London, April 9 .- Parnell, at Birmingham, yesterday, said he would consult his colleagues and give the Leagues his view of the Land Bill in his speech at Cork on Sunday. Though the bill fell far short of the abolition of landlordism, he would, he said, welcome any amelioration for the lot of the tenant

CORE, April 9.—Parnell at a banquet here this evening traced the history of the Land League. He denounced the desertion of seventeen members from the Irish party as the cause of the Coercion Bill. The first portion of the Land Bill, he said, was full of which he declared wrs a scheme for clearing out small tenants, whose courage and sacrifices had brought the question to a point no British Ministry could any longer overlook. Any bill that did not largely reduce rents would and ought to fail to satisfy tenants. Parnell, addressing the people afterwards from a hotel, warned them against thinking the battle was won, and said it was only just commenced.

DOUBTFUL POINTS AND PIT-FALLS, and he defied anybody to tell accurately how it would work. It would be the duty of Irish members to improve the bill as far as possible in its passage through the House, and see that its workings would be as advantageous as possible to the tenants. The second portion of the bill was by for the most important. He looked thereto for very important results, but believed the compulsory expropriation of bad landlords would be a far easier and more effective method of protecting tenants. He strongly

DUBLIN, April 10 .- A great land meeting was held at Cork to-day, at which Mr. Parnell declared that occupiers of the soil in Ireland were nearer victory than ever before, and that he believed that in two years they would till free land, and then have the right to take their own lands.

LONDON, April 10.-A Dublin correspondent writes that the Irish people appear to defer their judgment on Gladstone's Bill till Parnell speaks at Cork on Monday. It is no exaggeration to say that among those who of invigorating elements with a pulmonic of really wish well to the farmers of Ireland,

PARNELL'S UTTERANCES are looked forward to with greater interest and anxiety than any speech he delivered since the agitation began. It cannot be denied that the bill comes before Ireland at a time when she is neither in a spirit or temper to give it a calm and unbiassed consideration. From the condition of apparent tranquility, the week has plunged the great sections of the country into a state of excitement described as little short of civil war. Law and order, which seemed about to resume their sway, have received a rude shock. The excitment dates from the recent attack on the police escorting a process-server near Ballaghdereen. When Sergeant Armstrong fired the first shot which killed the peasant he was

FELLED TO THE GROUND BY A STONE, and after his comrades were beaten off the wounded man was treated in a most horribte manner. His head was beaten to a jelly. How the man survived four days is a mystery. It is feared the occurrence will put an end to the forbearance of the Constabulary, among whom the affair already forms evil results. The death of Armstrong has been made the subject of a demons ration almost unequalled in the history of Ireland. The country for miles around is lit up by bonfires from Ballaghdereen to French Park, and from Clogher to Lough Glyn, and the whole population has turned out to celebrate the occurrence. The authorities are doing all they can | Thursday night until Tuesday morning.

Dublin, April 9 .- At the Limerick Station, would certainly have fared badly had not the danger. The whole affair was unpremeditated. The crowd waiting there was under the impression that Miss Parnell was to pass the station, but the incident shows sufficiently the spirit of

DARING AND RECKLESSNESS among the people how a trivial incident may lead to most deplorable results. All these affrays sprung directly from serving processes, which are being applied for and obtained by the thousand at the various Quarter Sessions now being held throughout the country. In a few weeks evictions, unless they are stayed by the retrospective action of Gladstone's Bill, must follow, and we may then look for a repetition of the scenes so familiar in Ire-

The result is not likely to be very satisfactory to the authorities. Parnell remarks :- "I think the measure on the whole will lead to very remarkable results-that is, if our people maintain their organization and are assisted, as up to the present, by the sympathy and practical help of America. I trust in a few years it will lead to the abolition of landlordism and the prosperity of our country."

The Irish Catholic Bishops meet on Tuesday to consider the Land Bill and determine on some course of united action.

A meeting is convoked by Archbishop McCabe, and it is assumed he must have been especially empowered by the Pope. This would indicate that the Holy See is determined to throw in its influence with the moderate section of the hierarchy.

Dublin, April 11 .- Mr. Finnegan, M.P., Liberal and advanced Nationalist, in a speech to his constituents at Ennis to-day, gave great credit to Gladstone for the Land Bill. Mr. Dillon, at a meeting near Neagh, Tipperary County, to-day, condemned the Land Bill as incomplete and complicated, and

WHAT THE CONSUMPTIVE NEEDS is a medicine which not only relieves irritation of the lungs, but makes up those losses of strength always entailed by lung disease. Recovery can never be hoped for so long as the vital current remains watery and impoverished, the nervous system weak and unquiet. It is the unison acknowledged potency that gives Northrop & Lyman,s Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda such a decided pre-eminence over the generality of preparations designed to overcome lung, throat and brouchial affections. The hypophosphites furnish the system with the most important constituents of clood, muscle and nervous tissue, and the highly prepared oil derived from the cod's liver acts as a subjugator of throat and lung irritation. WEEKLY REVIEW - WHOLESALE MARKETS.

A fair business is being done for the season and preparations of all kinds are being pushed forward prior to the opening of navigation and the resumption of the summer trade. In anticipation of a greatly improved business, stocks have taken a new lease of strength and scored a marked advance since our last, and that in spite of the most determined efforts on the part of the "bears" who have been de-claring that the market is "toppish" and "prices too high" for over a month past. That standard monopoly the Grand Trunk Railway Company in spite of its apparent disinterestedness is alleged to be straining every nerve to acquire the Great Western road and protect itselt in some sort from the many dangers which threaten its future. Defeated in its oppositions to the Toronto and Ottawa Railway scheme, and to the Coteau Bridge scheme, which means the line connecting Ottawa with the Boston sea-board, and with the ticket scalping bill thrown out in the House, the Grand Trund management cannot boast of a very brilliant recordifical the Chicago link was acquired. scome any merchants will however glecompetitive railchange which will art city and the West, for way rates betweel advantages possessed by the greater practically ignored by discrin-House of Commons to govern Ireland.
