ALL THE SEASON'S SPORTS

HORSE RACES AT NASHUA

Nashua, N. H., Nov. 1.—There was some excitement racing at the local track today, a number of the heats being well contested, while the warm weather drew a large crowd.
Two races which came over were settled, favorites winning each event.

The 2.09 pace was taken by Alstro, the selected horse, in straight heats. Great Medium, the favorite in the 2.19 trot, lost the first heat to Harry Johnson, but took the next two. The judges then took down Hodges from behind Johnson and substituted Bestley, Johnson then won the fourth heat after which the race was over. Summary:

2.17 Trotting: Purse $400 (concluded, 4 heats Tuesday.)

MIKE (TWIN) SULLIVAN AND JIMMY GARDNER

(By W. W. Naughton.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31.—The November pugilistic attraction here will be a 25-round contest between Jimmy Gardner and Mike (Twin) Sullivan. It is the first time since existing boxing regulations have been in force that the match-makers have signed men for a go of longer duration than 20 rounds and it looks as though the desire is to have the rival Massachusetts pugilists battle it out to the bitter end. Maybe it's the fact that Gardner and Sullivan fought a series of dead heats already, that is causing the promotor to scheme for a finish fight this trip.

Mike and Jimmy are to meet at catch-weights, a circumstance which is worthy of note when it is considered that each man has been contending for a bout with Battling Nelson. As there was no argument over the weight clause, it is fair to assume that the arrangement dis-either man with the ease and comfort of an old pair of shoes.

"I'll weigh about 130, and I guess that's the best notch," said the Twin in a burst of confidence. "As for Gardner, I expect he'll go about 142. If he'll tell the truth about it, that's the mark that suits him best."

It may be that Mike is taking liberality with Jimmy's fighting weight. These rival fighters like to make the other fight out to be the heavier, even if it only a few ounces. From what we know of Gardner here, though, we are satisfied that it would be positively inhuman to send him to the scratch unless he weighed 130 at the least.

There is a somewhat blatant sport around town now who wants to bet $300 even that Gardner will weight all of 122 pounds before he enters the ring with Sullivan, and the chances are that the wager will not be accepted. About the only thing approaching a moral in this is that when Battling Nelson says—"I will fight Gardner if he makes 133 at the for Gardner, and figured that Gardner might be harder to defeat if there was local money back of him."

Levy of the Hayes Valley Club also investigated against the side bet clause and now it is announced that the welter will battle for the purse money alone on the night of November 24.

FISHER MAIDENS

Brought From Scotland by Government With View to Making Fishing Industry
More Valuable.

(Ottawa, Citizen.)

A party of those interesting folk, the Scottish fisher maidens, is in the city at present. Under the charge of Mr. J. J.
Cowie they are en route to British Columbia to teach the fishermen how to treat and pickle herring so that they may be a more marketable commodity. There are four girls in the party and a Scotch cooker, and the summer has been spent on the Atlantic coast, mostly at Canso and Yarmouth, Nova Scotia. They are now on the way to Nanaimo. In British Columbia, while the waters teem with herring, they have never been used much except as bait for salmon. They are properly cleaned or kippered, herring make a very tasty food and it is for the teaching of improved methods of doing this that the services of the Scotch folk have been enlisted.
They have been brought out by the department of marine and fisheries. The girls come from Murrayshire, Scotland, where a very extensive fish canning industry is being carried forward.

LONDON'S DEBT

It Has More Than Doubled in Last Sixteen Years.

LONDON, Nov. 1.—Sir Edwin Cornwall, who was knighted the other day for his services as chairman of the London County Council, has rather startled Londoners by the recital of some of the stupendous figures in his budget speech. Within sixteen years the debt of the county council has increased from £17,563,262 ($87,816,210) to £44,620,208 ($223,101,330), and the amount expended on the local government of London is greater than that of Norway and Sweden combined, double that of Roumania and four times that of Denmark.

Sir Edwin's long speech was packed full of interesting facts and suggestive expressions of opinion. Here is a brief excerpt—Fifty or sixty years ago the death rate of London was about 24.8 per thousand; now it is 16.8. That means a saving of about 38,000 lives a year. But the apalling mortality of children is the saddest fact shown by statistics. One child in every seven born in London dies before reaching the age of twelve months. Two hundred and fifty million gallons of sewage are chemically treated every day. A new scheme of food relief is to cost over £4, 000,000 ($22,500,000). The council is now responsible for the work that used to be done by the London School Board; it costs £4 in 3d. ($20.35) a year to educate a child in London. "This is a higher sum than anywhere else," said Sir Edwin, "with the single exception of New York."

Space is nothing to spirit, the deed is outdone by the deed.

The heart of the worker is warm, but warm is the heart of the worker.

And from the pits where these shivers and up from the lights where those shivers Twin voices and shadows swim upward, and the essence of life is divine.

—Richard Swift.
