Successful Conference: Speaking of the conference, he said that in Japan there had been three Methodist churches — the Canadian Methodist, the Methodist Episcopal Church of the United States and the Methodist Episcopal South. Each of these parent churches appointed five commissioners to deal with the question of the union of the church. Several weeks of discussion and work were undertaken to reach a satisfactory conclusion. A discipline was framwere undertaken to reach a satisfactory conclusion. A discipline was framed, and a polity agreed on. This polity of necessity was a compromise affair. Some features will remain Canadian and some American.
