Speculation Regarding Movements of Vladivostok Squadron --- Russians Repulsed in Small Land Engagement --- Japan Says France Must Make Explanation.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 12.—The admiralty declines to divulge any information which is now the property of the Vladivostok division which are reported to be off the coast of Japan, but the impression prevails in naval circles that setting under the instructions of Vice-Admiral Rojstvenky, they have passed through the Tsuruga Straits into the Pacific on a reconnaissance to ascertain if the passage is free of mines and feasible for Rojstvenky's squadron, and also to threaten Japanese commerce.

Japs on the Move. Godeyadana, May 11.—A movement of the Japanese has been observed on both flanks to the westward, mainly small bodies of cavalry and Chinese bands, evidently endeavoring to ascertain the Russian dispositions. But to the eastward Japanese in considerable force appear to be concentrating on the line held by the Russian advance troops and gradually occupying the roads and passes.

France Must Explain. TORONTO, May 12, 10 a. m.—France's latest assurance of neutrality causes the situation somewhat, but does not remove the popular resentment against her. The press urges the government to maintain a strong attitude toward France and demand explanations, saying that it is necessary that France explain events between May 3 and May 9.

Will Not Fight. ST. PETERSBURG, May 12.—Baron Thomassen and Count Malmgren, according to the "Morning News," are to accompany the head of the Red Cross in the Baltic Sea, and the admiral declines to disclose the changes brought against the administration of the Red Cross funds.

Russians Beaten Back. TOKYO, May 11.—The following telegram from Army headquarters in Manchuria was officially published today: On the morning of May 9, the enemy, consisting of two regiments of infantry, five squadrons of cavalry and one battery of artillery made an attack in the vicinity of Yingehsing from the direction of Nanchangshu which is 15 miles east of Yingehsing.

A LITTLE WANDERER. Pretty Little Girl Strayed Into the Police Station This Morning.

A little wanderer was taken to police headquarters shortly before twelve o'clock this morning. The child, who is about five years of age, and did not seem in the least disturbed by strange surroundings, was found in a dark blue skin, brown felt coat, white lace collar and a white straw sailor hat. The little girl presented a pleasing picture, as she clutched a big red rubber in one hand and kitten calendar in the other.

ARBOR DAY. Schools Had One Session, No Special Exercises.

This is Arbor Day and it was observed as usual in the various schools. There was no tree planting but recitations, readings and special lessons on botanical subjects, relative to the spirit of the day, were the rule in the several buildings. The scholars were dismissed at one o'clock.

LIST OF DEAD STILL GROWS

Twenty Bodies Already Taken From Harrisburg Railway Wreck—Many Others Have Undoubtedly Perished as Well.

HARRISBURG, Pa., May 12.—The exact number of lives lost in South Harrisburg yesterday morning, caused by the crash of the second section of the Cleveland and Cincinnati express into a car of dynamite in a wrecked freight train, is not yet known. Eleven bodies have been identified and nine charred corpses await recognition at the temporary morgue. The railroad company has heard reports of missing people and received many telegrams enquiring about passengers on the ill-fated express.

Supr. McClellan, of the Philadelphia division of the Pennsylvania road, on which the disaster occurred, said today that it is impossible to tell what the number of fatalities will be. Telegrams from other cities have been received here to the effect that some of the injured passengers have arrived at those places. The latest victim of the disaster was Albert Crosby, of Philadelphia, conductor of the express, who died last night at the Harrisburg hospital. At the hospital still in a critical condition, are Max Stettin and Joseph Ehly of New York. The condition of Samuel Shubert, the New York theatrical manager, who is at his hotel with his family physician and a trained nurse, is still serious.

Orator Kruse today began an investigation into the cause of the wreck. He took the testimony of several of the injured, the railroad officials and a number of persons who arrived on the scene soon after the collision.

The Royal Sportsman. H.D. 1079. William was passionately devoted to the chase, and instituted the first game laws. The penalties were somewhat drastic; offenders had their eyes torn out. The King of course shot and where he wished.

DEATH OF MRS. R. W. SCOTT. Wife of the Secretary of State, Died at Ottawa This Morning.

OTTAWA, May 12.—(Special)—Mrs. R. W. Scott, wife of the secretary of state, died at five o'clock this morning. She had been ill for some time and her death was not unexpected, although deeply regretted. Mrs. Scott was the daughter of the late John Heron. She was one of several clever and accomplished sisters, known in professional life as the "Heron Sisters." She was placed on the executive and director of the national council of women by the Countess of Aberdeen. Mrs. Scott was placed on the executive and afterwards became the president of the local council. No lady was held in higher regard by all classes.

BURGLED BY TRAMPS. Broke into a House at Painsec—Will Go West—Found the Horse.

MONTREAL, N. B., May 12.—(Special)—The burglarized yesterday afternoon at Painsec. No one was at home at the time. Mr. McKeown was working in the I. C. R. shops here. The tramps who broke in, carried away what they could find of value. A lot of coins are among the articles stolen. The police, who have a description of the men, are in search of them, as they are reported to have been in the neighborhood of the shops here this morning.

THE DANGER OF CANOEING. NEW YORK, May 12.—By the west of night on the Harlem river yesterday evening, a bark canoe in which two men were paddling, was overturned and one of them was drowned. The other clung to the bottom of the overturned boat and was rescued from his predicament by an attendant at a boat house. The drowned man was Peter Hughes, and after half an hour's work his body was recovered. Leo W. Larney, Hughes' companion was taken to his home little the worse for his experience.

HAVE ENGAGED YORK THEATRE. Hundreds were unable to hear Dr. W. T. Grenfell's intensely interesting lecture on the fact that has prompted the local branch of the Red Cross Mission in this city to engage York Theatre for the doctor's talk here next week from Saturday. The lecture is an interesting one, and is being given at the request of the Red Cross Mission.

UNDERWENT OPERATION. Charles Fisher arrived on the Boston express today. Accompanying him was his nine-year-old daughter, who underwent an operation in a Boston hospital last week. The little one was suffering from a limb disease, and the operation was deemed necessary to save her life. Mr. Fisher thinks that the operation has proved successful. The little girl is entirely helpless, as her right leg is encased in a stent plaster. Mr. Fisher left with his daughter on the Atlantic express for his home in Steviak, N. S.

A WORD OF WARNING. Little boys who have a habit of concealing themselves in holes in the sidewalks and springing up suddenly with yells to frighten timid people as they pass are warned to be more careful. If they persist in going along as they have been doing the sidewalks will be repaired and the holes filled up, and they will then have to play hide and seek in the holes in the streets. Better be careful, boys.

A PAINFUL SURPRISE. There is no little consternation over the fact that when the mayor went to Montreal he took the name of the new ferry steamer with him. It may be necessary to send a delegation to bring it back. It was very thoughtless of the chief magistrate to act in such a manner, especially as the city will have to continue to pay an inspector until the name is tried and it is discovered whether the government-general or Deputy Mayor Laws will be asked to open the baseball season in St. John by pitching the first ball over the plate. Aid. McGoldrick has offered to catch if the deputy mayor will pitch. In fact there is talk of a civic team in the league.

THOSE TEENS AGAIN. Henry Harding Lewis's hens have been reported again by the police for interfering with the work of the corporation scrutineers. Mr. Lewis refuses to answer the summons to court, and an appeal has been made to the chamberlain. Presumably it is to learn whether the hens are taxpayers or have a license.

Under an Arctic explorer was said to have been seen on June 17, 1903, in an expedition to find the North Pole.
