LETTER FROM MRS. SEARS

Editor Times:
Sir—Let me express my personal thanks and appreciation for the very generous patronage our citizens gave to the second performance of Caprice, and so very materially increased our funds to enable us to carry on more satisfactorily our work for the children's playground. St. John is always to the front when reasonable demands are made. I feel sure those who attended that splendid performance enjoyed a delightful evening and were surprised and proud of the ability of our home talent, which can favorably compare with any abroad. In closing let me especially thank Mr. Bird and the company and all who assisted for their kindness and generosity in giving their services in response to the appeal for so worthy an object. Though the first I only hope it will not be the last we shall see of this company in their new venture, their every success in their new venture.

Yours,
M. KATE H. SEARS.

A LITTLE HEART TO HEART TALK

In every dirty alley and on every street in the city children are playing, because they have no other playground.

Out beyond the Marsh Bridge are the Victoria grounds, a level stretch of greenward, surrounded by a high fence. There the children could play all day long, in pure air and on the green grass.

The Every Day Club tendered these grounds for a public playground during the summer holidays, the only exception being on occasion of a Saturday afternoon when there might be a ball game or athletic sports.

The only reason the grounds are not in use for the children is the fact that there is no money to pay a supervisor. The Every Day Club hoped to raise enough money by sports and entertainments to provide for this themselves, and its patronage and instead of a surplus they have a deficit on grounds account. This does not worry them, but it is not creditable to St. John that these grounds are not accepted and used as a playground. Much more money is spent every evening in the city on the grounds of the Every Day Club than would give a thousand children happy play all summer long.

Since the Every Day Club only have the grounds under lease they must take care of them, and hence could not throw the gates open without someone there to see that no damage is done.

Is it a fact that a city of fifty thousand people cannot give its children the boon of this playground at so small cost?
PRIVATE O'BRIEN'S TROUBLES
Private James H. O'Brien, who was left behind his regiment at Camp Sussex and trapped to St. John, brought up at the central police station where he told the story of his exploits.
O'Brien has been connected with the Royal Canadian Regiment at Fredericton, and has been heard to tell of his experiences with Col. Lynch, who led the Irish Brigade under Boer colors in the South African war. In 1903 Col. Lynch was sentenced to life imprisonment but, a few days ago, on the eve of his departure for Ireland, King Edward granted him a free pardon. O'Brien has been drifting about in the world and enlisted at Fredericton. He incurred the displeasure of his officers. In Camp Sussex he is said to have been drinking and was asleep when his regiment pulled out for Petawawa. He trapped to St. John and on Thursday night was a protectionist at the central police station. On the following morning he gave himself up to Lieut.-Col. White, D. O. C., and was again sent back to a cell. Lieut.-Col. White wired Col. Wadmore, Halifax, the headquarters of the regiment, and Col. Chinn, now at Petawawa, has been communicated with.

THE COBALT STRIKE

OTTAWA, July 13.—(Special)—A telegram from Cobalt received by the labor department from P. A. Ackland, secretary of the department, states that negotiations are now proceeding between the mine owners and the men in a few of the larger mines looking to a speedy adjustment of the strike. In the other mines, however, there is no prospect of any settlement and the miners are leaving the district in large numbers.

WHERE CAPRICE MONEY WENT

A. C. L. Tapley Makes a Statement in Connection With the Production.

As there has been some comment over the division of the receipts for the two performances of Caprice, Mr. A. C. L. Tapley, who managed the business end of both productions, sent the following communication to the St. John Globe this morning, in answer to a letter, signed Experience, which appeared in last evening's issue of that paper.

Answering letter signed "Experience," in St. John Globe of July 12th:

Having managed the "business end" of Caprice for both performances, I take pleasure in submitting the following:

The division of receipts, as arranged by Mr. Bird and Mr. A. D. Skinner, (on behalf of the School for Deaf) before Mr. Bird left for Halifax with the Kirk Brown Co., was as follows: The Opera House to receive 35 per cent of the gross receipts, and the balance to be divided equally between the school and Mr. Bird after expenses for advertising, stage props and rent of rehearsing hall were paid. For your information I publish the following:

Opera House share$136.60
Posters, cards, and handbills$7.50
Stage props, trees, etc.$8.80
Cost of rehearsing hall10.00
School's share108.78
T. H. Bird's share108.78
Total receipts$330.55

Performance of July 10th.$107.27
Handbills, etc.3.70
Stage props8.87
Playground's share$23.33
T. H. Bird's share$33.33
Total receipts$336.50

This shows Mr. Bird received $292.11 for four weeks' work. And, as you sign yourself Experience, you probably know that it is not an uncommon salary for a Good of rehearsing hall. Warming, 10.00. Furthermore, Mr. Bird supplied the majority of the property, including wigs, make-up, and was under heavy expense while here, also he had to pay for transportation from Halifax to here, and then to New York, where he goes to join the company. Transportation would have been paid by the company had he returned with them.

The young ladies and gentlemen who so kindly lent their time and talent, are unanimous in saying that they were amply repaid their trouble by the excellent instruction they received from Mr. Bird, as he devoted his whole time giving private lessons to them, and I will leave it to your judgment as to whether they benefited by this instruction.

Trusting that this information will be acceptable to you, and (shall I say disinterested) correspondent.

Yours truly,
A. C. L. TAPLEY.

MR. WARING'S BOOK

To The Editor of The Evening Times:—

Sir—From today's Telegraph I have read of the action taken by the Baptist Association against Rev. Mr. Waring's book, and later in the day I read what The Evening Times called attention to, viz., that Rev. Dr. Palmer and other noted scholars praise Mr. Waring's book. Also, in the same issue, I read your editorial on the book. I am convinced that you know all the facts you would have written differently. It is true that leading men have written in praise of the book. It is beautifully written, contains a great deal that is interesting and instructive, and gives evidence of much research and learning. Indeed, in many respects, it is a very attractive book. For these reasons leading men have referred to it in terms of praise; but they knew, at the same time, that it contains things that are contrary to Bible teaching, say nothing of Baptist doctrines, but they found it to be a delicate matter to call attention to "these serious faults, that make the book objectionable. Even the Maritime Baptist, as well as some of the ministers, through that organ, referred to it without expressing themselves decidedly.

I have carefully read the book, and from it learn that its author attaches no proprietary importance to the blood of Christ, and that he widely departs from the New Testament in his views of the Sonship of Christ.

I hope that some leading men of the denomination will take up some of the most vital topics discussed in the book, and through the press, give them the consideration they demand.

Thanking you for the space granted for this communication, I acknowledge myself to be

ONE INTERESTED.

St. John, July 12, 07.
[One of the 4 distinguished men quoted yesterday by the Times, Rev. Dr. Strong, president of Rochester Theological Seminary, and an eminent Baptist, wrote to Rev. Mr. Waring:—"I have read your book with great pleasure. Your plan commends itself to me. It furnishes to the average church member, a comprehensive treatment of Christian history and doctrine. The reading of your book by our laymen will be an educating and improving process." It seems incredible that men of such high reputation, holding such responsible positions, would either lightly consider or carelessly recommend a book if it contained dangerous teaching, calculated to destroy the faith of the people.—Ed. Times.]

ST. JOHN BOYS WILL NOT GO TO THE Y.M.C.A. CAMP

From a Y. M. C. A. official it has been learned that none of the boys connected with the local branch have, up to the present, signified their intention of being present at this year's maritime camp, to be held at Big Cove, Sutherland River, N. S. At the meeting of the maritime committee it was strongly urged that a separate camp be held by the local branch this season, as in past years, but the idea met with disfavor, and the St. John boys felt that the trip to Nova Scotia would be too expensive for the large majority of them, and they have thus been practically shut out for this season.
