

DETROIT AUTO
MEN ARRESTED*Four Charged With Conspiracy to Defraud in Toronto.

Toronto, June 9.—On the joint charge of conspiring to defraud William Mideley Campbell, a local agent of Manning-Chambers, of a number of automobile drawings, Charles Preston, Arthur J. Greenaway, Julius Holtenberg and John Atkinson, an attorney, all of Detroit, were placed under arrest Wednesday night.

The four men were apprehended in an apartment-house. Atkinson arrived here yesterday. According to complainant some time ago he entered into an agreement with Preston, Greenaway and Holtenberg to establish a subsidiary works in Toronto. Subsequently Campbell secured a provincial charter under the name of "The Motors Limited," and arranged the erection of the structure. Under the terms of the agreement, Preston was to be selling agent, Greenaway the factory superintendent, Holtenberg a special automobile designer and Atkinson the attorney for the new concern. They also contemplated opening a branch in Detroit.

Campbell says he put $1,000 into the new concern. He told the detectives he was called to a down-town hotel by Atkinson yesterday and while away Greenaway, Holtenberg and Preston called at his office and secured possession of his drawings. Detectives Newton, Wallace, Armstrong, McKinney and Twigg were detailed on the case and upon their arrival at the apartment building they found a taxicab waiting to convey Holtenberg and Atkinson to the union station to catch a midnight train for Detroit. The detectives made a search of the apartments occupied by the men and found the drawings which Campbell claims are his property. At the Court street police station, bail was fixed in one surety of $500 each.

COLONEL ROOSEVELT
MADE A BIG HIT*Ex-President Popular Throughout England Despite His

London, June 9.—Theodore Roosevelt's visit to England, ending tomorrow morning, though unfortunately coinciding with the period of national mourning, and for that reason shorn of much of the splendor which would have accompanied it under happier circumstances, was, nevertheless, one of the most noteworthy visits of a foreigner paid to Great Britain's shores in recent years.

No foreign ruler or man of eminence could have aroused more universal attention, received a warmer welcome or achieved a greater popularity among every class of society. It is true that his strictures on Egyptian affairs occasioned political resentment, but he left no rancor behind because he was regarded as a privileged guest, in whom no unworthy or unfriendly motive could be suspected, and the frankness of his utterances is taken as a measure of the strength of the friendship binding the two nations.

Col. Roosevelt deprived Londoners of the opportunity of giving him a send-off. Before the people were aware of his intention he had quietly left the city, not half a dozen people knowing the time or the manner of his departure.

It appears that the colonel complained that he had not had time to see a hundredth part of the country. He particularly wanted to walk through a typical English countryside. Accordingly, Sir Edward Grey, the foreign secretary, gave him a friendly challenge to tramp through New Forest, a picturesque and romantic spot near Southampton, full of geological antiquities.

Sir Edward is deeply interested in bird study, and the two started today on a long tramp through the woods. It is believed that the expedition will be extended into the night, and that they will spend the night at an inn, motoring into Southampton in the morning, where Mr. Roosevelt will meet his wife and family.

RAIN IN MANITOBA
WORTH MILLIONS*Phenomenal Growth Is Now Expected
—Confidence Displaces Feeling of Uncertainty.

Brandon, Man., June 9.—The heaviest rain of years fell yesterday and today throughout the Brandon district, and the farmers declare that the moisture is worth millions to Western Manitoba. With the recuperative qualities of the rich soil, rain will in a day or two make such a welcome change in conditions as was not dreamed of a few days ago. Nothing can impede the phenomenal growth that must result.

A feeling of confidence in every line is evident, and the marked uncertainty of a few days ago has disappeared.

ENERGY OF NIAGARA
FOR WINDSOR CITY*And Likely To Be Imported by Electrical Distributing Company of Detroit.

Detroit, June 10.—The Detroit Free Press says:

Adam Beck, chairman of the Ontario hydro-electric commission, approves the proposed agreement between Windsor City Council and the Electrical Distributing Company, Limited, for the importation of Niagara power to Detroit. Immediately following the offer from the distributing company, Mayor Hanna, Ald. J. H. Shepherd and Ald. J. E. Banwell went to London, Ont., to lay the matter before Mr. Beck, returning yesterday with the information that the chairman of the power commission indorses the arrangement.

More than that, Windsorites have the assurance that the members of the Ontario commission, appointed by the Government to act for the people of the province, will safeguard the interests of Windsor in every possible way. Any contract entered into between the city and the distributing company must meet with the approval of the commission before it becomes effective.

For the Government commission the proposed agreement means the solution of the hydro-electric problem in Western Ontario. It means cheaper power throughout Ontario as well. If the agreement is adopted there will be a reduction of from 50 cents to $1 per horsepower in the cost of electrical energy from London to Toronto.

Windsor may expect to secure power more cheaply than other cities in the western peninsula of Ontario, and quite as cheaply as London. According to an estimate made by Mr. Beck, electricity for house lighting under the Niagara power scheme will cost only about one-fifth as much as it costs at present. There will be a proportionate reduction in the cost of power for manufacturing concerns, and the city will be able to install three times as many street lights at a fraction of the present cost.

DEAD TRUST KING
BLAMED FOR FRAUDS*Havemeyer Held by Heike's Counsel
To Be Man "Higher Up."

New York, June 9.—At the end of another day of summing up in the trial of Charles R. Heike and the other defendants in the sugar fraud cases, the jury that has been listening to the case for over four weeks voted eight to four in favor of waiting until tomorrow before retiring for a verdict.

John B. Stanchfield, in his summing up for Heike, said that a prison sentence would mean the grave for him. He is 65 years of age. Blame for the sugar frauds was practically placed upon H. O. Havemeyer by Mr. Stanchfield.

"Mr. Stanchfield," he said, "wants to convict this man so that Mr. Wick-ersham can tell the public that he has caught the man higher up. But let us see if Heike is that man. He did not own a dollar of stock or securities. He was a salaried employee. Who runs corporations? The board of directors. Who is president. He is the responsible man and has supreme control."

Heike, Mr. Stanchfield said, was only a registrar. In asking the jury at the end of his address to acquit Heike, Mr. Stanchfield turned to where his two daughters sat, and said that they sat like two fluttering birds, unaware of the meaning of the charges brought against their old and honored father, and anxious only to see him absolved of them.

Mr. Stanchfield, who closed the two days' oratory for the Government, described Heike as the engineer or chauffeur of the company's system. "He sat with two speedometers," he said, "one showing how the Government was being cheated each month on invoice weight cargoes, and the other showing how it was being cheated on landed weight cargoes. The question is, Did he look at them? He says that he noticed that the differences were greater here than at any other port, and thought that this was due to a system of liberality in weighing on the part of the Government. In some ways that is the most audacious charge a man could bring in. Having prostituted the Government system of weighing in this port, the beneficiaries of it come here, and say that liberality has been translated into liberality."

Mr. Stanchfield insisted that Gerbracht, the superintendent of the refinery, and Bendernagel, the cashier, had known all about the frauds, as shown by the evidence, and had been parties to it.

Moore, Woodstock, second vice-president.

THEOSOPHIST'S "AURA"
IN PORTRAIT OF GIRL*Artist Says It Was There All Right So He Painted
It In.

Los Angeles, June 9.—A portrait of a beautiful girl, painted by an artist with no leaning to occultism, reveals in its details what theosophists term "astral entities." These take forms of dogs' and cats' heads, a cobra, a wolf, a mongoose, a gorilla, a head of an old man with long hair.

Theosophically speaking, the painter subconsciously depicted the sitter's "aura," with its spiritual residents of spectral souls of animals and human beings, who were either endowed with affection for her during their lives or were attached after death by her great affection for wild animals.

Miss Marie Giles, a daughter of the late William Ogden Giles, of New York, who was a grandson of General Aguilera, of revolutionary fame and a cousin of Edgar Saltus, the writer, is the subject of the painting. She is in Los Angeles visiting Mr. Saltus.

Miss Giles wanted her portrait painted, and secured the services of E. Chifford Cowles, the local artist, who studies in Paris under Albert Besnard and J. Ch. Cassin.

Mr. Cowles painted three portraits of Miss Giles, two of which show the supposed spirits of animals, one to a marked degree.

Miss Giles is an ardent Theosophist and a lover of animals. "I wish it distinctly understood," said Mr. Cowles, "that I am not a 'spook' painter, nor have I any knowledge more than in a general way of theosophy nor of the beliefs held by Miss Giles. I painted objects found in the picture in the folds of the dress worn by Miss Giles. I must have painted them without seeing or knowing that I was doing so."

"I blocked out the dress, which is an elaborate court gown, with colors and broad brushes and then worked on the face and figure. As the portrait advanced and I went back to work on the dress I found it possessed all the needed billowy effects of lace, tulle and silk, and that it did not require retouching."

The work was hurriedly done under high pressure, and it seemed to me that I had accurately reproduced the canvas what I saw in the sitter and her gown. All I did was to paint what I saw, but it is evident that I painted without knowing it what I did not physically see. If I observed these things subconsciously I did not know it."

But Miss Giles has a clear idea of the manner of the event. She said: "It seems conclusive to my mind that Mr. Cowles by some exaltation of his senses painted my 'aura' and what was in it."

"I believe I can recognize in this portrait a figure of a dog I once loved named Leo, and of several cats of which I was very fond."

ALGUST IS DATE
FOR RATE ADVANCE*Roads Agree On Time—Will Postpone It If Bill Isn't Passed.

Washington, June 9.—Representatives of the railways east of Chicago and north of the Ohio River, in a conference today, decided that the advanced freight rates should be filed as effective Aug. 1, pending the enactment of the railroad bill now in conference. If the bill should not become a law by Aug. 1 a further postponement of the date will be granted.

The agreement provides that the railroads shall file with the commission supplementary tariffs in postponement of the tariffs which they filed last week. This arrangement is made in compliance with the verbal agreement between the eastern railway presidents and President Taft, and to conform to the provision in the pending railroad bill that the interstate commerce commission shall have authority to suspend general advances in rates pending a determination by the commission of the reasonableness of the proposed increase.

The conference was held at the offices of the commission between Chairman Knapp and Commissioner Clark, of the commission, and representatives of the lines in eastern classification territory.

The railroad officials expressed a desire to expedite consideration of the rate increases in every way possible. While no agreement was made by the commission it was agreed that a final determination of the reasonableness of the rates filed necessarily would consume many months.

It is quite certain that the commission will be unable to begin active consideration of the advances before September, and it is deemed probable that it will require the greater part of next fall and winter fully to pass on all phases of the rates now on file.

The understanding is that, prior to the enactment of the pending railroad bill, no additional freight rates will be filed by the eastern railroads.

SURRENDERS AN ISLANDUncle Sam Gets "Pope's Folly" and Canada Fishing Concessions.

Ottawa, June 10.—All boundary disputes are now settled between Canada and the United States.

A tiny bit of an island called "Pope's Folly," and lying in Passamaquoddy Bay, close to the boundary of Maine, is now part of the United States, and on the other hand Canada is granted certain valuable fishing rights.

The Government here has served official intimation of the settlement through Ambassador Bryce, at Washington.

"Pope's Folly" is just a bit of rock about an acre in extent projecting out of the sea water. The waves almost wash over it, when there is a gale, but on it for years there has lived a solitary old man, who was—until today—neither American or Canadian. On the rocky top of the island he had a rough wooden dwelling, a few chickens, a pig, and a boat.

It seems that there were once two pigs, but one being of an explosive turn of mind, fell into the sea and perished. The owner of the pig lives by fishing.

R. J. Young & Co.THIS STORE IS THE HOME OF HART SCHAFFNER & MARX CLOTHES.
LONDON EAST. LONDON. WOODSTOCK.IT DRAGS YOU SLOWLY DOWN

It's hard to keep an even temper with a dull pain nagging all day at your back; in fact, kidney troubles are at the bottom of very much of the nervousness and irritability that are so common today. You wonder why you are short and cross, can't keep your mind on one thing, are inclined to worry over trifles, and subject to fits of "blues" and despondency. Partly it is due to that pain in your back, partly to the irritating effect of uric acid on your brain and nerves.

Uric acid is a poison that is always forming in the body, and it is the duty of the kidneys to filter it out of the blood and urine. Healthy kidneys do this work thoroughly and well, but weak or sick kidneys get behind, and the waste matter collects here and there in the muscles, joints and nerve centres. Headache, dizzy spells, rheumatism, neuralgia, blurry spots before the eyes, nervousness and heart trouble, are signs of uric poisoning.

So do not wonder at your condition, especially if the urine does not look or pass naturally. And if your back aches continually, or you are taken with sharp cricks and stitches of pain, it is sure that your kidneys are out of order and need prompt attention, for sick kidneys cannot right themselves without help.

Booth's Kidney Pills are especially for the kidneys. They relieve the kidneys and the blood, set the filtering system in perfect operation. Fifty thousand persons publicly recommend Booth's Kidney Pills. Here's a case right at home:

London Testimony.

Mrs. Kate Noutly, 363 Hill street, London, Ont., says: "For a good general tonic to the entire system and cure for a lame back and soreness of the limbs, joints and muscles, I used Booth's Kidney Pills procured at Cairncross & Lawrence's drug store. This remedy performed its part nobly, and gave me strength, plenty of good red blood, and freed me from aches and pains. I am perfectly willing to indorse the use of a remedy that cures like Booth's Kidney Pills."

"O. HENRY" SERVED
TERM IN PRISON

Sidney Porter, Writer, Violated Banking Laws at Houston, Texas.

Columbus, O., June 10.—That William Sidney Porter, known under the pen name of "O. Henry," was a convict for three years in the Ohio penitentiary and that he served his term under federal statutes and was an excellent prisoner, are facts which have come to light since his recent death. Porter was a convict from the western district of Texas. His crime was a violation of the banking laws at Houston, Texas, where it is said that he went into business as a banker and subsequently failed. However, this latter part cannot be stated for a certainty.

Throughout his service in the penitentiary he was a good-natured, jolly fellow, brilliant, and was at that time engaged in writing the stories which later brought him a world-wide fame. Porter entered the penitentiary in April, 1898.

Porter was registered as a newspaper writer and druggist. While here Porter wrote much. He told a friend that he made easily
