FIRST EDITION. EXPELLED FROM CHURCH.

DECISION AGAINST MRS. LIZZIE F. DODGE OF LYNN.

The Lady Who Publicly Throated Dr. Andrews Prostrated by a Church Committee—Unity of Unrestrainedness, Profanity and Conduct Tabooed by a Christian—Her Defense.

For alleged profanity, unrestrainedness and conduct unbecoming a Christian, Mrs. Lizzie F. Dodge, whose work in philanthropic spheres is known throughout the state, has been expelled from the Washington Street Baptist Church, Lynn.

This action was taken last evening at a special meeting of the church society, and is the outcome of the annual session held last August, when Mrs. Dodge, "aggravated beyond human endurance," as she said, publicly thrashed Dr. J. B. Andrews, a local physician, for alleged slander.

A prayer meeting was held last evening in the church vestry, nearly every pew in which was filled. The services, however, all those not regular members of the society were requested to withdraw. This applied to many, and they quietly made their way out, regretting that their curiosity had not been satisfied.

Rev. R. A. Greene, pastor of the church, presided at the meeting. When the committee appointed to investigate Mrs. Dodge's conduct submitted its report, the members were hushed in silence. The sudden appearance of Mrs. Dodge at the main entrance of the vestry made the scene more dramatic. Holding her head aloft, she proceeded calmly down the aisle, taking a seat in one of the front pews.

The reports in substance declared that the enumerated charges had been proved; that the committee had given the matter an exhaustive hearing, and that the accused a fair hearing; that, in the best judgment of the committee, the evidence appeared to sustain the allegations, and recommended that in the interests of the church Mrs. Dodge be expelled.

Scarcely had the report been submitted when "I move it be accepted" was uttered by a member in the front row. Action was delayed by Mrs. Dodge, who, addressing the pastor, queried: "Certainly, I would be permitted to make a statement which met with the response: 'Certainly, you desire to make,' and forthwith Mrs. Dodge addressed the meeting in the following words:

"Dear Brothers and Sisters of the Church: I was duly informed by your clerk that the charges against me were truthfully and conduct unbecoming a Christian had been investigated, and that the judgment of your committee, the evidence sustains the charges.

"These are broad charges and mean a great deal. To convict one on such charges should be well sustained. In any court of justice it is always taken in consideration whether the charges intentionally committed the offense. To the first two charges of intentional unrestrainedness or profanity I shall plead not guilty, and I ask to be brought face to face with my accusers.

"I learn that there is no visible evidence to sustain the charges of unrestrainedness, save that the committee felt that my statements to them concerning matters that occurred years ago, before I came among you, constituted an offense not sufficient to cover the ground of intentional unrestrainedness.

"Profanity is defined as irreverence to sacred things. There is no evidence that at any time I have been guilty of profanity. The language that I have used in times of intense excitement does not come under that head. I am not in the habit of using this language, and perhaps in my whole experience, and not made use of it 25 times, and am trying to overcome it.

"The charge of conduct unbecoming a Christian I am guilty of. I have no plea to make, only that it was not premeditated, and was an aggravated assault, and I believe your committee understands it.

"This is my position covering the matter before you. Inasmuch as I have no knowledge who my accusers are, although I have repeatedly requested to meet them face to face as your committee has brought no charges, save what they have gathered from their conversation with me, and those are not intentional offenses on my part, I do feel that I cannot conscientiously plead guilty.

"I have no appeal to make other than this in defense. That you be just and carry out the example so plainly set by the One who dealt with the sinners and the blessed teachings of the golden rule.

"Whatever action you may take in this matter, whether premeditated or otherwise—whether I am expelled or remain with you, I shall remember all your kindness to me in the past, and believe me that I shall try to correct my faults and be known as a consistent Christian in the future."

Finishing her remarks, Mrs. Dodge requested to leave the church, when Rev. Mr. Greene asked if she would not remain in which she replied negatively, and walked out.

To a Herald reporter, by whom she was accosted as she left the church, Mrs. Dodge remarked: "Well, I have, I know I shall be expelled, but I have had my little say."

"Why to think of it," she continued, "that they should know the first news with their family skeletons hid in corners, but whose bones I can rattle, and they know it. Well, restitution is sure, and I will abide by the result. I have been persecuted beyond endurance by those professed Christians, but I don't care so long as the public sustains me in my work. If I had been a man, I would have been a school teacher and talked, instead of practicing Christianity, I would have been all right."

"Why they had the committee choose to ask me to plead guilty, and show a true Christian spirit of forgiveness."

"I am in my work in saving erring girls because I love it, and I would die for it. I have 17 girls under my care, who will shortly become mothers, whom I have been forced to neglect during the past week because of the strain upon me in my work with the erring without kid gloves, and it doesn't matter what the gossips of the church think of me, so long as the community endorses my work."

SECOND EDITION. IRISH AMERICANS MEET.

AWARNING TO THEIR COUNTRYMEN IN IRELAND.

They Must Cease Their War of Factions and Unite in a Moderate Policy.

By TELEGRAPH TO THE GAZETTE.

New York, Nov. 27.—At a conference last night of representatives of Irish Americans from various states in the United States, resolutions were adopted warning the people of Ireland that they can receive no real support from this country until they call a halt in their factions and unite in a moderate policy.

The resolutions were adopted by a vote of 100 to 10, and were as follows: That the Irish citizens of the United States can be restored only by a union based upon a clearly defined, moderate and reasonable expression of Ireland's demand for Home Rule and a policy of independence of all English parties.

That the Irish citizens of the United States should be restored only by a union based upon a clearly defined, moderate and reasonable expression of Ireland's demand for Home Rule and a policy of independence of all English parties.
