

THE DAY AT OSBOURNE HALL.

Judgment Reserved by Mr. Winchester on a $100,000 suit.

Mr. Winchester yesterday made an order for the payment of $3 a week interim alimony in the action of Leslie v. Leslie. The defendant is also to pay the plaintiff's disbursements to enable her to go to trial, and the action is to be tried at the June session.

The motion for payment over by Druggist Knowles to John Fletcher of moneys payable to Frank Jackson, contractor for the building of the new hotel at the corner of Yonge and Alexander-streets, was dismissed without costs. Fletcher holds a judgment against Jackson, and garnished the moneys to satisfy the same.

An order was made extending the time for the making of the award till Dec. 2 next in the matter of the arbitration between the city of Toronto and the county of York.

The old suit of Huntington v. Attrill is up before the courts again in another form. The action was brought by Collis P. Huntington, the railway magnate, against Henry T. Attrill, in New York State, for penalties for irregularities in connection with a joint stock company, of which the defendant was a director. Judgment was given in favor of the plaintiff for $100,000, and, the defendant residing in Ontario, an action was brought in our courts to realize on this judgment. Mr. Justice Giesbrecht tried the case and dismissed the action. The plaintiff appealed to the Court of Appeal, but that court was evenly divided. The plaintiff then appealed to the Privy Council, which court heard argument and reserved judgment. When the council was ready to deliver judgment it was shown that the defendant had died since the argument of the case, and the council refused to deliver formal judgment till the action was revived, but intimated that the judgment was in favor of the plaintiff. The plaintiff made a motion to the court here for the appointment of an administrator ad litem, but the motion was enlarged.

Letters of administration were being granted in the Surrogate Court. As soon as the letters were granted the plaintiff took out a process order reviving the action.

This order Mr. Winchester yesterday was asked to set aside on the ground that the cause of action died with the defendant and could not be revived against his estate.

Judgment was reserved. It is likely that this point will also go to the highest court by way of appeal.

A motion was made for immediate judgment in the action of John J. Eaton against J. H. New & Co. of Coburn-street, but was refused. On March 9, 1888, these parties entered into a partnership agreement, and under this agreement the plaintiff claims some $4000. Mr. Winchester decided the action was one which would have to go to trial.

A Celebration Suggestion.

Editor World: Your paper seems to be always open to good suggestions. As I think I have one, I herewith present it.

You remember what a beautiful effect was produced by the lighting up of Jarvis-street at the time of the "Carnival." The great drawback on that occasion was the contracted space. At the points where the hands were placed, a block occurred, and the spectators could not "retrograde." My suggestion is that on the evening of Dominion Day the Queen's Park be turned into Fairland. Request the Ontario Government to light up (illuminate rather) the new Parliament Building. Perhaps the University Senate might desire to take part in the celebration and illuminate their magnificent building. No doubt the private owners surrounding the park would be just as ready to adorn their premises as were the residents of Jarvis-street. Let the trees in the park be numbered, and grant the right to decorate a tree for say $1, and offer a dozen prizes for that number of trees most artistically decorated. Good taste would count on a small tree as well on a large one. Or, the park might be divided into six parts, and one part allotted to each of the city's wards to adorn. A rivalry might be created that would produce some marvelous effects. Let the band stand and two or three other parts where bands would play be made a blaze of light. The sale of the right to decorate trees would provide the prize money and pay the electric light companies for stringing wires and providing light.

The locality is central, the space is ample to allow thousands to move freely, the music can be heard, and, if the night should happen to be fine, the sight would be one to be remembered.

If you think there is anything in this idea let the people have it. It may produce a hundred others as good or better.

J. CANADENSEN.

"Straining at a Gnat and Swallowing a Camel."

Editor World: Your correspondent, W.B.H., is terribly excited over the sacred concert at the Metropolitan Church, partly or principally on account of the "reserved seats," "plan on exhibition," "popular prices," etc., and in his indignation and horror asks: "Is not this sacrilege?" He further says: "Alleged reasons are urged, such as, 'The church is in debt and must be released,' etc. I confess I sympathize with W.B.H. in much that he says, but how insignificant the cause of his complaint about 'reserved seats' on one week evening in a hundred when there are 'reserved seats' every Sabbath in the shape of the iniquitous and anti-Christian system of pew-renting which prevails, and that not always at 'popular prices.' Please, Mr. W.B.H., turn your guns on this most devilish custom of modern churchdom, or at least, you should blind to this gigantic evil!" W.L.M. Toronto, June 7.

University College Alumni Association.

In another column will be found a notice of a meeting of the Alumni Association of University College to be held on Friday evening, June 10, at 8, in the biological building, Queen's Park. The graduating year will take part in the program, and it is hoped that this will be the beginning of a revival of cordiality and goodwill among the graduates of Toronto University.

A number of topics of interest to all University men will be discussed, and no doubt there will be a large gathering from all parts of the country. A hearty welcome is extended to all staunch friends of the arts faculty to rally round the University in this critical moment in her history.

Working On Sunday.

Louis Goldsmith, a cigar manufacturer, was fined $5 and costs or 30 days for permitting his employees to work on Sunday. Goldsmith defended himself by stating that his employees were Jews, who did not work on Saturday and could not make enough by working five days a week to keep them.

Henry Cohen, a tailor, was fined $1 and costs for the same offense. He pleaded that he had a great deal of work on hand, but the excuse was not considered sufficient by the Magistrate, and Cohen had to pay.

James Cullen, Pool's Island, N.F., writes: "I have been watching the progress of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil since its introduction into the market, and with much pleasure state that my anticipation of its success have been fully realized. Having cured me of bronchitis and soreness of chest while not a few of my friends have been brought before the public. Your medicine does not require any longer a sponsor, but if you wish me to act as such, I shall be only too happy to have my name connected with your prosperous child."

Physical Culture Entertainment.

Physical culture for girls has become a prominent feature of modern education, and on Friday next an entertainment illustrating the perfection to which this art has attained will be given in Horticultural Pavilion. One hundred girls in four parts sang under the direction of Mr. Perrin and 150 girls in physical culture and light gymnastics under the direction of Miss E. L. Thompson are features of the program.

Toronto's Trade for May.

According to a report prepared by Secretary Willis of the Board of Trade the total value of imports at the port of Toronto during May aggregated $1,437,895, compared with $1,411,703 the same month a year ago. The duty paid was $278,425 and $284,387 respectively. The total value of exports last month was $218,888, against $229,906 for May, 1891.

ONTARIO'S PIONEERS.

Interesting Historical Papers Read-The Centennial Celebration.

Two papers were read at yesterday's meeting of the York Pioneers, which was held in the Canadian Institute under the presidency of Dr. Souding. The first paper, which was written by the president, and read by D. B. Read, Q.C., dealt with the mesquite proclamation issued on July 16, 1792, by Lieutenant-Governor Simcoe, by which the province of Upper Canada was divided into counties, being the commencement of the history of what is now the Province of Ontario.

Mr. Charles Durand read a well-prepared paper on "The Indians of Ontario," dealing more particularly with the Mississauga Indians and those in the vicinity of Rice Lake and Peterborough county. The paper was full of interesting information. Mr. Durand exhibited a stone knife, a pipe, and a flint arrow head, which he obtained from the Indian agent at Rice Lake.

Dr. Shown-Gillen of the Public Board and Mrs. Henry of Cleveland were introduced by Mr. Durand. He addressed the pioneers, briefly, their appreciation of the society's aim.

Captain Jessopp reported that he had to Niagara as representative of the Central Committee for the purpose of making arrangements for the celebration and had been very favorably received. The meeting then adjourned to meet again next Tuesday.

The Trolley Pole.

Citizens are now afforded an opportunity of arriving at a proper conception of what the trolley pole will look like on the streets of this city. The Street Railway Company have erected two trolley wire poles at the corner of Front and Jarvis-streets, near the City Hall for public inspection. They are of wood, and of a plain design and painted dark green.

To Hurry the Government.

Ald. Score left last night for Ottawa, where he will urge upon the Government the necessity of hastening the transfer of the Garrison Common so that the improvements may be completed before the Exhibition.

The Exhibition Board intend to set different gangs of men at work on the grand stand so that by working night and day the improvements may be completed.

August Flower.

For two years I suffered terribly with stomach trouble, and was for all that time under treatment by a physician. He finally, after trying everything, said stomach was about worn out, and that I would have to cease eating solid food for a time at least. I was so weak that I could not work. Finally on the recommendation of a friend who had used your preparations

A worn-out with beneficial results, I procured a bottle of August Flower, and commenced using it. It seemed to do me good at once. I gained in strength and flesh rapidly; my appetite became good, and I suffered no bad effects from what I ate. I feel now like a new man, and consider that August Flower has cured me of Dyspepsia in its worst form. JAMES E. DEDRICK, Saugerties, New York.

W. B. Utsey, St. George's, S. C., writes: I have used your August Flower for Dyspepsia and find it an excellent remedy.
