WHY NOT PAYING MORE FOR your Lithographing and Printing than we charge you are paying too much. If you are paying less than we sell at you are not obtaining as good a quality. The London Printing & Lithographing Co. (Ltd.).

A MOST ACCEPTABLE PRESENT TO send to your friends—A copy of "Illustrated London," containing a concise history of London from the pioneer period to the present day, a complete and up-to-date directory of London, and a very beautiful appearance did she present, clad in the harvest garb which willing hands wove for her. The screen was fine, and reflected great credit on those who assisted in the decorations. In response to an appeal, the offertory was considerably over one hundred and sixty dollars, while at Bellevue it was close on thirty dollars. The choir rendered appropriate hymns and anthems very acceptably.

I bought one of Tackberry & Co.'s new style of trunk. It's a dandy. x

CITY NEWS.

Several hundred Londoners took advantage of the excursion rates to Port Stanley yesterday.

P. C. Howie will be tried by Judge Edward Elliott on Friday on the charge of assaulting and wounding Robert Devine.

Misses Allie H. and Minnie I. Dewar, of 57 Whitcliffe Road, arrived home yesterday after a lengthened sojourn in Omaha and Chicago.

Mr. Chas. Welford, of Chicago, arrived here yesterday on a vacation. He looks exceedingly well, and has quite recovered from his recent serious illness.

Messrs. James Granger, of Rowat, McMahon & Granger, and H. G. Callamore, of W. J. Reid & Co., of this city, are on their annual fall trip to the Manitoulin Island and Sault Ste. Marie.

The dog poisoner was abroad in the north-eastern part of the city Tuesday night and as a result of his visit four canines were found poisoned in the neighborhood of William street and Dufferin avenue this morning.

Mr. John Guest and Mr. Robert Hobbs left on the tourists' excursion to Manitoba Tuesday morning. They intend visiting the mining and ranching districts and also "doing" many of the cities and large towns of the West.

Mr. Walter Crinklaw, of Colon, Neb., has returned home after spending a few days recently with his wife and visiting friends in this city and Westminster. Mr. Crinklaw is a native of Westminster, and lived in this city for several years. He was one of the first residents of South London.

Judge Edward Elliott has quashed the conviction of Reeve Brathwaite, of Lucan, on the charge of procuring liquor at a Lucan hotel during prohibited hours. The conviction was made recently by Judge by Judge Lacey, who fined Brathwaite $2 and costs. The appeal was not opposed.

London poultry fanciers shipped several hundred birds to the Toronto Fair last night. They will attend the annual meeting of the Ontario Poultry Association next week at which the appointment of a successor to Mr. T. A. Browne, secretary, of this city, will be considered. An effort is being made to induce Mr. Browne to retain the position.

Mr. Cy. Warman, the popular poet-author, has just returned from a visit to Dawson City. By arrangement with Mr. McCreary, he is to write a book on the Yukon country.

Mr. Warman speaks in glowing terms of the peace and order prevailing in Dawson, due chiefly to the effective police administration, and is enraptured with the scenic beauties of Athabasca, which he also visited.

The drugists of the city had their annual picnic at Port Stanley yesterday, and a large number went to the lakeside. The train left at 10.15, and on arrival at Port a good programme of sports was begun. The committee in charge of the picnic comprised Messrs. James Mattinson, L. T. Lawrence, N. W. Emerson, L. J. McDermott, D. W. Sutherland, M. T. Nelles, H. J. Childs and E. Munroe.

Mrs. Traill, who died at Lakefield on Tuesday, was the oldest British author or authoress living, and her claims as a writer were well known to the British Government, and would probably have been recognized suitably. She was a sister of the late Col. Strickland, of Lakefield, and of Mrs. Mouldie, of Belleville, and Agnes Strickland, all deceased, who were all noted as gifted writers. Mrs. Traill was grand-aunt of Mrs. D. Campbell Macdonald, Kent street, city.

One or two insurances appeared in the account of the unfortunate drowning of young Gordon Andrus at Southampton. It seems that an elder brother had reached a raft and was looking about for it, when Gordon, who was on the beach, beckoned to him to bring it ashore so that he might get on board. The latter appears to have waded out towards the raft into deeper water than he expected and the receding waves bore him off his feet into the undertow. He could not swim, and before the brother on the raft could reach him the body had disappeared.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrus were not eye-witnesses of the affair and were not made acquainted with the facts until some minutes afterwards.

A number of worthless loafers have been out of late of late utilizing the sitting rooms of the Ontario House, King street, without the sanction of the new proprietor, Mr. Harry Ross.

Tuesday afternoon he undertook "flea-baiting" and effectually disposed of two or three of his self-inflicted guests. One named Lake, a convicted chicken stealer, refused to leave when advised, and was ejected by the owner. A third offender made his escape by a back window, and the prospect is that Mr. Ross will not be bothered with the trio for some time to come.

Pain in the side nearly always comes from a disordered liver, and is promptly cured by Dr. Ross's Little Liver Pills. Don't forget this.

DISTRICT NEWS.

Major Rothwell, of Detroit, has purchased the British-American Hotel at Windsor from T. W. McKee. It is since rector, Rev. C. L. Mills, exchanged was about $5,500. The new proprietor will take possession Monday.

A young child of Jacob Musko-vitch, 25 Mercer street, Windsor, was Tuesday afternoon seriously burned by the child's father, who was exchanging pulpit with Rev. G. Abey, of Brussels, who preached appropriate sermons. The church was tastefully decorated with a canopy sheaf of flowers, and a very beautiful appearance did she present, clad in the harvest garb which willing hands wove for her. The screen was fine, and reflected great credit on those who assisted in the decorations. In response to an appeal, the offertory was considerably over one hundred and sixty dollars, while at Bellevue it was close on thirty dollars. The choir rendered appropriate hymns and anthems very acceptably.

JAMES ROGERS ADMITS MANY OFFENSES.

Did Not Appear at All Concerned as He Stood Before the Police Magistrate and Acknowledged Being One of the Worst Thieves Ever Caught in London—Remanded For Sentence—List of the Goods He Admitted Stealing—How at the Police Station Awaiting Claimants.

James Rogers, of Woodward avenue, West London, stood before Magistrate Parke in the police court yesterday and acknowledged that during the past fourteen months he had committed no less than two burglaries and nine thefts in the city. Rogers is the gardener in whose house an immense quantity of goods belonging to other people was found on Tuesday morning by Detectives Nickle and Rider. He is about 45 years of age, tall, with brown moustache and closely-trimmed side whiskers, and of very respectable appearance. Hitherto he has borne an excellent reputation, and was never suspected of any wrongdoing until the police discovered that he had recently disposed of a set of harness stolen from Joseph L. Holmes, a West London carpenter. The discovery led up to Rogers' arrest and the location of property stolen as far back as June, 1898, and of which the slightest trace could never be secured.

Rogers did not appear at all concerned when he was confronted with stolen charges. He had consulted with his counsel, Mr. Love, and as each of the charges was read, he merely nodded his head and said "Guilty." All of the parties who had suffered losses at the hands of Rogers were present, prepared to give evidence, but the course of Rogers in admitting his crimes obviated the necessity of their being called.

As Rogers is a most extraordinary one, the Magistrate remanded Rogers until Tuesday next for sentence. Here is a list of the articles which Rogers acknowledged stealing:—Thirty-five dollars' set of harness from Dr. Kingsmill. Lawn mower, oil stove, wringer, kettle, valued at $10, from R. A. Jones, West London. Two easy chairs, valued at $9, from Charles A. Ellis. Brown leather cushion and $35 set of harness from Joseph L. Holmes. Lawn mower, valued at $6, from Talbot Macbeth. Hammock, wire mat, table, small chair and plant, valued at $8, from A. O. Jeffery.

Two rocking chairs, valued at $10, from William Clark. The burglaries were committed at Mrs. (Dr.) Anderson's and R. A. Jones', where Rogers forced an entrance. The harness was taken from stables and the chairs were taken from verandahs.

TRIO OF ACCIDENTS.

ALFRED CORBETT HAS AN ANKLE BROKEN

By Jumping From His Rig—The Horse was Running Away—Corbett May Lose His Foot—R. P. Lezen Collides With a Street Car—Mrs. Garrity Has Her Thigh Fractured.

Mr. Alfred Corbett, an agent for the Singer Sewing Machine Company, received very serious injuries in a runaway accident between 5 and 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon. His left leg was broken at the ankle, and the injury is so severe that it is quite possible the foot may have to be amputated.

Corbett was driving across the King street bridge, en route to the city, when his horse took fright at a new plank and bolted. Corbett endeavored to pull the animal up, and falling in this he applied the whip, which only tended to make the horse more unmanageable. The horse increased its speed, and before it reached the end of the structure, Corbett jumped to save himself. He struck heavily against the railing on the bridge. A number of pedestrians went to his assistance, and had him removed to the Hodgins House, where an examination showed that the left ankle was broken, the
