Receive a Visit From Sir Wilfrid

And the Hon. David Mills-Two More Brilliant Triumphs for the Premier.

Windsor, Oct. 19 .- Two more brilliant triumphs were added to Sir W4frid Laurier's Ontario tour in the demonstrations which took place at Windsor and Amherstburg, respectively, this afternoon and evening. It was a wonderful tribute by the electors of Essex to the foremost public man of Canada. At each place there were immense crowds, who were unrestrainedly enthusiastic and showed the most extravagant admiration for Canada's leading statesman. In this pleasing duty French-Canadian and English electors co-operated. Judging from the popular demonstrations at the places visited since Wednesday, Western On-tario is thoroughly satisfied with the record of the Laurier government, and is eagerly waiting the opportunity to make the fact known at the polls. The most significant fact about the ovations to Sir Wilfrid is that they are entirely spontaneous, and the people who par-ticipate in them have traveled miles, at great personal expense and inconvenience, in order to do so.

IN CHATHAM. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, assisted by Hon. David Mills, had a pleasant hour this morning in Chatham, receiving prominent citizens and their wives who called upon them. The reception took place at the residence of Mr. George Stephens, the Liberal candidate for Kent, who will help to keep that constituency for the government. premier and party afterwards drove down to the Grand Trunk station to take the train for Windsor. At the station they were just in time to wave greetings to Hon. W. S. Fielding as he vent east on the express, bound for Brantford.

WELCOME AT WINDSOR. Sir Wilfrid and his party arrived at Windsor at 2 o'clock. The station was crowded with a great throng, who shouted a vociferous welcome when the premier appeared in their midst. A band was also on the platform and played "God Save the Queen" and "See, the Conquering Hero Comes," in his honor. At 2:30 a meeting was held in honor. Following this came an English address, read by Mr. Cleary. The Laurier Quartet was called upon, and sang "The Land of the Maple" in excellent style, and on being encored gave "Onward to Vic-

SIR WILFRID LAURIER. The premier's rising elicited a most enthusiastic outburst of cheers. The premier, speaking in French, said he was there to speak for Mr. Sutherland, the Liberal candidate for North Essex. and he then paid a tribute to the character and the services of the retiring member, Mr. McGregor. The Liberal administration, he said, deserved the support of all men, independent of creed and nationality. Sir Wilfrid discussed the settlement of the school question. and said the settlement might not be perfect, but was capable of being made The French address presented to him proclaimed that the French-Canadians of North Essex were proud of the fact that he belonged to their race. Although a French-Canadian and a Catholic, the Liberal party had chosen him as leader because its policy was justice and equal rights for all, independent of races and creeds. Sir Charles Tupper was appealing to race prejudice, but he did not believe in such a method of warfare. That was not the way a nation could be built up. ONTARIO'S KINDNESS APPRE-

CIATED.

Speaking in English, Sir Wilfrid returned his thanks to the electors of Ontario for the kindness with which they had received him. He had been treated as well, if not better, than he had been in the Province of Quebec. He had deemed the people of his own race to be more mercurial than the Anglo-So much enthusiasm had been displayed in Ontario, however, that he felt there were just as warm hearts in the Anglo-Saxons as there were in his fellow-countrymen. At all events, he had been received with the greatest kindness. If it continued he would be killed with kindness, and he did not altogether desire that, because his public ork was not yet complete. (Cheers.) Wilfrid spoke of the great freedom which Canada enjoyed as a self-governing colony, and the loyalty and devotion which Canadians felt for British interests. He defended the government from the charge of de'ay in sending the Canadian contingents to South Africa, and hoped to see ere long in that counderation like that which existed in Canada. He appealed for the return of Mr. Sutherland, who would do credit to parliament, but confessed to a pang of regret at losing Mr. McGregor.

Tonight's meeting was held in the town hall, which was far too small for the throng that sought admission. Room was found for several hundreds, but when the aisles were packed and every inch of space taken there was still a considerable crowd outside. A commodious gallery at the end was completely filled with tadies. Many flags, streamers, and mottoes gave a bright appearance to the place. The mottoes were apt and admirably illustrated the distinguishing characteristics of the two parties, and the designation of Sir Wilfrid as "Canada's Gladstone" was perhaps the happiest. The audience was not limited to Amherstburg people, but also consisted of large dele-gations from Essex and many other points in the neighborhood.

Mr. C. E. Naylor, president of the Liberal Association of South Essex, occupied the chair and briefly introduced candidate, who made a brief but effective speech. The Premier Passes Through the City Accompanied by Lady Laurier.

Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier passed through London today on their way to Parkhill, where the premier will address a meeting this afternoon. The party arrived in the city about 8:30 o'clock, and were driven to the residence of George C. Gibbons, Q. C., president of the London Liberal Association, where they had breakfast. A drive around the city followed, which ended at the G. T. R. station, where an immense crowd had gathered to do honor to Canada's greatest statesman, early date.

The appearance of the premier on the station platform, accompanied by the Liberal candidate, Mr. C. S. Hyman, was the signal for an outburst of cheers. Scenes of the greatest enthusiasm followed, and the premier was kept busy shaking hands with the throngs of citizens until the train pulled out. Madame Laurier also came in for a share of the hand-shaking by the ladies of London.

The premier was evidently in the best of health and spirits, and in conversation with an Advertiser representative expressed himself as extremely gratified with the reception he has received on his tour in the west.

As the premier boarded the train and stood on the rear steps, he was called upon for a speech. Sir Wilfrid replied that time would not permit of a speech, but he wished to express his pleasure at seeing so many citizens attend to greet him. He could say nothing more eloquent than to tell them to vote for to tell them to vote for Mr. Charles S. Hyman. (Great cheer-

Madame Laurier made her appearance at the rear of the car at this juncture, accompanied by Mrs. C. S. Hyman, and to Sir Wilfrid's jocular remark, "Do you want to speak, too?" aptly replied, "Yes, I want to ask them to vote for my husband." (Cheers and
