was part of the naif that Sullivan received. Sullivan and I divide the $3000 tinto $1500 each, and I then received out of his $1500 a loan of $1200, for which I gave an I.O.U. There were the one-hundreds and the rest was in fifties. I put nine one-hundreds of that into the Ontario Bank, and put the other one-hundred and the fifties into Hurst & McKim's Bank at Gore Bay. Then the $9000 came from Sullivan? -Yes, part of the $1500, 21 looked upon it as a loan.
You did not speak about that?-I looked upon it as a loan.
You did not speak about tha $500 to any of January?
Yes. - I produced that in the court. Did you give Mr. Sullivan a receipt for this? - I gave him an LO.U.

ber of the government, directly or in-directly, was connected with it. He never knew of Gamey being in the Parliament Buildings, of his writing a letter to the government, or of his speaking to the government or to Sul-livan in any way. He and Gamey were associated together for making money out of the different deals spo-ken of, having had business before of that kind. The phrase once used by him, that Gamey "had been treated better than expected," referred to Alex. Smith having said Gamey would have the whole, not half, of the pat-ronage. aonveaker.

Didn't Know Smith's Position. Cross - examined by Mr. Blake, wit-ness was not sure whether it was in July or August he had seen Gamey prior to writing the letter of Aug. 16, and had first talked of franchises and patronage. He had had two or three talks with Alex. Smith concerning the matter. He had gone to Smith be-cause "I thought he was connected with the Reform party." He did not know it officially; only thru the papers. Smith's promise of all the patronage was following the ordinary rule, "I think he said Beatty of Parry Sound had it." He had discussed the protest with Gamey before Aug. 16. Out for No. 1. "In making an arrangement with Mr. Cross - examined by Mr. Blake, wit-

"In making an arrangement with Mr. Gamey, you thought that he, as a member, would be able to control some interest you would be able to control some matters you would be able to turn into money?" pressed Mr. Blake. "I thought that he would be a friend, and good, and I would be benefited by him being there, and he was a relative, and I wanted to benefit him and tive, and I wanted to benefit him and myself," was the reply. "Therefore, as you put it, you wanted to be bene-volent, first, to D. A. Jones, and then to R. R. Gamey, a not unusual class of benevolence in this world?" — "I suppose I wanted to make a little my-self, legitimately." Could "Pick Up Thousands." He had had no mining deal with

He had had no mining deal with Gamey since 1898. He concurred in Mr. Blake's suggestion that the time he used the term, "acting manager," referring to Smith, the Premier was in England. Said He Wasn't There

Lachlan Galbraith, farmer, of Camp-ell Township, said that in going to he Providence Bay meeting on May 3 the T he had met W. J. Berry two miles in March 10 or 11 last in argument with Berry at the local grocery store, Berry had referred to this meeting and things he said Gamey had spoken of. When Galbraith said otherwise, Berry had said he wasn't at the meeting, and knew only from hearsay. Berry testified before the Commission to having been at the meeting. The Chancellor announced that all oral testimony must be in to-day. The commission adjourned until 10 o'clock this morning. Argument commences on Thursday next.
