season it seldom fails to effect a speedy cure in the most severe cases of Coughs, Bronchitis, Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza, Asthma, Colds, Sore Throat, Pains or Sore-ness in the Chest and Side, Liver Complaint, Bleeding at the Lungs, &c. Wistar's Balsam does not dry up a Cough, and leave the cause behind, as is the case with most preparations, but it loosens and cleanses the lungs, and allays irritation, thus removing the cause of the complaint.
