had the boy arrested on the charge of grand larceny. The boy's lawyers, moved by actual facts, pleaded from the firm themselves and from employees, that it cost but $16.50 to put on the market an $80 bicycle, and therefore the material stolen by the boy did not amount to enough to convict him of grand larceny. It has long been known that there was an immense profit in bicycles, and while the price has fallen much in the past year, the facts show that there is yet room for a great decrease in the price of high grade wheels.

THERAPEUTIC ASPECT OF GOLF. In the current number of the Caledonian Medical Journal, Dr. Macleod, of Beverly, has an interesting, pithily written article with the above heading. His view is that our recreation, are not sufficiently considered in their relation to the maintenance of health. The consideration of this point is the more important at the time youth is passing off and middle age approaching.

"When the stern part of life has to be faced," urges Dr. Macleod, "and the body is no longer able to sustain the effort of the more active games; or when the sedentary employment of the day tends to make the circulation and the muscles unfit for calls upon them, the active recreations lose their charm; obesity and degeneration claim their sway. It is not only that golf preserves the physical parts of the body, but by exercising the muscular structures, but it has its good effects on mental processes apt to deteriorate along with them. It helps to preserve the reflex balance of concerted action between eye, brain and muscle; it cultivates precision of movement—both apt to blunt early—and it very greatly exercises the faculties of patience and self-restraint. The man who is daily exposed to the worries of business finds himself strengthened to endure them by the constant restraint he has to put on his temper during the various incidents of the game, or finds a vast relief from them by being able to explode his brooding woes with hearty energy on a ball. There is, besides, no stimulant equal in exhilarating qualities to the joy of a successful drive, the recollection of which alone will do a man good for a week. Memory is much cultivated by the game, and it gives ample employment to the imagination and invention."

"The physical benefits to middle-aged and busy men, especially those engaged in town and sedentary occupations, are many. Golf is played either on ozone-producing seaside links, or on some wind-swept moorland; falling these, on a common which is a breezy upland, or at worst on some wide grassy space away from smoke and fog."

"The social, or rather sociable, aspect of golf is by no means without its benefits. On the links we are brought into an intimately friendly intercourse with our brother-golfers. No man is a stranger to another at the tee. Most golfers are good fellows, and there is a 'masonry' between them that no other game fosters. Social aspirations are rubbed down by the common interests of the game, and many lasting friendships date from a chance match. These amenities are not without their therapeutic value, and prevent many a man degenerating into an early fossil."

CHARLES E. A. CARR.

The Youngest Electric Railway Manager in Canada.

Born Near Barrie in 1870—Sketch of His Career in Toronto—The Electric Railway Review's Reference to an Energetic Londoner.

The Electric Railway Review of New York has the following in its last issue: "Mr. Charles E. A. Carr, of London, Ont., is said to be the youngest manager of an electric railway in America. Besides his work at the manager's desk, Mr. Carr's duties include those of treasurer of the company as well as electrical engineer. He was born in 1870 near Barrie, in Simcoe county, Ont., and he attended the school of that town. He completed his education in Toronto, and engaged for a short time in mercantile work, but his inclinations led him to accept a position in the office of the city engineer of Toronto, and he has since while employed in this department, a practical knowledge of civil engineering. While he was in this office he was brought into familiar association with street railway matters. He was one of the party of city hall attaches who made the famous midnight demand for the surrender of the local railway to the municipality. When the railway system was turned over by the city to the present street railway company Mr. Carr was assigned to the task of checking up the property included in the transfer. In January, 1893, he accepted the position of chief secretary to Mr. Henry A. Everett, then manager of the Toronto Street Railway Company, which had decided to equip its system for electric traction. During his connection with the company Mr. Carr gained a practical knowledge of electric railway installation which has since stood him in good stead. He was appointed manager of the London Street Railway Company early in the present year, and he has since that time been engaged in substituting electricity for animal power on the lines. Under his supervision an excellent system has been introduced which will afford a satisfactory transportation service as can be found in any of the Canadian cities."

Good Mining Prospects for the Year and Increased Facilities to Miners.

Nelson (Special), Oct. 21.—The mining prospects for next year in this locality are excellent, and a large influx of prospectors is expected. Miners and others coming in have been in the habit of bringing with them large quantities of Dodd's Kidney Pills, a remedy which they all swear by, and whose virtues they have extolled to such an extent, that the druggists throughout the section have become alive to the necessity of laying in large supplies to meet the greatly increasing demand. The remedy is generally regarded as an indispensable part of a miner's outfit, both for its portability and a value in preserving health which cannot be overestimated.

Without Home or Friends.

Catharine Lane Asks to be Sent to the Mercer Reformatory.

She Gets Twenty Months—Half a Year for Stealing a Suit—Catharine Jones Discharged—Isaac Bird's Threat.

Catharine Lane, a delicate looking little girl of about 18 years, without a home or a friend in the world, was in the Police Court yesterday, and asked to be sent to the Mercer Reformatory at Toronto. She was charged with vagrancy. Though very young in years, the girl has suffered great hardships. She was born in England, but several seasons ago was brought to Canada with a large number of English girls and placed in a home. She left the home in a short time, and after roaming around for a while, entered the city hospital for treatment. There she met Wm. Lane, a chap of 20, and on recovering from their illness the two were married. Lane had no home for her; in fact he had hardly a cent to his name, but he had nerve and took his wife out to his brother-in-law, Alfred Hall, of London township. Hall drives a dray. Lane did anything he could get to do, but he never seemed overworked. Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Lane didn't agree, and there was trouble almost from the start. Finally things became so interesting that Mrs. Lane left them and had her husband arrested for assault. Since then she has roamed to and fro until last night, when she was arrested at 12 o'clock while wandering the streets. She was given twenty months in the Mercer at Toronto.

Richard Woods was up for sentence for stealing a suit of clothes from George Elson, of the Boswell House. He had nothing to say and got six months in the Central. Woods is a one-armed corporation laborer, and has been up frequently for drunkenness. His wife and family are very respectable and have lived apart from Woods for several years.

Mrs. Catharine Jones, of York and Maitland streets, was charged with being a drunk and disorderly and also a vagrant. Both charges were withdrawn, as to make out the cases the crown would have to summon several ladies living in Mrs. Jones' neighborhood. Mr. Jones also promised to do all in his power to keep his wife from drinking.

Isaac W. Bird, of 414 Hill street, a young colored man, was arrested on the receipt of a telephone message from the hospital, to the effect that he was going to cut his throat. Isaac, however, stated that he had threatened to cut his wife's throat. "She has been behaving properly," he told the court.

"Nothing serious," said the magistrate. "Serious for a married woman," replied Bird, with a shake of his head.

Isaac was discharged on promising not to repeat the threats.

Benjamin Hutchinson, convicted of non-support, was further remanded for a week for sentence.

John O'Hanley, drunk, was discharged.

Rumored Disagreement of Cleveland and Olney Over Foreign Affairs.

Chicago, Oct. 23.—A special dispatch from Washington says: A rumor is afloat that Secretary of State Olney is contemplating retirement from the cabinet. The alleged reason for this is a supposed disagreement between himself and the President in regard to the foreign policy, and especially with reference to the Venezuela matter, in which rumor says that Mr. Olney favors a more vigorous course than does the President. The rumor, however, is entirely unconfirmed.

London Trades Council Supports Woman Suffrage—Secretary Marks' Letter to the W. C. T. U.

As usual the regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. was well attended Tuesday afternoon.

The election of vice presidents, laid over from the annual meeting, was completed. For several years past it has been the custom to elect one representative from different religious denominations. Accordingly, the following ladies were appointed: Presbyterian—Mrs. (Rev.) R. Johnston. Baptist—Mrs. (Rev.) R. Smith. Methodist—Mrs. (Rev.) J. Evans. West London—Mrs. (Rev.) Clement.

The appointment of a representative from the Congregational Church was postponed for a short time.

A communication was received from Mr. Joseph T. Marks, secretary of the Trades Labor Council, expressing full sympathy of the council in the woman's suffrage question. This was looked upon as a cheering stride in the right direction.

Constantinople, Oct. 23.—The Grand Vizier, Kiamil Pasha, has communicated to Shakhir Pasha the scheme for reform to be introduced in Ezeroun, Bitlis, Van, Sivas, Mamuret-ul-Aziz and Diarbekir. The High Commissioner has been instructed to maintain a scrupulous watch over the execution of the reforms and to report the results by letter to Constantinople. The communication also defines in detail the functions of the High Commissioner relative to the amnesty to be granted to political prisoners and the return of Armenian emigrants and exiles. Disturbances of a serious nature are reported from Kerasin. The Turks attacked the Armenians inhabiting the village of Sonlus, in the district of Mudania. Twenty-four persons were killed on both sides.

Automatic Fire Protection

Saved the London Furniture Company's Buildings From Destruction.

Street Car Runs Over and Destroys a House—Loss Less Than $1,000, Principally by Water—Cause Unknown.

The London Furniture Company escaped serious damage by fire Tuesday principally through an admirable arrangement of automatic fire extinguishers. The fire was first noticed about 8 o'clock by a young man in charge of Young's livery stable. He hurried across the road and gave the alarm to the men at No. 1 station. As the fire was in a very dangerous locality and the building very inflammable, a general alarm was turned in and the companies summoned from the two outlying stations. The fire, owing to the automatic sprinkling arrangement, had not obtained very great headway when detected. At no time was it out of control, but it required about an hour's work to completely subdue it. As near as can be ascertained, the fire originated underneath a work bench on the third floor. It burnt through the floor to the second story, and by means of a hole for conveying piping it communicated to the fourth floor, but did very little damage there. The ceilings of every room in the building are traversed by water pipes. As soon as the heat reaches a certain temperature the openings melt and the sprinklers automatically play on the fire below. Water at considerable pressure is supplied from a mammoth tank, which is higher than the roof itself. These sprinklers, it seems, were in active operation when the firemen broke open a window to turn on a stream, and they probably had been working for some time. Without their aid in checking the progress of the flames it is hard to say where the blaze would have ended. The automatic system was put in eight years ago.

During the course of the fire a trolley car ran over a hose which was connected with a hydrant at the Masonic Temple corner. The line was almost completely cut in two, and had the fire been burning fiercely the effect of the loss of the stream might have been costly. Although the corner is electrically lighted the motorman says he did not see the hose, which is almost the same color as the pavement.

The origin of the fire is unknown. Manager Greaves says the loss will be less than $1,000. What damage there is was caused principally by water; the fire loss being practically nil. The building is fully insured.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

From Yesterday's Latest Edition.

Mayor Little will be out of town for the next few days on private business. Ald. Jones will act as mayor.

The asphalt paving work will be concluded on Saturday. The lack of curbing stone is causing a slight delay.

Mr. E. B. Leach, of Princess avenue, was quite seriously hurt yesterday by being thrown out of his wagon, his horse, a spirited young animal, running away.

W. Eacrett, merchant, of this city, has purchased a very fine lot on Dundas street east, three doors west of the Centennial Methodist Church, north side, where he is going to build a residence for himself.

The Baconian Club will open its season on Saturday evening next, when officers will be nominated. Mr. W. A. Wilson will give a reading, and the question of Chinese immigration will be debated. Mr. C. E. Edwards will argue in favor of Government interference, and Mr. S. J. Radcliffe in the negative.

The asphalt pavement will receive a much-needed sweeping tonight, and tomorrow two or three men will be given steady jobs and will be expected to keep the pavement clean as a billiard table in future. It costs $31.88 a week under the present system of three sweepings during that time. Three men at $1.25 a day can be had for $22.50 a week, a saving of $9.38 a week compared with the old system.

Mr. Anthony Rolfe, of London, was married at Ingersoll Saturday to Miss Maggie Ewart, daughter of Mr. Wm. Ewart, of Ingersoll. Miss Nellie Dundas assisted the bride, while Mr. Rolfe, brother of the groom, was best man. Miss Mary McDonald, of London, acted as maid of honor. Mr. and Mrs. Rolfe left on the 9:15 train for London, where they will take up their abode. Miss Ewart was one of Ingersoll's charming and most popular young ladies. The costumes of the brides were very handsome.

James Leader, charged with the theft of an organ from the Hammond Temperance Lodge, London West, was sent for trial yesterday by Squire R. F. Lacey. The theft was committed one night in June, 1893, and the organ was subsequently found in Max Goldberg's second-hand stock. Goldberg had purchased it on the market from Mr. Neil Cooper, who says that the organ was sold by him under orders from Leader. James McPherson, of London West, was tried for the theft shortly after it was committed, but was discharged. Leader then left the country and did not return until a few weeks ago.

It is altogether probable that next year will see a complete revolution in the matter of street watering if the suggestion contained in the recent meeting of the mayor is carried out. Water from the river can probably be obtained through the Grand Trunk Company's stand pipes for the pumping. There are stand pipes at Ridout, Elbow, Wellington and Waterloo streets which could be utilized to fill the water carts for the southern portion of the city at least. An arrangement is on tap with the street railway company whereby the streets traversed by the company may be watered by electrically-propelled tanks, as in Toronto.

Tomorrow night the Chicago Marine Band will make its first appearance in London at the Grand Opera House. The membership of the band is made up of the very best musicians in the profession. All through the band section are artists are found, while the wind family is headed by the wonderful soloist, Otto. Mr. Brooke is a model conductor, having magnetism and fire, which make all of his concerts fascinating, and his great originality and dramatic effects make his success wonderful. Full of life and inspiration, such as made a lasting sensation in Chicago last winter and established Mr. Brooke's claim to being the greatest conductor of popular music in America.

A new lodge of the Ancient Order of United Workmen of the Grand Lodge of Ontario was instituted last evening in the Foresters' Hall, East London, by Grand Organizer John Milne, P. G. M. At St. James' Church, Ingersoll, on Monday night Rev. J. H. Moorhouse, of London, gave an excellent and impressive talk on Christian Endeavor work.

Bishop Baldwin is presiding at the conference of the Huron Anglican Lay Workers' Association, which opened in Windsor this morning. Rev. Canon Richardson will read a paper on "The Christian Endeavor in Relation to the Anglican Church."

Already the local benevolent societies are getting ready for the winter. The St. Andrew's Society advertised the annual meeting of Scotchmen and their descendants, to be held tomorrow night in the rooms over Ald. J. W. Jones' establishment.

Typhoid fever prevails at the home of Rev. Thomas Cullen, Asklin street, South London. Mr. Cullen and a daughter are seriously ill of the disease, and within the last few days two other members of the family have been taken sick, presumably with the same malady.

Mr. David Rodger, assistant storekeeper at the London Asylum, has been promoted to the position of assistant. Mr. Rodger has been in the service for nearly twenty years, and has always had the confidence of his superior officers. The promotion was deserved.

G. F. Robertson, stationer and news dealer, East London, has bought Benjamin Sowers twenty acres at the terminus of the electric railway at Springbank. This is fine summer residential property. On the northwest corner of the property, and directly opposite Mayor Little's summer residence, rises an eminence overlooking the country for miles around, giving a magnificent view. A gentleman who spent his holiday at Springbank this summer viewed the landscape over from this eminence, and remarks: "Though I have been over the Rocky Mountains to the Pacific coast, and seen many fine sights in my travels, I have not seen a more beautiful landscape than this. I question if there is a finer view on the continent of America."

James Patterson, employed at Bradford's, and Joe Barnes, employed at Pigot & Bryan's, were scuffling for the possession of a ball on the flat roof of a building in rear of the respective establishments yesterday when Barnes lost his balance and fell twenty feet to the ground. He escaped serious injury.

The services in connection with the dedication of the new Dundas Street Methodist schoolroom were continued last night, with a rally of the Women's Missionary Society and the Young Ladies' Mission Circle of the church. Mrs. Dickson presided. Addresses were given by Mrs. Tenant, representing India; Miss Laird, representing China; Mrs. Lancelley, representing the Indian tribes; Miss Vining, representing Africa; and Miss McMechan, representing the South Sea Islanders. Each lady reviewed the outlook in their respective missions and presented many interesting curios. Addresses were also given by Mrs. Dickson and Rev. Dr. Williams, president of the London conference. Music was furnished by the Epworth League quartet—Messrs. Warner and Noble and Misses Gunn and Aiken. Misses Gunn and Golding also rendered solos.

YOUNG LIBERAL NOMINATIONS. The Young Liberal Club's nomination of officers takes place on Monday night. There promises to be keen rivalry for the presidential post of honor, and among the possible candidates are Dr. George C. Davis, U. A. Buchner, W. J. Harvey and J. D. McCrimmon.

A LONDONER HONORED. Mr. W. B. Scarth, ex-M. P. for Winnipeg, and a former Londoner, has been appointed to succeed Mr. John Lowe, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, who has been superannuated. It is probably 30 years since Mr. Scarth was a resident of London. At that time he was a traveling agent for the large wholesale house of Adam Hope & Co. His chief occupation was that of winding up of estates for the house. He is a Scotchman, coming from Gairthness. After he left London he engaged in business in Toronto for a while and then went to Winnipeg. His subsequent career was very successful, and friends in London will heartily congratulate him on his appointment with personal pleasure.

MR. MARTIN'S RECITAL. Cronyn Hall was well filled last evening, with a large and critical audience, the occasion being Mr. Thomas Martin's piano recital, an event which is always looked forward to with pleasurable anticipations by pianists and music-loving citizens. In listening to Mr. Martin one hardly knows what to admire most, his wonderful technique, his grand and noble tone, or his marvelous and accurate memory. The "Song Without Words," by Grieg, received a most beautiful and poetic rendition. Miss Eva Robin has a high and clear soprano voice, which she uses in a most artistic style. She was heartily cheered. Monsieur Le Simple is a "cellist of rare attainments. His singing quality of tone was greatly admired. Mr. W. A. Blunthner as accompanist was most satisfactory.
