PORTLAND ROLLING MILLS.

Mayor D. D. Mackenzie and Councillors J. D. Peppett and William Hackett, of North Sydney, composing the delegation appointed to visit the Portland Rolling Mills, came to the city by the early train this morning and are registered at the Dufferin.

This forenoon, accompanied by several of the directors, the delegation visited the rolling mills and saw for themselves the extent of the plant. They also visited the Maritime Mill Works.

At two o'clock this afternoon the members of the delegation will be entertained by a gala up river as far as Brown's Flats on the tug Lillie. This morning on behalf of the directors of the rolling mills James Manchester extended to Mayor White and the common council an invitation to participate in the sail.

REV. A. D. KEMPTON'S LECTURE.

Next Monday, Sept. 8th, at 8 p. m. a lecture on "Story of Evangelism," with colored illustrations, will be delivered at York Theatre, by Rev. A. D. Kempton, under the auspices of the New Brunswick Tourist Association. To make the lecture still more interesting to our own people, some colored slides of New Brunswick will be introduced. Mr. Kempton is at present touring New Brunswick with camera to gather materials for a lecture wholly on New Brunswick, which will be delivered this fall and winter through New England. Tickets are complimentary and may be obtained from members of the Association at the Tourist Information Bureau, at the hotels and at Miss Gray's and T. H. Hall's book stores.

A LECTURE ON DOWIEISM.

Rev. W. C. Kierstead, M. A., of Chicago, will lecture this evening at eight o'clock in the Waterloo Street Free Baptist church on "Dowieism, or Divine Healing in its relation to Christianity." Rev. Mr. Kierstead lives near Zion City, and has closely observed the methods of the famous Dowie, who went to Chicago ten years ago a poor man and is now worth millions and has churches scattered over the world. He made $10,000,000 in the "Zion City" deal and is in all ways a remarkable man.

LOTS OF PEOPLE.

Hundreds upon hundreds of strangers poured into the city by the various trains and boats today and others are still coming. Not only were the regular trains much heavier than usual, but extras have been run. A special left Waterville and Bangor this morning with about five hundred people and is due here at half past three o'clock today. Another eight car special with four hundred passengers from Andover and points as far south as Hartland, arrived in the city about twelve o'clock today. Tomorrow morning an extra will be run from Woodstock to St. John, arriving here about noon.

AT THE BIJOU.

The Boston Vaudeville Co. has made a big hit at the Bijou Theatre. Three shows are given daily and they are always crowded. The performers, male and female, are stars in their respective lines, and never fail to hold the crowd. The clever bag-punching of Johnny Taylor, the St. John boy, is a great card. Band concerts are given free three times daily. The whole show concludes with a very funny sketch.

ALDERMAN AT LARGE.

The election for alderman at large will take place one week from today. On Saturday the nomination papers for Isaiah W. Holder were filed with the common clerk. They are signed by Moses Cowan, David Coy and others. The time for receiving nominations expires at four o'clock this afternoon and it is not at all probable that any others will be received excepting that of W. C. Rudman Allan, who was the first to announce himself as a candidate.

SANITARY INSPECTION.

THE MURDER CASE

Postponed at Mr. Mullin's Request For Two Weeks.

True Bill Found Against Higgins For Murder and Goodspeed as Accessory.

St. John circuit court opened this morning at eleven o'clock. Mr. Justice Landry presiding. As already announced there were only two criminal cases on the docket, those of Frank Higgins, charged with murder, and of Fred W. Goodspeed, charged with being an accessory after the fact.

The grand jury returned a true bill in both instances. The interest in the murder case attracted a large crowd even to these preliminary proceedings, but few of them remained through the opening session. Judge Landry took the chair promptly on time, when the court was called to order and the roll of the grand jury called. The jurors were sworn as follows:

Grand jurors, W. Frank Hatheway (foreman), John McGoldrick, Clement P. Clarke, Arthur W. Adams, Wm. Peters, Jr., Douglas McArthur, Wm. Bruckhoff, Jas. R. Ferguson, Fred. A. Young, William Tait, Louis Green, Isaiah W. Holder, Chas. K. Cameron, Michael McDade, J. Fred. Sullivan, Wm. J. Dalton, Peter C. Redmond, J. F. Vanwart, James U. Thomas, Horace C. Brown, J. W. Montgomery, Robert P. Patterson.

In his address to the jury Judge Landry congratulated the constituency in the large representation when there was such serious business on hand. Regarding the prisoners to come before them there may be no need at the time for any discussion by him. There would be presented for their consideration a bill of indictment against Frank Higgins, accusing him of murdering a young man named Doherty on August 1. He briefly recounted the circumstances as revealed in evidence already produced and thought there was enough evidence pointing in a true bill.

The next bill was an indictment against Fred W. Goodspeed on two counts. First he was charged directly with murder, the same as Higgins. For the jury to find a true bill against him on this count they must decide that there was enough evidence pointing in this direction to warrant a searching investigation. The other count charged him with being an accessory after the fact. On this count he did not see how they could escape finding a true bill. The witnesses who testified at the preliminary examinations were then sworn, among them being young Goodspeed, whose chubby countenance shone as rosy as the night he first made his terrible revelation before the coroner's inquest.

The jury went out at 11.40. About twenty witnesses were sworn and went out with them, but the jury only took the evidence of one—Fred, Goodspeed—upon whose testimony they made their decision. They returned at 12.50, after deliberating for an hour and 10 minutes, and announced through their foreman that they had found a true bill against Frank Higgins for murder and against Fred, Goodspeed as an accessory after the fact.

D. Mullin, Q. C., counsel for Higgins, then made application for postponement for at least a month, when he could obtain some expert medical evidence necessary for the defence, and when public feeling now running high against the prisoner would have calmed down. Judge Landry refused the application, but later, on consent of counsel for the crown, said he would permit of a postponement of two or three weeks, and would announce the date at the afternoon session.

The civil docket, which will now be taken up, is as follows.

CHOIR SINGS BUT ONE DAY.

An erroneous impression seems to have gained ground to the effect that the Abbey Choir sings every day of exhibition. Instead of this the great organization will be heard Friday only, at 4 p. m. and 9 p. m. Intending patrons should procure tickets at once, as the capacity of Amusement Hall is not sufficient to accommodate the thousands anxious to hear the choir which sang at the coronation of King Edward. Tickets are on sale at Gray's bookstore, King street, and in the main building near entrance.

THE PEACEMAKERS.

Officer Covey was called into Robert Duffey's house on Long wharf last evening to officiate in the restoration of brotherly love between Robert and his brother.

NEW BRANCH BANK.

A branch office of the Bank of New Brunswick will be opened in the exhibition building this evening. It will be in charge of E. P. Stavert.

POLICE COURT.

Some Who Saw Too Many Parades—Minnie Burns Once More.

Ten results of the Labor Day celebration sat kicking their heels on the bench this morning. Some were in the uniform of the labor societies, some were not; some had seen the parade yesterday, some did not, and some saw two or three parades all at once. But they didn't mind. They would have been happy enough only for their heads. These heads were awful, and the dark brown tassels the men carried in their mouths would have been helped by a barrel of icewater. The fines all ran at four dollars or ten days, and the majority of the prisoners were disposed of for this amount. The entries on the arrest book were Burt Ridder, Thomas Sullivan, Thomas McNulty, Edgar Stackhouse, Arthur Belyea, John Stack, Thomas Cullen, Frank Nairn, Phil. Bushan and Cornelius O'Brien. Of these Stackhouse put up a defence and was told to sit down for the present. Frank Nairn was arrested by Officer Boyle last night for assaulting Minnie Burns and Phil Bushan, and for resisting arrest. Nairn pleaded guilty to all the charges. Officer Boyle states that last night he heard screaming in the Burns' house on Duke street, and upon going in found Minnie covered from head to foot with blood and Nairn after her with an axe. About an hour previous to this Officer Boyle had arrested Phil Bushan, whom he found lying on Duke street. This morning Phil said that he had been drinking, but was lying in an unconscious condition from the effects of a blow given him by Nairn. The latter was remanded for sentence and Phil was let go.

Two prisoners arrested on Saturday night left deposits of eight and four dollars, which were this morning forfeited.

James Thompson, who was arrested a few nights ago for disorderly conduct on board the Selinda on Hillyard's blocks, was this morning discharged.

The case preferred against John McDonald by Market Clerk Dunham for occupying a stall in the market which had not been assigned to him and for using abusive language came up this morning. On the second charge McDonald was fined eight dollars, and the hearing of the other was postponed until Friday.

ROCKWOOD PROTESTS.

To the Editor of the Star:

Sir,—At a recent public meeting one of the speakers said, "Rockwood Park is a curse to St. John."

I protest. Am I a "curse," "Beautiful Rockwood," as the people call me—with my sculptured rocks which were upheaved by God's almighty hand. "A curse" where on every hand a beautiful panorama of sea and sky, hill and dale charm the eye, and my placid lake with rippling water, my leafy dells with moss and fern.

Our garden, where a former desolate waste has been made to "blossom as the rose." Surely no one can visit this lovely spot without being the better for it. One has said of the lovely fountains:

Ye bright mosaics that with storied beauty,

The floor of nature's temple tessellate,
What numerous emblems of instructive duty

Your forms create.

Surely here God's blessing rests and not a curse. "The groves were God's first temples," and in these groves many a sad heart has been comforted while listening to the voices of the mighty trees, and through their interlacing branches catch glimpses of the blue sky and fleecy clouds which we, in our thoughts, associate with Heaven. Many a one has been uplifted by the subtle teachings of nature. Some one has written:

"Were I to churchless solitudes remaining,

Far from the voice of teachers and divines,
My soul would find in flowers of God's ordaining

Priests, sermons, shrines."

True, I would wish to have one day free from the tramping of feet and the noise of many voices; but I am not responsible for those who spend Sunday in this way, or on soft couch or easy chair spend part of the Holy day in sleep. Nor am I responsible for the fowl deeds that took place without my bounds. Evil deeds do not need a park for their perpetration. Crimes have been committed in churches and various other places and shall we say that they are a "curse?"

Instead of blaming the park, you humans should look into your own lives. "Man's inhumanity to man" is oft times the cause of crime. You men and women so careless of the souls and bodies of your neighbors until some such deed as this rouses you from your apathy, it would be well for all to read and ponder well the first ten verses of an epistle called James, in a book, which you humans call a "Bible," and upon whose precepts rule your actions and those of others.

I have spoken,

ANOTHER LITTLE "TIFF"

Between the Police Magistrate and Chief of Police.

Another of those unpleasant incidents which afford no little amusement for the public and which tend to keep alive the bitter feeling between Magistrate Ritchie and Chief Clark, occurred in the police court this morning.

For a long time it has been the custom of the magistrate to hold court, not at any definite hour, but at his own convenience. On some days prisoners are brought up at half-past nine, while on other days they sit on the bench waiting for the magistrate until nearly eleven o'clock.

Every morning Chief Clark takes the police books and from them makes out the sheets for the magistrate's use. The principal one, known as "the sheet," bears the names of the prisoners, while the others contain reports of minor offences. These sheets are always sent up to the court room before ten o'clock.

This morning Chief Clark in accordance with his usual custom went upstairs to pay to the clerk of the court the various amounts left by released prisoners as deposits. While he was standing at the desk the magistrate remarked:

"I wanted the sheet this morning at half-past nine."

"I did not have it ready at half-past nine. There were three days' reports to make out."

"You should have had it ready when I sent for it. There are only a dozen names on the list and it surely did not take all morning to write them."

"The sheet was ready for you before ten o'clock. I have been here twelve years and was never yet late with it."

"That's the very answer I expected. Never late with it. The sheet should be ready when I send for it. I should like to know who is running this place."

"The sheet was ready before ten o'clock—the hour at which court should be held."

"In running this court and the sheet will be ready when I want it. Get out of this, you have no business up here. Go down stairs; you are not wanted here at all."

Chief Clark did not go down stairs. He had some business in the court room which he quietly attended to before leaving.

THE TIME EXTENDED.

The guessing contest at Lemont's candy kitchen on Union street still continues. The interest being quite lively the last few days, owing to the large number of visitors to the city, the time for the closing has been extended to Thursday evening. A Morris chair is offered as first prize to the person who guesses the nearest to the total attendance at the fair. Any visitor can guess, as the prize will be shipped to any address all charges prepaid. A five cent purchase entitles you to a chance.

DAY-HARE.

A Very Pretty Wedding in Trinity Church This Morning.

A very pretty wedding took place in Trinity church this afternoon when Miss Mary MacGeorge Hare, daughter of the late George Hare was united in marriage to Dr. John Lee Day.

The ceremony was performed at half-past three o'clock by the Rev. Canon Richardson in the presence of a very large number of friends of the contracting parties.

The marriage was a quiet one, only a few invited guests being present, but the church was well filled with the many friends of the bride and groom.

The ushers were James McAvity and H. Mack Stanbury.

Miss Hare wore white crepe de chine over white taffeta, with veil, and carried a bride's bouquet of roses. She was given away by her brother, C. T. Har- of Montreal.

The bridesmaid, Miss C. Margaret Hare, who wore grey nun's veil with black hat and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Ralph E. Humphrey supported the groom.

Trinity choir was present and during the ceremony sang the Voice that Breathed O'er Eden.

After the ceremony the party drove to the bride's home, No. 112 Pitt street, where luncheon was served. Mr. and Mrs. Day leave by this afternoon's express on a visit to Boston and other American cities. Upon their return they will reside at 14 Germain street.

The bride was the recipient of many beautiful gifts, a number being from friends in Boston where the bride has been for some time engaged in nursing, and from others in Upper Canadian cities.

POISON IN PARSNIP.

It is a curious fact that the common edible parsnip—Pastinaca sativa—when allowed to run wild becomes a skin poison, acting upon the cuticle somewhat after the manner of Rhus toxicodendron. Another peculiar fact is that it is especially poisonous when the dew is upon it, though when dry it is said to be perfectly safe. It produces in the former condition quite a smart rash.

Some years ago in a poisoning case which proved fatal the doctor in attendance kept the parsnips, regarding the identity of which there could be no doubt, as they contained the tooth marks of those who had eaten them. He subsequently planted them, and they grew to be the real garden parsnip. Just why these transformations from poisonous to non-poisonous should take place has not as yet been made out.

THE TRULY REMARKABLE

Do you think there is anything remarkable in love at first sight?
