

Business of the House

expropriation of land. We hope to be in a position tomorrow or Friday to announce a somewhat more definitive schedule of business for the four days next week.

Mr. Knowles (Winnipeg North Centre): Mr. Speaker, I should like to ask whether this means that the Canadian National financing legislation is not included for this week?

Mr. Macdonald (Rosedale): That will depend on the progress made on the bills I have enumerated. The ones I have referred to will be in a position of priority. If we succeed in giving second reading to them, the Canadian National financing legislation will be included.

Mr. Knowles (Winnipeg North Centre): I asked this question, Mr. Speaker, in order to ascertain whether the minister had changed the order slightly from that announced last night.

Mr. Macdonald (Rosedale): If we make progress, it is very likely that the Canadian National financing legislation will come before the House on Monday.

Mr. Speaker: Pursuant to standing order this House stands adjourned until two o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

At six o'clock the House adjourned, without question put, pursuant to standing order.
