

The first condition is that the information is relevant to the case.
It is necessary to establish a connection between the information and the case.
This is the first condition.

The second condition is that the information is reliable.
It is necessary to establish the reliability of the information.
This is the second condition.

The third condition is that the information is accurate.
It is necessary to establish the accuracy of the information.
This is the third condition.

The fourth condition is that the information is complete.
It is necessary to establish the completeness of the information.
This is the fourth condition.

Conclusion

The fifth condition is that the information is timely.
It is necessary to establish the
timeliness of the information.
This is the fifth condition.

The sixth condition is that the information is useful.
It is necessary to establish the usefulness of the information.
This is the sixth condition.