Friday Evening, Nov. 12. A good all-round firmness has been for some days now, and there was no let up during to-day's session. Trad- Toronto Stock Exchange ing was only moderately active, while there were few price changes of im- Beaver Consolidated Mines .

The strong spots manifested yesterday were continued, Gifford being quoted around 24 cents, with little stock coming out at that figure. The company having a low capitalization, the shares respond easily to any builtish news and further advances might prove easy to accomplish, should the find reported turn out a valuable one. The shares eased off somewhat late in the day on profit-taking and closed a point below the top figures.

Otisse remained firm around 23. The fact that the law suit in which the company is interested comes before the court next week will clear the The strong spots manifested yester-

COBALTS, Etc. COWGANDA KING SILVER MINES, LIMITED

AUTHORIZED CAPITAL $500,000 Par Value of Shares - $1.00 $250,000 In Treasury

This Company has issued 250,000 shares of stock. They have no debts. They are operating in the Lost Lake Mining District, one of the best mineralized in the Montreal River country. This Company is negotiating for the purchase of three more properties, adjoining the Lost Lake group, without any increase in the capitalization of the Company, which will very naturally increase the value of the Company's holdings. The directors are men of the highest standing. The business is being conducted in an honest, straightforward manner, and we feel certain that investors in this stock at 30c per share will make many times their investment, as well as securing substantial returns in dividends. This week an adjoining property to the Gowganda King Silver Mining Company's sold for $30,000. At this valuation the present holdings of the Gowganda Silver Mining Company would be worth $180,000, so, valuing the whole capitalization of the Company at 30c per share, would only be $150,000. Is this not a ground-floor proposition? These are the kind of investments that will make you money. For further particulars apply to
