

JAMES DE MILLE'S WORKS.

---

A CASTLE IN SPAIN. A Novel. Illustrated. 8vo, Paper, 50 cents; Cloth, $1 00.

The characters are vividly drawn, and the story is well told in chaste and elegant language, and with much humor.—Christian Intelligencer, N. Y.
Mr. De Mille's style is clever, easy, and very agreeable.—Whitehall Review, London.

CORD AND CREESE; OR, THE BRANDON MYSTERY. A Novel. Illustrated: 8vo, Paper, 60 cents.

Is such a striking work of fiction that we are inclined to rank it only a little below Dumas's "Monte Christo." The author, it may be safely predicted, is bound to win great celebrity as a novelist, for he not only draws and develops character, but his constructive power is also very great.—Philadelphia Press.

THE AMERICAN BARON. A Novel. Illustrated. 8vo, Paper, 50 cents.

One of the most provoking novels we have ever read, but the provocation is of that agreeable kind that leads one from chapter to chapter.—N. Y. Evening Mail.

THE CRYPTOGRAM. A Novel. Illustrated. 8vo, Paper, 75 cents.

Readers who come to this book with fresh recollections of the skillfully constructed narrative of "Cord and Creese," or other fictions from Mr. De Mille's facile pen, will not be disappointed. The cipher-writing, or cryptogram, that forms the centre around which the incidents of the story are grouped is quite as fascinating a puzzle as Wilkie Collins's "Moonstone" or the sea-buried manuscript of "Cord and Creese." From beginning to end of the volume the interest never flags; and the most exacting reader will find enough of dramatic surprises, startling incidents, and varied scenes and characters to satisfy him.—N. Y. Times.

THE DODGE CLUB; OR, ITALY IN MDCCLXIX. Illustrated. 8vo, Paper, 60 cents; Cloth, $1 10.

You cannot well resist his rollicking fun, gay good-humor, comical exaggerations, and burlesque portraits.—Charleston Courier.
Clever and funny.—Nation, N. Y.
Brilliant, eccentric, amusing. Full of humor and cleverness.—Independent, N. Y.

THE LIVING LINK. A Novel. Illustrated. 8vo, Paper, 60 cents; Cloth, $1 10.

Is highly entertaining, and will no doubt find plenty of delighted readers.—Portland Advertiser.
A novel of thrilling interest, and well sustained.—Presbyterian, Philadelphia.

---

PUBLISHED BY HARPER & BROTHERS, NEW YORK.

Any of the above works sent by mail, postage prepaid, to any part of the United States or Canada, on receipt of the price.